Playground Commission Makes Radical Changes And Adopts New Rules

Summer Playgrounds Season Cut to Seven Weeks—$7000 Is Diverted to Community Centres

At a special meeting of the Newton Playground Commission held on June 23rd the following rules and regulations were adopted:

Present: Mrs. Louis H. Marshall and Mr. L. A. Bruce, Jr.

The Sub-Committee interprets its task and responsibilities as follows:

To make a thorough study of the present program, in all its phases, carried on by the Playground Department; of all personnel and their responsibilities, activities and rate of pay; of the recreation needs of the citizens of Newton and of the facilities available to meet those needs.

All this to the end that there shall be a complete and well-rounded recreation program in Newton to meet the leisure-time needs of all ages.

The Sub-Committee shall gather facts and information from all possible sources available and shall be free to call upon the staff of the Playground Department, through the Superintendent to provide figures and information listed in this report.

It shall also have the right to confer with any organization or individual, recognized as experts in the field of recreation by reason of the nature of the organization and of the position and experience of the individuals consulted, providing there shall be no cost to the City of Newton or to the Playground Commission for such assistance.

The sub-committee will call upon the Playground Department for the following information:

Cost of Playground supervision, by areas, in 1937;

Cost of skating supervision, by areas, in 1937;

Cost of Community Center supervision, by centers, in 1937.

"Supervision" shall be interpreted to mean all costs for personnel in whatever capacity they served in 1937.

Distribution of time and costs, and totals of both in all cases of:

Mr. Hermann.

Mr. Hoovegaard.

Mr. Lane.

Mr. Hughes.

In addition to salary and wage figures, the sub-committee will also request actual 1937 mileage for Departmental purposes in case of the above persons, including the total costs for automobile mileage or rent or maintenance.

The sub-committee will also request full information from the Department for the following:

Total number of different individuals served at all Playground areas, skating and bathing areas, community centers in 1937, with sex and age in each case;

Total attendance at all such areas and centers in 1937;

Attendance at activities at all such places, such as classes, clubs, swimming classes, with sex and age in each case.

The sub-committee, like the other members of the Playground Commission and the Superintendent, is moved solely by the sense of its heavy responsibilities for carrying on a complete and well-balanced recreation program in Newton which shall meet the needs of all and which assures our citizens that every dollar expended gets a dollar's worth.

The sub-committee does not question the value of what is being done, or the need of it, from its present knowledge. It is only aware of the fact that the Playground Commission must keep constantly abreast of the times and keep itself so fully informed that there is never a question in the mind of any of its members about the completeness, within its budgetary allowance, and effectiveness of the program and conduct of the Department.

The Playground Commission also adopted the report of the sub-committee which was appointed on April 12 to make a study of the Playground Department, its activities, its personnel and their responsibilities, rates of pay; and of the recreation needs of citizens of Newton and facilities available to meet those needs. The sub-committee was composed of Lyseon A. Bruce, Jr. and Mrs. Therese Marshall. The report of this committee was approved by the Commission on June 6th, and was made as progressive. The report read as follows:

Officers—Chairman: Appointed by the Mayor with the approval of the Board of Aldermen. Secretary: Appointed by the Playground Commission for a term of one year. The Secretary may be either the Superintendent or a member of the Commission. Superintendent: Appointed by the Playground Commission and shall hold office until he resigns or is removed by a majority vote of the Playground Commission. Assistant Superintendent: Subject to the laws, the Rules and Regulations relative to the Civil Service this office may be created by the Playground Commission and filled by vote of the Commission.

Duties of the Officers—Chairman: Shall preside at all meetings of the Playground Commission. In his absence the members of the Commission present at such a meeting shall elect a Chairman pro tempore, who shall have the powers, duties and responsibilities of the Chairman. Secretary: Shall keep minutes and records of all meetings, issues notices for meetings and do all other things rightly pertaining to the duties of the office. Superintendent: Shall be the Executive officer of the Playground Commission; shall submit to the Commission, prior to their employment, a complete list of those persons whom he desires to employ in the work of the Department, together with the age, sex, education, training, duties and rates of pay, as well as the periods of proposed employment, for approval by the Commission. Subject to the Laws, Rules and Regulations relative to the Civil Service; he shall submit a monthly report of all activities of the Department, together with the staff employed and members of different persons in attendance at all such activities; he shall submit a monthly report to the Commission of the budget standing of the Department, showing major budget items, amount allocated to each item, amount expended by items during the month preceding the Commission meeting at which the report is submitted, total expended for the year during that period by items, and the balance available for the remainder of the year in each item; he shall submit the budget for the ensuing year to the Commission in the December of the Current year.

Employees—Subject to the Laws, Rules and Regulations relative to the Civil Service and changes in positions transfers, dismissals, creation of Dorothy Yarbrough of Yanceyville, North Carolina, was appointed to teach Grade 5 at the Ward School. She graduated from Yanceyville high school in 1931 and University of North Carolina in 1935. She received a degree from B. U. this year. She taught at Ellerbe, North Carolina for 2 years.

Alice McGilivray was transferred from the Mason School to the Underwood School as special assistant. Phyllis Fall was transferred from the Angier and Emerson Schools to the Rice School. Katherine Walker, teacher of home economics at the Weeks school was given a year's leave of absence. The resignations of Ruth Swanson, teacher at the Underwood School and James H. Romley, teacher of music at the high school, were accepted.

Falls About a Foot And Breaks Leg

Joseph P. Jewett, popular Newton automobile repair man, received a fracture of his left leg about 11:30 Thursday morning when he fell about a foot off the incline leading from his garage to the yard. Mr. Jewett received first aid from Dr. Deborah Fawcett and was taken to the Newton Hospital in the ambulance.

Annual Meeting of Safety Council

The annual meeting of the Newton Safety Council was held on Wednesday night at police headquarters, West Newton. There was a small attendance, about 25 being present. General Daniel Needham presided and reports were made by chairman of various committees. Aldermen Max Gaddis asked those present to aid in making July 4th safer and saner. Alfred N. Miner reporting for the Traffic Engineering Committee called attention to a metal sign which reads—"Entering Newton—Drive Safely." Twelve of these signs have been provided by Street Commissioner Mahoney and placed on streets entering the city from surrounding cities and towns.

Richard Dunn, chairman of the Police Enforcement Committee reported that the recommendations of the committee regarding a traffic bureau for the police department had not been put into effect because of a difference between the Mayor and the Chief of Police. He stated that his committee had not made any suggestions as to who should head the traffic bureau. Alfred Miner for the Traffic Engineering Committee submitted another report on a plan to obtain information concerning violations of traffic rules by automobile drivers using Newton streets. He said the committee intends to use the information only as engineering data and does not intend to pass the reports on to the police or Registrar of Motor Vehicles. A list of the violations to be noted and a pad of report blanks are to be sent to directors of the council, and the completed report blanks are to be sent weekly to the Secretary of the Safety Council.

Charles S. Warren reporting on nominations for officers for the ensuing year presented the following list which was adopted: Honorary President, Edwin O. Childs; President, Daniel Needham; Vice President, Richard J. Dunn; Police Enforcement, Alfred N. Miner; Traffic Engineering, Raymond Green; Education, Alfred Van Allen; Fire Prevention, Secretary and Treasurer, Rupert C. Thompson; Executive Committee, Edwin O. Childs, Richard J. Dunn, Raymond Green, Michael T. Hughes, Charles A. Mahoney, Alfred N. Miner, Daniel Needham, Mrs. J. Earle Parker, Mrs. James H. Orr, Mrs. Edgar P. Hay, Arthur E. Pecker, Clarence W. Randlett, Rupert C. Thompson, Alfred Van Allen, Mrs. Ernest F. Drew, Charles S. Warren.

Raymond Green, assistant principal of Newton High School and chairman of the Child Education Committee of the Safety Council, told of an experimental course in automobile driving which had been introduced some months ago at the high school. Twenty-four pupils received instructions and obtained licenses. At the last meeting of the Newton School Committee Supt. of Schools Warren, Principal Elicker and Mr. Green advocated the regular establishment of such a course at the high school. Mr. Green stated at the meeting of the Safety Council that he had at first been opposed to the course because of the expense which might result, but after observing the good results which came from it, he had become convinced that it should be established in the high school. He said that it is estimated that it will cost $3000 to teach about 300 pupils of the senior class. This would include the salary of an instructor and other expenses. President Needham of the Council suggested to those present that they get in touch with members of the School Committee to favor the adoption of the automobile driving course at the high school. Edward H. Powers opposed the introduction of the course. He said that although it is estimated that the course will cost only $3000 to the city, experience has taught that such new activities in public schools eventually cost many times more than originally estimated. He called attention to the recent controversy over the alleged high cost of Newton schools, and said that with economic conditions in the state as they now are, and with a large percentage of citizens struggling to make both ends meet financially, it is no time to extend the curricula of the high school by introducing

Suggested Newton W.P.A. Projects

The following WPA projects for Newton have been suggested by Harold F. Young, sponsor's agent for Newton, in conference with Mayor Childs, but there is no guarantee at the present time that any of these projects will be accomplished:

Cranberry Brook, from Waltham line eastward, general improvements; Hammond Brook, improvements between Pleasant and Walnut sts.; new gravel sidewalks throughout the city; precast curbing, to be laid around all city-owned properties; granolithic walks, around all city properties; granolithic walks on main thoroughfares; improvements on Webster Playground; improvements on new playground, Albemarle rd. between Watertown st. and Crafts st.; Tyler ter., wall construction behind tennis courts; construction of Rumford ave.; continuation of thoroughfare from Dedham to Parker sts.; new street from Beacon st. to Cold Spring Playground; laying out of Blake st.; erection of a Comfort Station, Nonantum sq.; new buildings at Bulloughs Pond, Allison Playground, Boyd Playground, Cold Spring Playground; improvements of brook from Levi Warren School to Commonwealth ave.; brook improvements through cemetery property, from Commonwealth ave. southwesterly; drainage improvement in area near new Franklin School; drainage improvement on Washington st. near Woodland Station; relaying of sewer from Nonantum Place to the Charles River; reconstruction of Crafts st. from Washington st. to Waltham st.; Waltham st. from Crafts st. to the Waltham line—Walnut st. from Homer st. to Lincoln st.—Woodward st. from Lincoln st. to Chestnut st.

Mayor Childs Says No Fued With Chief

Referring to a statement made at the meeting of the Newton Safety Council this week that the recommendations of the Police Enforcement Committee of the Council relative to the establishment of a Traffic Bureau in the Newton Police Department had not been carried out because "there is a feud between Mayor Childs and Chief of Police Hughes" the Mayor, on Thursday, took exception to the assertion. The Mayor states that "there is no feud between myself and Chief Hughes." He states that he takes the responsibility for the delay in the establishment of the Traffic Bureau, not because he opposes it, but for good and sufficient reasons it has been expedient to delay the starting of the Bureau. The Mayor added that he expects the Bureau to begin operation in the near future.

Veteran Postal Employee Retires

Domenick Richards of 285 Bellevue st., Newton, was retired on June 30th after 44 years of service in the United States Postoffice Department. He was born in Roxbury and was for many years a letter carrier at Station A, Boston. He then worked as a letter carrier in the Newton P. O. for several years and was later appointed a roundsman. For the past nine years he has been superintendent at the Newtonville P. O. He will spend the summer with his family at Buzzards Bay.

LIFE-SAVING AND SWIMMING LESSONS

Classes in life saving and swimming begin at Crystal Lake under the auspices of the Red Cross. No person, regardless of age, should participate in water sports unless adequately prepared to meet any emergency. A part of such preparation is the knowledge of swimming. Every child should be taught to swim and having mastered the art should be trained in the art of life-saving. While it is probably true that not every person who has passed life-saving tests will have the opportunity to employ this knowledge it is impossible to tell when an emergency will take place in which such knowledge will be found invaluable. If you or your children cannot swim, take advantage of the opportunity to be presented at Crystal Lake and be prepared to take care of yourself and others while indulging in water sports.

ANOTHER HOLIDAY WEEK-END

Another holiday week-end is at hand. A week-end which concludes with an annual 4th of July observance of the signing of the Declaration of Independence. For many years there have been efforts made to increase the safety and sanity of the holiday from the standpoint of careful handling of fireworks and other forms of demonstrations of patriotism. And for many years there has been an ever-growing effort made for the exercise of greater caution upon our highways, in lakes and ponds, and in other activities in an attempt to reduce the dreadful toll of accidents and fatalities. Let's have a safe and sane observance of the fourth—take care and possibly save a life.

Trying To Reduce July 4th Massacre

Twenty-seven national organizations with a total membership of 46,000,000 have joined with the National Safety Council in its country-wide campaign to reduce the annual Fourth of July massacre. Each of these organizations not only has pledged its collective support, but has asked its members to enlist individually in the drive which has as its keynote: "Let's Be Alive on the Fifth!" The campaign is designed to reduce the annual toll of lives lost in drowning and in traffic and fireworks accidents over the Independence Day celebration and during the month of July, which annually tops all other months in accidental deaths. Last July 10,200 persons were killed in accidents.

Every private citizen has been asked to drive with extra care over the three-day holiday, to exercise precaution in swimming and to avoid the use of fireworks. There are now in American schools for the blind near 500 children who lost their sight from accidents, including those from the use of fireworks and toys guns. The National Society for the Prevention of Blindness advocates State legislation forbidding the sale of fireworks except for industrial purposes or for use in community celebrations under the direction of an expert.

Retail Stores To Close Wednesdays

On and after July 13th and through Labor Day Retail Stores generally will close at 1 p. m. on Wednesdays. Do your shopping early on Wednesday. You not only help yourself by so doing, but you assist stores in closing on time and allowing all employees to have their afternoon.

Four Injured When Truck Capsizes

Last Sunday evening at 7 o'clock a small truck driven by Vincenzo Messa of Summer street, Watertown, skidded opposite the High School on Walnut street and overturned. Five persons riding in temporary seats in the rear of the truck were hurled to the ground and slightly injured.

Summer Union Church Services

Following the custom of the past two summers the churches of West Newton and Newtonville have again joined forces in conducting union church services during the months of July and Aug. This year the Auburn-dale Cong. Church is also participating. With a great deal of satisfaction the committee announces that except for two Sundays in July the regular preacher will be Dr. Lynn J. Radcliffe of the First Methodist Church of Syracuse, New York. Dr. Radcliffe will be well remembered by many Newton people for his very outstanding ministries in Boston at the famous Copley Methodist Church, at the historic Tremont Methodist Church and later at the College Avenue Methodist Church of Somerville. In Syracuse he is known as the Radio Preacher. His sermons are inspiring, direct and compelling. He is a popular college and institute preacher and has recently had engagements at Wesleyan, Syracuse and Northeastern Universities.

DR. LYNN J. RADCLIFFE

Dr. Radcliffe is a graduate of Wesleyan, Boston University School of Theology and of the Graduate School of Harvard. He is a special student of philosophy and psychology and his sermons which are both eloquent and powerful contain a fine quality of spiritual emphasis.

At the first Union service to be held next Sunday in the Central Congregational Church of Newtonville on Walnut st. at eleven o'clock Dr. Radcliffe will preach on "The Cross Principle in Our Age."

The music for the day will be furnished by a mixed quartet under the direction of Joseph Ludwigson, Minister of Music at Central Church. The members of the quartet—Thelma L. Rundlett, soprano; John C. Rundlett, bass; Louisa Burt Wood, alto and Joseph R. Ludwigson. The selections to be rendered are "As Torrents in Summer" by Elgar and "Blessed Are They" by David Stanley Smith. Miss Lillian West will be the organist.

The co-operating churches and ministers are: Auburn-dale Congregational, Rev. Ralph H. Rogers; Central Congregational, Newtonville, Rev. Randolph S. Merrill; Church of the New Jerusalem, Newtonville, Rev. Horace W. Briggs; Lincoln Park Baptist, West Newton, Rev. William E. Blake; Newtonville Methodist, Rev. J. Franklin Knotts; Second Congregational, West Newton, Rev. Boynton Merrill; and the Unitarian Church of West Newton, Rev. Herbert Hitchen.

On July 10 and 17 Mr. Radcliffe will be away and the preacher for those two Sundays will be Dr. Park Johnson formerly of the First Presbyterian Church of Yeadon, Pennsylvania.

Gets 6 Months For Assaulting Girl

Vasily Secheyko, 43, of 1089 Chestnut st., Newton Upper Falls, was sentenced by Judge Mayberry in Newton court on Tuesday to 6 months in Billerica Prison for assault and battery on his 20-year old stepdaughter, Anna Eweyehik. The defendant's wife testified he started to assault her when she told him to get up and go to work. Miss Eweyehik testified that when she tried to take a cane away from Secheyko, with which he was hitting her mother, the defendant wrenched her arm, and that he had hurled a vinegar bottle at his wife. Secheyko testified that his wife had thrown a coffee percolator containing hot liquid at him.

Sunbeam Chats

What is this "Fourth of July" everybody is planning for? Daddy said it celebrates the "declaration of independence." Maybe I'd better think about declaring my independence. I don't want anybody to feed me anymore. I can feed myself. Maybe I am a bit slow, but I get the most taste out of every mouthful. And the food Mother gives me does taste so good! I wonder if it's nearly time for lunch?

(Sunbeam Chats are sponsored by the Newton District Nursing Association.)

Recent Weddings

BROOKS—O'CONNELL

Miss Helen O'Connell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Timothy J. O'Connell of 326 River st., West Newton was married to Walter Brooks of 7 Allston st., Dorchester on Saturday morning, June 25, at nine o'clock in St. Bernard's Church, West Newton. The ceremony was performed by the pastor, Rev. John J. Crane.

The bride wore a gown of white lace and a veil of tulle. Her bouquet was of white roses and lilies of the valley. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Beatrice Johnston of Newton as matron of honor, who wore powder blue marquisette with pink accessories and carried a bouquet of roses and baby's breath.

William Brooks, brother of the groom of Dorchester, was the best man. Another brother, James Brooks of Arlington and Thomas O'Neill of West Newton served as ushers.

Miss Esther M. Costello was the organist and Joseph Lyons the soloist.

A reception was held at the Bonnar Atwood Studio, Newtonville following the ceremony.

On their return from a wedding trip to New York and Washington, Mr. and Mrs. Brooks will reside at 25 Ocean st., Ashmont.

SHUBOW—KNIZNIK

Miss Pauline Kniznik, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Simon Kniznik of 69 Orange st., Waltham, was married to Rabbi Leo Shubow of Temple Emmanuel, Newton Centre, on Sunday evening, June 26. The ceremony which took place at Sunset Lodge in Sharon was performed by the groom's brother, Rabbi Joseph S. Shubow.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her parents, wore a gown of white, chantly lace and a tulle veil which fell from a coronet of lace trimmed with orange blossoms. Her bouquet was of gardenias and lilies of the valley. Miss Edith Kniznik, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor. She wore a gown of peppermint pink net with a Juliet cap and carried an arm bouquet of pink roses and delphinium. Another sister, Miss Shirley Kniznik and Miss Muriel Ross of Brookline were bridesmaids. One wearing peach net trimmed with du-bonnet velvet and the other lemon yellow chiffon trimmed with green faille. They both wore crowns of flowers and carried bouquets of spring flowers.

The groom was attended by George W. Cashman of Newton, president of the Emmanuel Club.

Music was furnished by an orchestra and Mrs. A. S. Shubow was the soloist.

A reception followed the ceremony. The bride's mother wore royal blue crepe and a corsage of yellow roses. The groom's mother wore blue lace with a corsage of pink roses.

The bride is a graduate of the Waltham High School and of the New England Conservatory of Music and is a member of the Waltham Music Club. Rabbi Shubow, who is the son of Mrs. Morris J. Shubow of Nottingham st., Newton Centre, and the late Mr. Shubow, attended Boston Latin School and was graduated from Harvard College and the Jewish Institute of Religion.

MISKELLA—CAVANAUGH

Miss Catherine Elizabeth Cavanaugh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick J. Cavanaugh of 46 Pearl st., Medford was married to James Edward Miskella of 130 Bridge st., Newton, on Saturday afternoon, June 25th at 3 o'clock in St. Joseph's Church, Medford. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. John Garrett.

The bride wore a gown of lace over satin and a long train. Her veil of tulle was caught to a coronet of gardenias and she carried a bouquet of white roses with lilies of the valley. She was attended by her sister, Miss Lillian Cavanaugh, as maid of honor who wore a gown of aqua chiffon with a matching turban and face veil and carried a bouquet of tall-tower roses and baby's breath. The groom was attended by his brother, John Joseph Miskella of Newton.

A reception was held following the ceremony at the Medford Men's Club. Mrs. Cavanaugh wore a blue lace ensemble with hat to match, and a corsage of pink roses and baby's breath. Mrs. Miskella wore blue lace with a white felt hat and corsage of pink sweet peas and blue delphiniums.

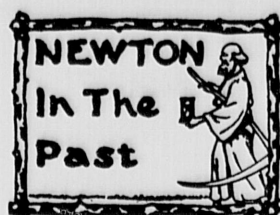

Mr. Miskella and his bride are spending their honeymoon motoring to New York and New Jersey.

The antique and horribles parade of the Newton Bicycle Club and visiting wheelmen starts from Eliot Block, Newton on July 4th at 6:30 a. m. and will go over the best roads in Newton, Newtonville, West Newton and Auburndale. All wheelmen in the city are invited to participate and to send their names to J. C. Elms, Jr., Post-office Box 658, Newton. There will be a collation at Eliot Hall after the parade and the club's friends who care to help entertain their visitors are informed that contributions will be received at the hall before 7:30 a. m. on July 4th.

George F. Briggs of Newton, for sometime past employed at Glines photographic studio in Watertown starts on a pleasure trip to Labrador next Monday. He expects to return with pictures of Esquimaux, polar bears and other interesting objects for his friends.

Newton public schools close today for the long vacation. An unusually large class is expected to enter high school next fall, the grammar school graduates numbering 165.

The school committee held its last regular meeting for the present term on last Wednesday evening. All the old corps of regular teachers were re-elected for the coming year except Miss Alice Locke of the Bigelow School who resigns to fit for college. A question was raised as to whether Mr. Leland of the Hamilton School could hold his position if he remains a member of the Common Council. It was finally confirmed subject to a decision of the City Solicitor on this legal point. Mrs. Emma Bowler having resigned as instructor in drawing at the high school owing to ill health, it was voted to appoint her supervisor of drawing for the city, and Miss Alice Pond, a graduate of the school, was elected to Mrs. Bowler's former position. The salary of $800 will be divided between them. It was voted to grant the petition of Oak Hill people for an extra teacher for the lower grades. The school has scarcely 30 pupils but all grades are represented and one teacher cannot keep them up to the standard. The extra teacher's salary will be $400. It was voted to employ a superintendent for the coming year and John Kimball was re-elected. His salary was continued at $2700. The claim of Captain Brown, ex-drummer at the high school, for payment of $30 for bugles and wooden swords he had ordered without proper authority, was referred to the committee on accounts. Mayor Ellison spoke of the bad results caused by renting the halls in some of the schools for dances. Inconvenience is caused by the removal of furniture and the bad condition in which buildings are often left. It was voted to ask the City Council to forbid such renting of school halls.

In the police court on Tuesday three boys were fined $1 each for stealing cherries.

The Read Fund picnic at Spy Pond, Arlington last Saturday was successful and enjoyable; a large number of children availing themselves of the pleasure it afforded. The party started from Newton Corner in the morning and nine horse cars of the Cambridge Railroad rapidly filled with merry boys and girls. An entertainment of local, old-fashioned and Punch and Judy was provided and the usual games entered into. Refreshments were served, consisting of ice cream, sandwiches, lemonade and cake. The party was accompanied by Alderman Childs, Councilmen Kennedy and Powell and Policemen Henthorn and Davis.

The joint special committee of Aldermen and Common Council members appointed to examine into the several departments of the city reported at the meeting of the Board of Aldermen last Monday night. It was recommended that the Board of Health call for proposals for collection house offal and contents of cess-pools, and the contract be not given exclusively to one man, but that at least two persons be licensed to do such work. The committee believed that the collection of ash can be done more economically by outside persons under contract than under the present system. The committee recommends that the horses of the Fire Department be used in Newton and Newton Centre to haul the watering carts within such a radius of the fire stations as the committee on fire department may deem expedient. The committee believes that under the present management the condition of the police department as to discipline and efficiency is far from satisfactory, and the longer such a state exists, the more demoralized will the police force become. The committee recommends a thorough reorganization of the department.

On Monday evening at 9 o'clock the venerable Seth Davis of Watertown st., West Newton passed away at the age of 100 years and 9 months. He was born in Ashby, the son of Timothy Davis who was born in Townsend. His entire school days covered a period of 19 months. In his

Powers' Paragraphs

In last week's GRAPHIC the names of William U. Fogwill of West Newton and Bert Stuart, mechanic in the Street Department were inadvertently omitted from the list of those who assisted in preparing the floats which were in the parade sponsored by the Newton Safety Council.

When the biggest circuses in this country have to quit early in the season because of lack of patronage, it is quite positive evidence that there is a real depression.

Newton residents who patronize the Boston Elevated would appreciate some co-operation by Brighton police in ending the traffic nuisance which is caused by automobiles blocking outboard cars on Washington st. just west of Market st. Daily, and several times each day, cars are held up for considerable periods by trucks or automobiles which are so parked that they prevent the street railway cars from passing. Angle parking should not be permitted on Washington st. at this place.

Barbara Hutton, Ex-Princess Midvian, Countess Hancowitz-Reventlow is again in the limelight and adding to her reputation for having more money than brains. This inane-acting young woman who preferred foreigners with empty titles to some wholesome young American for a husband, continues to provide arguments for those who contend that a social and economic system—which causes any young person of her apparent vacuity to inherit a tremendous fortune—is essentially wrong.

We read in a newspaper last week that it is planned to have the little summer pavilion remain on the little park which will be created at the lot of land at Washington st. and Walnut Park, Newton, bequeathed by the late Elizabeth Spear to the city as a "green spot." It is also planned to locate at the site the drinking fountain for which Miss Spear left a bequest. We repeat what we have said before—that the little wooden pavilion will soon be destroyed by youngsters playing about the "green spot" and a drinking fountain located there will be used more by children to squirt water at others than it will be used for drinking purposes. The place for the fountain is at or near Newton Corner.

We have several times in recent years suggested that WPA workers in Newton be employed on improving and repairing sidewalks on streets which are largely used by pedestrians, and we have called attention to the fact that sidewalks in Newton, in large part, are in such a condition that it is disagreeable and even hazardous for persons to walk on them to dry weather, and the sidewalks become so muddy in wet weather and so slushy or slippery in winter, that pedestrians have to walk out on the streets and take chances of being struck by automobiles.

The city ordinances of Newton compel abutters to pay half the cost of surfacing sidewalks with tar concrete or other hard surfaces; such cost-abutters to be paid in yearly install-

15th year he came to Newton with his wardrobe tied up in a pocket handkerchief and 25c in money. He went to work for Henry Crafts at $6 per month and worked for him for 4 years. When his labors were completed he occupied his leisure hours reading to gain knowledge. In the year 1806 he was offered a district school in Mason, New Hampshire near his former home. He taught there three months and during the next two winters taught at Woodbury and Townsend. During the succeeding 2 winters he taught school at West Newton and in 1812-1813 taught at Newton. The next 2 years he was in charge of Seth Bemis' cotton mill at Watertown. He then taught in Newton schools for 4 years, and then opened a private school, operating it until 1839 when he sold it to George C. Beckwith.

ments over a period of 10 years. It stands to reason that if the city stood the entire cost of placing hard surfaces on all sidewalks in the city, the expense would be so great that the tax rate would take a big jump. But, with labor available for improving sidewalks through the WPA, the Mayor and Aldermen of Newton should amend the ordinance so that streets such as Adams, Pearl, Watertown, Walnut, River and some other streets, used daily by thousands of pedestrians, shall have improved sidewalks at the cost of the city. Such streets are pedestrian thoroughfares, and humble folks who can't afford automobiles are entitled to consideration, even as are their more prosperous fellows who ride in cars and for whose benefit millions of dollars have been expended in building and maintaining modern surfaced streets. Cities and towns all over the country have co-operated with WPA in improving sidewalks. Newton should do likewise in the case of streets mentioned in this paragraph.

We wonder if the recently appointed woman judge in this State who has been finding alleged drunken drivers not guilty, with the result that several police chiefs complained to the Registrar of Motor Vehicles, read of the slaughter of five persons at Middletown, Rhode Island, last Sunday by a drunken driver? And we wonder if the woman judge will continue to be as lenient with persons who drive automobiles while under the influence of liquor? The person who drove the car which crashed into the automobile containing the five persons who were killed, had got drunk while attending a political outing held in the interest of a Rhode Island millionaire who seeks to be Governor of that State. We wonder if this millionaire candidate feels any degree of responsibility for the deaths of 5 persons and the injuries sustained by six other persons? The death dealing car was being operated at a speed estimated to be 80 miles, on the left lane of a four-lane highway when it crashed into the other car.

The flower garden created by the late Professor Harry Powers at Centre and Wesley sts., Newton, is again in full bloom and continues to be a beautiful memorial to a public spirited man.

The chartering of an airplane to bring two youthful murder suspects from Newark to Boston is quite spectacular and brings additional publicity. It also brings additional expense to the taxpayers of Middlesex County (including Newton) who have to pay the bill.

That travel-minded Americans are not being frightened by the war talk in Europe is evidenced by the fact that ocean liners which have been leaving New York and Boston the past couple of weeks for the British Isles and Europe have been carrying capacity loads of passengers. Unusually low rates are being offered to those who will cross the Atlantic in September and October.

6 Slightly Hurt When Cars Collide

Cars driven by Abel Billiveau of Mt. Pleasant st., Waltham and William Tilden of Highland ave., Needham, collided at Walnut and Homer sts., Newton Centre on last Friday evening at 7:20. Six persons riding in the two cars claimed to have received injuries. Billiveau, traveling on Homer st., told the police he had stopped in conformity with the traffic sign, and was proceeding across the intersection when the car driven by Tilden came along and the crash occurred.

CASEY—HANNIGAN

Miss Mary Teresa Hannigan, daughter of Mrs. Daniel H. Hannigan of 394 Homer st., Newton Centre was married to Charles Leo Casey of 31 Capital st., Newton on Saturday morning, June 25, at nine o'clock in the Sacred Heart Church, Newton Centre. Rev. Michael O'Connor, a cousin of the bride, performed the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Edward J. Kivell of West Newton. Her gown was of white satin in princess style with a long train. Her long tulle veil was caught with orange blossoms and she carried a white satin prayer-book with streamers of lilies of the valley and white roses. Miss Eleanor A. Hannigan, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor. She wore aqua orandy, a leghorn hat trimmed with the same material and carried an old fashioned bouquet. The bridesmaids were Miss Helen I. Casey, sister of the groom of Newton; Miss Jean B. Ford, Miss Margaret Doherty and Miss Marie McGrath all of West Newton. Miss Anna Kelley, a cousin of the bride, of Newton Centre and Miss Alice Murphy of Newton. They were gowned in pastel shades of orandy with Watteau hats of the same material and carried old fashioned bouquets.

Henry R. Casey, brother of the groom of Newton was the best man. Two other brothers, Frank Casey of Belmont and John Casey of Lowell, Dr. Thomas Reid of Braintree and Frank Good of Boston served as ushers.

A reception was held at the Philomatheia Club, Chestnut Hill immediately after the ceremony. The bride's mother wore blue flowered chiffon and a white hat. The groom's mother wore navy blue lace and a navy hat.

The decorations at both the church and the club were of white and red roses and white peonies. Miss Cuniff of Natick played the wedding music and Martin Cavanaugh of Leominster was the soloist.

On their return from a wedding trip to Washington and Williamsburg, Mr. and Mrs. Casey will reside in Newtonville. They will be at home after July 10.

GREENE—HARRIS

Miss Elizabeth Crawford Harris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Edward Harris of Beacon st., Brookline was married to Foster Leonard Greene, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar W. Greene, of 14 Loring st., Newton Centre on Saturday afternoon, June 25. The ceremony which took place at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Clayton M. Skinner in Brookline, was performed by Rev. Robert Wood Coe of the Leyden Church, Brookline.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of white mousseline with a short bolero and a veil of heirloom Brussels lace caught to a shirred cap with a wreath of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley with a white orchid centre. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Clayton Skinner, who wore pale blue organdie trimmed with pink and a large leghorn hat also trimmed with pink and blue flowers.

Joseph Fay of Newton Centre was the best man.

William E. Crosby, an uncle of the groom, played the wedding march.

A reception followed the ceremony. The couple were assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. Skinner.

Betta, Siamese Sea Fish, Builds Nest of Bubbles
Betta, fighting denizen of the Siamese sea, is a strange fish and the strangest thing about him is his love life, writes Brian Curtis in "The Life Story of the Fish," published by Appleton-Century.
When Betta is in a romantic mood, he builds a gorgeous bubble castle. This he accomplishes by going to the surface, breathing in air, retiring to a chosen spot, and there releasing little bubbles, one after the other, each covered with a sticky substance from his mouth which prevents it from bursting and makes it adhere to the others. This process he repeats until he has a dome of bubbles from one to two inches in diameter and protruding as much as a half an inch above the surface of the water.
Betta then takes his post under the nest and attacks all intruders until a mate of his choice appears. Eventually he drives her out and she is at liberty to continue on her carefree way. But not so the male Betta; his task has just begun. He remains in his nest making such repairs as necessary and returning to their place such eggs as fall out, until the young are hatched. For several days thereafter he remains the perfect papa, until suddenly he wearies of the whole idea, turns cannibal and tosses off those of his offspring who are not fortunate enough to escape his menacing jaws.

Coventry's Peeping Tom Shares Honor With Lady
Coventry, England, not only honors its most famous woman, Lady Godiva, but also "Peeping Tom," who was supposed to have been struck blind for peeping on her famous ride through the city's streets.
Lady Godiva herself has two statues in Coventry, one in the Guildhall, the other in the Great Hall. Hundreds of tourists visit them. "Peeping Tom" is also immortalized in Coventry presumably as a bad example, with several effigies. These are each in a different part of the city, but all purport to mark the exact spot where he was struck blind.
Both Lady Godiva and "Peeping Tom" have come in for their share of debunking in recent years. It turns out that the legend of "Peeping Tom" did not appear in the first story of the ride, but was added years later as an afterthought.
As for Lady Godiva, a Benedictine abbey founded by her in 1043, once gave proof of existence. That, unfortunately, was destroyed by Henry VIII, and while most people still admit that she was a real person, they doubt she ever made the ride. No documentary evidence of it turned up until 150 years after her death and such rides, detractors say, are common in old folk traditions. Lady Godiva's name, the debunkers say, was attached to such a legend to do honor to her piety and goodness.

Longest Bridges
The Golden Gate bridge at San Francisco has the longest single span, a 4,200-foot sweep over the entrance to San Francisco bay. The overall length of the bridge is 9,200 feet, or approximately two miles. The bridge having the longest water span in the world is the San Francisco-Oakland bay bridge which is eight and a quarter miles long. This bridge is both suspension and cantilever. The west bay crossing between San Francisco and Yerba Buena island, is 10,450 feet long and has two suspension spans of 2,310 feet each. The east bay crossing, from Yerba Buena island to Oakland, includes a cantilever span 1,400 feet in length, the heaviest in the world. The east bay crossing from the island to the toll plaza on the Oakland mole is 19,400 feet in length. The east bay crossing is connected with the west bay crossing by a tunnel through Yerba Buena island.

Indian Curiosity
A Frenchman traveling through Ohio in 1797 met and talked with the Indian chief, Little Turtle. The Frenchman told Little Turtle about the theory that the Indians descended from the dark-skinned Tartars of Asia. He also showed the Indian a map which outlined the possible route of the Tartars to America. Said Little Turtle: "Why should not these Tartars, who resemble us, have descended from the Indian?"

Remedy for Leprosy
Natives of Burma and India have known for many centuries that the brownish yellow oil pressed from chaulmoogra seeds was helpful in treating leprosy. But it was about 40 years ago that American and European doctors became seriously interested. Lepers used to try to swallow the nauseating, acrid oil, and they spread it upon their sores. This famous tree grows wild in Burma, lower Bengal and Assam.

Whistling, "Devil's Music"
In numerous parts of the world, whistling is viewed with much superstition. Moslems call it "devil's music" and Icelanders believe it violates a divine law, says Collier's Weekly. Whistling in mines and theatrical dressing rooms is said to court disaster. Many languages have proverbs on its consequences, such as the French maxim: "A hen that crows and a girl who whistles bring the house bad luck."

Spinel Stones
Spinel is a common metamorphic mineral occurring embedded in granular limestone, associated with calcite, serpentine and other minerals. It occurs as an accessory mineral in many basic igneous rocks, as peridotites. Spinel is red, yellow, green, blue, black and other colors. When transparent and finely colored, it is used as a gem.

Imperial Restaurant
Reopens After Alterations

Newton's newest and most attractive restaurant has been opened at 258 Washington st. with extensive alterations completed at the Imperial Restaurant. For the past two months workmen have been busy changing the former grill room into a cosy and attractive lunch room, and creating in the basement of the place an unusually alluring dining room. It has comfortable booths, is decorated in excellent taste, has indirect lighting and is air conditioned. It will be delightfully cool during the warm months and kept scientifically ventilated and heated in cooler weather. Both upper and basement restaurants are attractive and inviting and John Zahos, proprietor of the restaurant assures his many patrons that he will continue to provide the high quality food, prompt and efficient service and immaculate cleanliness which have won him a high reputation as a restaurateur.

Recent Engagements
Mrs. Norman Southworth of Newton announced the engagement of her daughter, Cynthia, to Mr. William Lewis Tompkins, Junior, of Madison, New Jersey.
Miss Southworth is the daughter of Mrs. Norman Southworth (Helen Richardson) and the late Mr. Norman Southworth. She attended Randolph-Macon Woman's College in Lynchburg, Virginia and was graduated this year from Katharine Gibbs School in Boston. Mr. Tompkins is the son of Mrs. William Lewis Tompkins of Madison, New Jersey and the late Mr. Tompkins. He attended Union College in Schenectady, New York.

Wigs Once Popular
When William, the Dutchman, and his English wife, Mary, occupied the throne of England from 1689 to 1702, wigs for men became all the rage. There was the periwig, the peruke, the campaign wig with polelocks, all of which were the first thoughts of the gentlemen of the kingdom. Historians say "their heads were loaded with curl upon curl, long ringlets hanging over their shoulders and down their backs, some brown, some covered with meal until their coats looked like millers' coats; scented hair, almost hiding the loose tied cravat, most agreeably discolored with snuff from top to bottom."

—Golden Apples

Spain was once the Mexico and Peru of Mediterranean exploitation, yielding gold, silver, tin, and copper for the greater glory of Greece and the grandeur of ancient Rome. It was believed to be fabulously rich when Greek myth-makers wrote legends of Hercules venturing Spain-ward for the golden apples of Hesperides. To Tarshish, around Cadiz, King Solomon sent for gold for his temple.

NEWTON TWILIGHT LEAGUE

A meeting of directors of the Newton Twilight League was held Tuesday evening at the Newton Centre Recreation Building. The following managers were present:
 Vernon Stowell, Cabot A. C.; Del Ryan, Auburndale B. C.; Davis Perlmutter, Garden City Club; Arthur Claff, Newton Pals; V. Durban, Auburndale Cubs; Pat LoChiatto, Vediccio Texaco Club; A. L. Jacobs, Y. M. C. A.; John E. Janse, Newton City Club; Harry Gray, West Newton Giants.

It was voted after much discussion that the players' list, as submitted and approved for July be the final list for this season and become effective on July 1. It was voted to allow the Auburndale Cubs one week to get a catcher and to allow clubs not represented at the meeting another day in which to submit final changes.

It was further voted to add to the league's written rules the following:

"No player may leave his club at any time for the purpose of playing with another league club without getting the consent of and a release from his manager."

A heated discussion arose over the attempt of Shordoni and Leo Murphy, ace pitcher for Vediccio Texaco to transfer to Cabot A. C. of the same league. League director Lane ruled that manager LoChiatto had the right to keep those players on his list if he so desired but suggested that since the players were transferring to a much weaker club and had stated they would no longer play with Vediccio Club under any conditions, it would be wise to release them and allow them to continue to play ball. The consensus of opinion among the managers seemed to point this way and finally Manager LoChiatto gave them their release.

JULY FOURTH MEANS START OF VACATIONS

Better Check Old Tires Before Starting on Holiday Trips, Goodyear Dealer Advises

With arrival of July Fourth, the summer vacation season really gets underway, and highways begin to fill up with traffic. And heavy traffic means that a lot of people are going to have tire trouble, unless they replace their old, smooth, worn casings at once, in the opinion of Phil Bram of the Bram Battery & Tire Service, local dealer for the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co.

"Tire safety is something we have been preaching for years, and is something that the tire manufacturers of the United States tried to impress on motorists during National Tire Safety Week in May," Mr. Bram said.

"A car owner who starts the heavy driving season with tires that are smooth and worn is just inviting trouble for himself.

"Not only is he letting himself in for a lot of inconvenience, but is subjecting himself and his family to possible danger of serious accident.

For the next few months the highways will be hot, and heat is the enemy of the tire. Naturally a tire that is already worn smooth is much more liable to let go than one that is new.

"Another hazard of driving on smooth tires is that of dangerous skids," he continued. "A smooth tire offers no resistance to the road when brakes are applied suddenly and as a result the car cannot be brought to a safe, sure stop, as it can if the tires have a sharp, gripping center traction, such as is to be found in Goodyear tires.

"Motorists owe it to themselves to check up on tires before starting out on a vacation trip, or before summer driving gets under way. New tires now will mean freedom from worry and freedom from the inconvenience of roadside delays," Mr. Phil Bram concluded.

IRIS SHOW

Like giant butterflies, pausing on slender stems with outstretched wings, the Imperial Japanese Iris, latest and most glorious of the Iris family, bring to a close, as it were, the bright succession of springtime beauty and open summer with their colorful splendor as with a flourish of trumpets.

Cultured for centuries in old Japan, these Iris have all the innate stately grace and beauty of the ancient aristocracy from which they spring. Out of the hundreds of gorgeous varieties developed in their island empire, nearly a hundred have been successfully introduced over a space of half a century into American gardens, from which more than sixty especially hardy varieties have been selected for Little Tree Farms, Framingham Centre, at their big Iris Show starting today, and lasting through Sunday, July 10th.

Synchromatic Shift Popular New Cadillac-LaSalle Feature

The contribution to automotive development that Cadillac-LaSalle engineers have made in the Synchromatic shift is pointed out in the current issue of a leading trade publication.

Reviewing technological events as they will effect future progress, Harold F. Blanchard, the writer, says: "With all this activity in gearshift design in 1938 it should not surprise anybody to learn that in 1939 the old-fashioned gearshift lever will be nothing but a memory except perhaps on one or two cars. At the moment, the opinion is generally held that these new gearshifts will be mechanically operated and will resemble that used on present Cadillacs and LaSalle's."

Such comment on the Synchromatic shift by Mr. Blanchard and other trade authorities is in line with the wide public acceptance of the device, according to General Sales Manager D. E. Ahrens of Cadillac-LaSalle.

"Judged by our customer reaction, the mounting of the gearshift lever on the steering column is one of the most popular automotive steps we have ever pioneered," he declared. "Added comfort, safety and operating ease are obvious with a single demonstration."

The Synchromatic shift is one of the innovations on the 1938 line of Cadillacs and LaSalle's. It is the only shift to depart from the conventional vertically mounted floor lever that is not quoted as extra-cost equipment. Frost Motors, Inc., local Cadillac-LaSalle dealers, at 399 Washington st., Newton will be pleased to demonstrate the Synchromatic shift and other features of interest.

Automobile Accidents

Cars driven by Harry Bradford, Jr., of 24 Bowdoin st., Newton Highlands, and Carl Chandler of 271 Mill st., Newtonville collided last Friday night at 11:15 at Washington and Walnut sts., Newtonville. Ruth Howe of 78 Washington st., Newton, who was riding in Bradford's car, received a cut on her scalp. She was given first aid treatment in Berger's drug store and then treated by her physician.

Boy Cuts Head In Fall off Bicycle

Francis Lynch, 13, of Jerome ave., West Newton was riding his bicycle on the platform at the West Newton railroad station last Sunday afternoon. He rode off the end of the platform, took a header and landed on his head, cutting his scalp. He was taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance and 7 stitches were required to close the cut.

Must Pay $20 For Hitting Woman

Nicholas Tambascio of 56 Lincoln road, Newton, was ordered by Judge Allen in the Newton court on Monday to pay $20 for medical attendance to Mrs. Rose Arsenault of 55 Lincoln rd. According to Tambascio's testimony on the evening of June 23rd, he found a number of neighbors in the kitchen of his father's home on Lincoln rd. and he asked them to leave. He said that Mr. Arsenault attacked him and his wife. Mrs. Arsenault testified that Tambascio hit her in the face several times, cutting her lip so that two stitches were required to close the wound. Judge Allen placed the case on file on condition that Tambascio pay the doctor's bill.

Arrest Youth For Reckless Driving

Harold Suvalle, 20, of 234 Newtonville avenue, Newtonville, was fined $20 by Judge Nagel in the Newton court last Friday for driving a car so as to endanger the lives of the public. Patrolmen Manter and Bibbo testified that on June 16 they saw a car driven by Suvalle from the intersection of another automobile on Washington street and Walnut park, Newton, almost causing the other vehicle to be overturned. They said they chased Suvalle along several streets, and on Thornton street Suvalle's car almost hit another car driven by Joseph Chevarley. They finally caught Suvalle on Gardner street, and after obtaining his registration and license number, the registration testified he again drove off at a high rate of speed.

Examination For Naval Academy

On October 8 the Civil Service Commission will hold a preliminary competitive examination for the purpose of making designations for appointment as midshipman at Annapolis. The examination will be open to bona fide residents of the Massachusetts District between 16 and 20 years of age. Permission to take the examination must be obtained from Congressman Luce. Three vacancies now exist.

Speeders Fined in Newton Court

In the Newton court last Friday several motorists were fined for speeding. Included in the number were Marie Baldini, 27 Stearns street, Newton Center; Albert J. Lewis, Centre street, Everett; 16 Chesterfield road, West Newton; John Argesinger, 133 Collins road, Waban. Each was fined $5. Similar charges against Cesidio Simonelli of 270 Blyston street, Newton Center and Margaret Patterson of Weston were filed.

Two Newtonville Dogs Restrained

Last Saturday Newton police ordered Mrs. J. F. Dunleavy of 84 Central ave., Newtonville to restrain her dog on complaint of Andy Arcese of 56 Central ave., who stated the dog had bitten a member of his family. Daniel O'Connell of 311 Nevada st. was ordered to restrain his dog, Clyde Dangelo of 43 Crafts st. said the dog had jumped at his wife, causing her to faint from fright. The dog did not bite the woman.

Girl Scouts

The Newton Local Council of the Girl Scouts, whose Commissioner is Mrs. Theron B. Walker, is sponsoring a Day Camp at the Riverside Recreation Ground. Beginning on July 5th an all-day program on Tuesdays and Wednesdays during that month is to include swimming, nature quests, arts and crafts, folk dancing, dramatics, minstrels and camp cooking. The director, Mrs. Joseph W. McMullin, will have on her staff Mrs. C. S. Perkins, Miss Barbara Dunmore, a Senior Life-Saver, and a trained First Aider. The sponsors are Mrs. Walker, Mrs. Walton S. Redfield, Chairman of the Camp Committee, Mrs. Craig Patterson, Chairman of the Day Camp Committee, Mrs. Everett Brooks, and Mrs. Wilfred Potter.

Chest Collections Above Average

Collections on community chest pledges throughout the nation were better during 1937 than they were during the boom years of 1928 and 1929. The average for the year was 95 per cent. The time during the past ten years, the Newton Community Chest, Inc., reports.

This statement is based on information received from Community Chests and Councils, Inc., the national organization of which the Newton Community Chest is a member.

Last year, 94.5 per cent was paid by the contributors to 97 community chests which reported their results to the national office. During 1928 and 1929 93.2 per cent and 93.1 were the collection records.

The record of the Newton Chest compares very favorably with the national average. Last year, 97.47 per cent was collected here.

When payments made on pledges after the close of the fiscal year are included the record is even a better one. The average of 812 campaigns for the past ten years is nearly 95 per cent. The all-time low occurred in 1932, when the final percentage was 92.7. That year, however, was the last year in which chests raised funds for unemployment relief, and the year in which they made their all-time record in the total amount raised, $101,000.00.

"Sound fiscal administration of community chests and their member agencies depends upon the per cent of the funds collected to as great an extent as it does upon the total amount raised in the annual campaign," the communication from the national association pointed out. "The drop in the per cent collected for 1932 to 92.5 per cent from 94.5 per cent in 1931 represented a loss of nearly $1,000,000 more than would have been the case if the previous year's record had been maintained."

Newton's fine record of keeping its promises to the community chest enables the budget committee to plan agency appropriations intelligently and enables the Chest to keep its promises to the Agencies.

NEWTON BOYS WIN IN N. E. MEET AT LYNN

Five Newton youths figured prominently in their favorite events in the annual New England track and field championships on Wednesday night at Lynn. Warren Wittens, former Newton high track star and now a sophomore at Penn. won the 220-yard low hurdles. He was clocked in 25 seconds for an outstanding accomplishment since the distance was around a turn and on soft and much-scattered track. Joe Gallant, another former Newton high star and now running under the Newton Y. M. C. A. colors, won the mile run against worthy competition. Captain Arthur Linthwaite of the Newton Y team took third in the 880-yard run, and Robert Hunt, Newton Y, second in the two-mile steeplechase. Don MacKinnon, who proved himself a worthy successor to Wittens as a schoolboy hurdler, was second in the trial heat and fourth in the final heat of the 120-yard hurdle event and placed third in the 220-yard lows.

It was Wittens third victory in the New England event. Two years ago the N. E. A. A. U. failed to send him to the national events at Princeton along with other winners and Wittens paid his own expenses to the meet. There he won the junior title and placed in the senior event the next day. Again the N. E. Association did not choose Wittens among 12 athletes to go to the national games at Buffalo this week-end despite his excellent competitive record. Wittens may again go at his own expense.

Newton Residents Sail on Scythia

A number of Newton residents were passengers on the SCYTHIA of the Cunard White Star Line which left Boston Saturday, June 25. They include Misses Bessie and Beatrice Tower of Brae Burn Country Club; Rev. Bernard Winn, curate at Sacred Heart Church, Newton Centre, who will motor through Ireland with his mother; Mrs. Alexander B. Stewart of Waban; Miss L. Evangeline Baldwin and Mrs. Irving Whitehead.

BROOKLINE DAY CAMP OPENS

The Brookline Day Camp opens its third season at Rivers School, Brookline, on July 5th. It will operate for six weeks. All boys will enjoy a swim daily, and a noon meal is served at the camp. Newton youths who have enrolled this year are John Knowlton, Auburndale; Robert Fountain, Auburndale; James McInerney, Newton Centre; Arthur Walker, Newton; John Nawn, Newton Centre, and Philip Baker, Newtonville.

Newton Counselors include J. Marshall Leydon, Bowdoin, '41, of Newtonville, who is active in sports at Rivers and Bowdoin and is at this camp for his third year, and Thomas Griffin, University of Maine, '40, of Newton Centre, who takes an active part in sports at U. of M. This is Mr. Griffin's second season at the camp.

Assaulted Child, Gets Jail Term

Arthur J. Bertrand, 33, of 26 Washburn street, Newton, was sentenced by Judge Gray in the Superior Court at Cambridge last Friday to serve two and one-half years in Billerica prison, when found guilty of a criminal assault on a 6-year-old Nonantum girl. It was charged that on June 8 Bertrand bought ice cream for the child and lured her to an isolated spot near the Charles River off California street in the Bemis district.

Mrs. Virginia Hutchinson, who is a member of the Library trustees urged that the city take steps to insure city owned trucks. She said the library trustees had been so disturbed over the fact that the truck used by that department was not insured, that they had taken action to insure it and thus protect the employees driving it from constant worry. The council voted to recommend that the city insure its trucks and automobiles.

Interesting moving pictures of the recent Safety Parade conducted under the auspices of the council, were shown by Irving M. Atwood of the Newton Camera Shop.

Number Pool Agent Welched; $100 Fine

Domenic Malocca, 57, of 27 Sullivan ave., Newton Upper Falls was fined $10 by Judge Mayberry in the Newton court on Tuesday for promoting a lottery. Malocca was in court as a result of a complaint made last week by Peter Sostilio of Langley rd., Newton Centre. Sostilio told Patrolman McCormick that a "nigger pool" ticket he had bought from Malocca had hit the winning numbers, but that Malocca had refused to pay him the $350 the ticket had won. Malocca denied he had sold the ticket to Sostilio, but specimens of his handwriting convinced Judge Mayberry that he was guilty.

55th Year of Summer School of Music at Lasell Jr. College

The 55th year of the American Institute of Normal Methods offering teacher training courses in school music will begin its intensive three weeks' session at Lasell Junior College, Auburndale, on Wednesday morning, July 6. Advance enrollment includes supervisors and special teachers of music and high school graduates studying for music teaching in the schools from fifteen states and Canada.

The Junior Division, of which the Dean is Francis Findlay, head of the Public School Music Department of the New England Conservatory, offers a special curriculum for boys and girls of high school age. This division has been expanded to include the New England Summer Band School, formerly held at Tufts College, with instruction in band and band instruments under the direction of Professor Lawrence Chidester, of the faculty of Tufts College. Recreation features are directed by Mr. and Mrs. Leland Marsh of Melrose, Massachusetts.

As in recent years, the Board of Education of the City of Newton cooperates through opening the Williams School in Auburndale in order that children of the town from the first grade through the junior high school may take advantage of special music courses for two weeks beginning Monday, July 11. Children enrolled in these classes will take part in the American Folk Festival to be held on the campus of Lasell, Saturday, July 23. The public is cordially invited to attend these programs.

On Sunday evening, July 17 at 7:30, a special program will be presented in the beautiful new auditorium of Lasell Junior College in memory of two members of the faculty, Francis G. French, of Wellesley Farms, formerly assistant supervisor of Music in the schools of Boston, and Stella Marsk Cushing, formerly of Arlington, Mass., and Montclair, New Jersey, whose work in the field of folk festivals gained for her national and international recognition.

The faculty includes Dr. Osborne McConathy, Director, Mrs. Nellie W. Shaw, Mr. Stanley Hassell, Mr. C. Paul Herfurth, Mrs. Esther Stevens Kendall, Miss Grace G. Pierce, Miss Andronike Mekelatos, Miss Harriette M. Perkins, Miss Sadie Rafferty, Miss Mabel S. Reed, Mrs. Alma Holton Rich, Mr. Ippocrates Pappoutsakis, Mr. Carl Burgstaller, Mr. William O'Shaughnessy, Mr. Harold B. Swindells, Miss Grace Ullenyer, and Mr. Lawrence R. White.

Newton Men Will Speak At New England Institute

Among the distinguished sponsors of the New England Institute of International Relations, which opened Tuesday, June 28, on the Wellesley College Campus for an 11-day session are: Rev. Dwight J. Bradley, professor of social ethics at Andover-Newton Theological School and newly elected director of the Council for Social Action of the Congregational-Christian Churches; Rev. Everett C. Horrick, president of Andover-Newton Theological School, and Dr. Kirtley F. Maier, of the geology department of Harvard University.

Robert Evatt of Mount Louise, Ireland, owned a pup which was a cross between an old Irish wolf-dog and a bloodhound. The pup grew up to be an incorrigible destroyer of Mr. Evatt's inoffensive but valuable flock of sheep. Though strongly attached to the dog, after summing up the losses from his sheep, he decided that he could not afford to keep the marauder.

On his next trip to Dublin, Mr. Evatt took his dog with him intending to give the animal to a friend. He kept putting off the moment when he would have to part with his canine friend. He was standing in front of a hotel debating with himself whether or not he would take the animal back home and make one more attempt to break him of his sheep killing when a carriage drew up and stopped in front of the door.

Suddenly the dog broke from his master and ran towards the parked carriage. Grabbing something from the floor of the vehicle the dog turned and ran down the street. After a fatiguing chase he was caught, and reluctantly surrendered a small robe made of sheepskin. Mr. Evatt quickly sought out his friend after that episode and left his dog with his new master.

Years ago in England and other foreign countries dog owners made a practice of branding their initials on their dogs as a means of identification and protection against theft.

This was done chiefly by owners of large packs of hounds or other hunting dogs, though often the owner of one dog had his pet branded. The initials were approximately six or seven inches in height and could be distinguished easily at a great distance.

Many owners of long haired dogs have their pets clipped during the summer months under the impression that the animals are better able thus to endure the hot weather. Long haired dogs should never be clipped either in the spring or summer. A dog allowed to keep his natural coat is much cooler and better off in every way compared to the clipped animal.

A dog does not perspire through its skin as do humans, but through its lungs.

A clipped dog is bothered by gnats and flies and other stinging insects that normally his natural coat would protect him from. Some owners think clipping will save the animals from being tormented by fleas. Not only will they have just as many fleas but they will also be bothered by other insects.

A dog's coat serves to diffuse the rays of the sun and keep them from penetrating into his body. If your pet could speak he would request that you give him a good brushing every day during the warm weather, instead of having him clipped.

A dog that has the habit of killing chickens presents a problem to its owner not easily remedied. One of the best curative methods is to take a large portion of freshly killed chicken and tie it securely with wire to the dog's collar. Tie it to the top of his collar on the back of his neck so that he will not be able to reach it with his paws or mouth. Do not remove it for five or six days, after which time the odor of chicken will be forever after loathsome to the dog.

Another method, that may be tried first, is to take a freshly killed fowl and saturate it with pepper and mustard and leave it where it will be found by the dog. Many dogs also have the habit of stealing and eating eggs. To correct this take an empty egg shell, fill it with pepper and mustard. After breaking one or two of these specially prepared eggs I am sure you will find that your pet will be cured of egg stealing.

Question: I have an Irish setter male dog that I wish to offer at stud. Is it necessary for me to secure a license of any kind to do this?—T. L. N. Jr.

Answer: You do not have to secure a license of any kind to offer a dog at stud.

Question: I have a dog which is deaf. Will her puppies also be deaf if I should breed her?—E. B.

Answer: If your dog was born deaf the chances are that her puppies would also be born deaf. Hereditary deafness is passed on. If your dog became deaf by accident or sickness after birth, she will not pass this defect on to her puppies.

These concerts are sponsored by the Federal Music Project, William Haddon, State Director.

Fined $10 For Driving On Left

Herbert Shapiro of 29 Gralyn rd., Newton Centre, was fined $10 by Judge Mayberry in the Newton court on Wednesday for driving to the left of center on a street. Shapiro was also charged with driving after his license had been suspended for 30 days. He was found not guilty on this charge when he produced an envelope in which the suspension notice had been mailed and which he stated had not been delivered to him until after his arrest. The envelope had originally been mailed without postage and was returned to the Registry of Motor Vehicles for a stamp, thus delaying it. Patrolmen Smith and Turner testified against Shapiro.

In court on Wednesday Gerardo Pellegrino of 12 Green court, Nonantum, was fined $5 for speeding.

Incendiary Fire At Newton

The unoccupied house at 77 Arlington st., Newton, was badly damaged on Wednesday night by fire. The fire was detected by Miss Vyriling Rawson of Marlboro st. who noticed flames flickering in the building as she passed by, although the shades had been pulled down. She hastened to the home of George Wilson at 99 Arlington st. and Mr. Wilson telephoned fire alarm headquarters at 10:42. At 10:47 an alarm was pulled from Box 113. When the firemen arrived they found two fires had been set in the house. One, under the front stairway, burned up through the building. The other fire, set in a closet in a rear bedroom on the second floor, was confined to the room in which it started. Six weeks ago another fire was set in the building but it was extinguished before much damage resulted. The house was formerly owned by the Holbrook family and is now owned by the Winchendon Savings Bank.

Police Catch Two Burglars at Newton

Patrolmen McEnaney, Joseph Whelan and William Whelan of the Newton police caught two burglars early last Saturday morning as the pair were about to enter the home of Robert Markson at 20 Watertown road, Newton. Miss Margaret Lyons of 207 Waverley avenue heard someone removing screens from rear windows of the nearby Markson house and she telephoned police headquarters. A radio call was sent out and the three policemen in a cruising car hastened to the scene. Drawing their revolvers the police surrounded the house and surprised two men about to enter the house. One was boosting the other through a kitchen window that had been forced open. The captives gave their names as Raymond Hamilton, 31, 470 Tremont street, Boston, and Thomas Savage, 20, of Brook Road, Quincy. Two screens had been taken off windows. The two alleged burglars were arraigned in the Newton court on Saturday morning and Judge Allen held them in $1000 bail each for the Grand Jury.

Suspect Arrested At Race Track

Hugh Burns, formerly a chauffeur for Harry Barrett of 1445 Commonwealth ave., West Newton, was arrested by Sergeant Burke and Inspector Hamill of the Newton police. Burns disappeared on Feb. 13 and at the same time jewelry and other articles valued at $953 vanished from the home of his employer. On May 19 Burns obtained a new automobile on approval from the Hayward Motor Co. of Boston and failed to return it. Newton police were tipped off that he was frequenting the Suffolk Downs race track where he was caught by the Newton officers. In addition to larceny charges Burns was also charged with non-support of his wife and child who reside on Parmenter rd., West Newton. He was bound over for the Grand Jury.

Roxbury Youth Drowns in Charles

William Kelley, 19, of 87 Quincy street, Roxbury, was drowned on Sunday evening in the Charles River between Norumbega Park and the Riverside bridge, when the canoe in which he and two companions were riding capsized. A passing canoeist hastened to the Metropolitan police station at Norumbega and gave the alarm. Patrolmen Landry and Ward went to the scene in a motor launch and after grappling for Kelley's body for about a half hour, recovered it. Kelley had completed his freshman year at Boston College last month.

Fall Fatal To Aged New Woman

Miss Sarah Little of 15 Webster st., Newton Centre, died on July 5 as the result of a fall down stairs at her home on July 4th. She received a crushed chest and fractured hip. Miss Little was born in Roxbury 83 years ago and had lived 82 years in Newton. Funeral services were held on July 7 and interment was at Forest Hills.

Driver Sleeps, Hits Tree on Turnpike

At 5:45 a. m. on Thursday Frederick Wells of Dwight st., Boston, fell asleep while driving his car on the turnpike at Newton Highlands. The car hit a tree opposite 1026 Boylston st., crossed two yards and hit another tree. Wells received injuries to his head and face and to his right arm and leg. He was taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance.

Fined $35 For Drunken Driving

William H. Osgood of New York City was fined $35 in the Newton Court on Thursday for driving while under the influence of liquor. He was arrested at 3 a. m. Thursday when Patrolmen Madden and Fitzsimmons noticed his car zigzagging on the Turnpike at Upper Falls.

Do You Realize That

A goodly share of your Christmas Seal money is helping fourteen children to regain their health for a period of eight weeks at the newly erected Newton Health Camp at Lake Massapoag in Sharon.

These children, all of school age, are enrolled by joint decision of Middlesex Doctors and Welfare Departments at a clinic held at the Newton Hospital.

Each child is under weight and either has been tubercular or has been living in close contact with some tubercular person in the home within the past four or five years.

Occasionally, a few extra dollars must be spent on special cases of tuberculosis or on the purchase of necessary clothing.

Your purchase of 1937 Christmas Health Seals has made this work possible, and it is only through your co-operation during the coming season, that Newton can still stand among the leaders in this fight against tuberculosis.

These children need your help.

Your co-operation in the coming year's sale, is indeed necessary. In order that this work, together with other projects, may be carried on.

Your opportunity to help lies in the purchase of Christmas Seals for the season of 1938-39.

Dr. Johnson To Preach at Union Services

For the next two Sundays at the Union Church services being held in Central Church, Newtonville, by the churches of Newtonville, West Newton and Auburndale, the preacher will be Dr. R. Park Johnson, formerly of the Presbyterian Church of Yeadon, Pennsylvania. Dr. Johnson is preaching in the absence of Dr. Radcliffe, who will be back on July 24. Dr. Radcliffe's first appearance last Sunday brought out a large and inspiring before the holiday attendance.

DR. R. PARK JOHNSON

The committee of ministers in charge of the summer programs is very much pleased to have the assistance of Dr. Johnson. He is a graduate of Princeton, Yale Divinity School, the University of Edinburgh, and the University of Marburg. In August he leaves this country for Tehran, Iran, where he is to head the English Department of Alborz College. While he is in the Newtons Dr. Johnson will live at the Brae Burn Country Club and will assist the parishes in any calls which are made upon him. The subject of his sermon is "Religion: Man's Struggle or God's Power."

The quartet consisting of Theima L. Rundlett, soprano; John C. Rundlett, bass; Harriet M. Furish, alto, and Beverly Ottaway, tenor, and director, will sing. Miss Lillian West will be at the organ. The musical selections are: "The Woods and Every Sweet Smelling Tree" by West and "God is a Spirit" by Bennett.

Visitors are cordially invited to the service which starts at 11 o'clock.

Newton Centre Man Saves Swimmer

Edward L. Winslow of 103 Ripley street, Newton Centre, last Saturday saved Gordon Palmer of Webster street, Needham, from drowning. Palmer fell into the Charles river from a launch near the Warren avenue bridge, Boston. Winslow, who was in another boat nearby, jumped into the water and kept Palmer afloat until he was dragged into a small boat by Richard Lawson of Natick, owner of the launch from which Palmer fell.

Legion Field Day Largely Attended

The annual field day of Newton Post, American Legion, held on July 4th at Claffin Field, Newtonville, was attended by several thousand persons. Frank Gaw was chairman of the general committee. The various contests were supervised by Commander Sherman Irving, and Leon Mayer was in charge of the midway. The automobile offered as the grand prize was won by T. F. Leahy of Hingham. A bicycle was won by C. D. Ballou of South Lincoln and a radio by Joseph McDermott of Waltham. Frances Molloy of Dorchester won the baby contest for girls under 1 year, and David Wood of 872 Watertown st., West Newton, was the prize boy in that class. The contests for babies between 1 and 2 years was won by Anna Overlander of 51 Bernard st., Newton Highlands and Lloyd Tarlin, Jr., of 458 Lowell ave., Newtonville. In the contests for children between 2 and 3 years of age, these were won by Ruth Pais of South Natick and Charles D. Merriam, 3rd, of 920 Walnut st., Newton Highlands.

The Band of Newton Post under the direction of Dr. Thomas Dowd played during the afternoon and evening and there was a display of fireworks at night. The proceeds of the affair will be used to help pay the expenses of the drill team of Newton Post to the coming Legion convention at Los Angeles.

Charged With Reckless Driving

James Murphy of Elmwood st., Roxbury, was arraigned in the Newton court on Wednesday charged with driving to endanger. On June 26 a car driven by him collided at Needham and Winchester sts., Newton Highlands, with a car driven by Arthur Baker of Wellesley. Mrs. Baker was injured in the crash. Captain Goode of the Newton police asked for a continuance because the woman was not able to appear due to her injury. Murphy's attorney argued heatedly against the continuance, but Judge Allen compromised by hearing the testimony of two witnesses who were present in court and then continuing the trial until July 12.

Charge 4 Women With Shoplifting

Four Nonantum women, all residents of Adams st., were arraigned in the Waltham court on Tuesday charged with shoplifting. Last Saturday night Mrs. Carmela Annivelli, 35, of Adams st., was arrested in a Waltham store after she had been detained by employees of the store who alleged she had merchandise in her possession which she had not paid for. Later, the Waltham police obtained complaints against the three other women—Mrs. Phyllis Esposito, 32, of 194 Adams st.; Mrs. Angelina Saia, 38, 210 Adams st.; Mrs. Jennie Antonellis, 39, 192 Adams st. Judge Crafts continued the cases.

To Collect Ragweed During Week of July 18

Aim To Alleviate Many Hay Fever Sufferers

Destroying all ragweed, the cause of much suffering to about 65 per cent of the population, according to the United States Public Health Service, is the aim in Newton of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs. This campaign is sponsored by the Division of Conservation and Gardens of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs.

Nearly all the hay fever is caused by the wind-borne pollen of ragweed. Autumn hay fever begins in this region about August 24th, when the weed first pollinates, and lasts until the frost kills the weed some time in October. By preventing ragweed from blooming and forming pollen, an enormous amount of suffering can be obviated. If cutting or hand-pulling is delayed until flower buds have formed, pollen will ripen on the severed plants. Such plants should be burned. Experience has revealed the fact that a regrowth of ragweed was always possible resulting from breaking the stalks and not pulling the plants out by the roots. At maturity the flowers release large quantities of yellow pollen, which floats on a moderate wind for long distances, and in a strong wind is often carried for miles.

Mayor Edwin O. Childs will provide trucks and men to gather the baskets of ragweed, during the week of July 18. Mrs. Edmund I. Wilson, 41 Aspen ave., Auburndale, chairman of the committee, has asked for reports on growth of ragweed along highways and vacant lots. Other members of the committee are Mrs. Donald V. Baker, Mrs. Theodore O. Bjornson, Mrs. Raymond Capobianco, Mrs. C. David Gordon, Mrs. Ralph N. Hall, Mrs. Howard O. Winslow and Mrs. Mark A. Dawson.

Gallagher Again Kiwanis Trustee

James P. Gallagher, clerk of the Newton district court, was re-elected a member of the Board of Trustees of Kiwanis at the international convention held in San Francisco last week. He will serve for the coming two years. The 1939 Kiwanis convention will be held in Boston and it is expected that 10,000 delegates will attend.

Another Collision At Danger Spot

Cars driven by Lewis Duggan of Hunnewell st., Wellesley, and Marion Pike of Halycon rd., Newton Centre, collided Tuesday afternoon at the dangerous underpass on Chestnut st., and the turnpike, Upper Falls. Mrs. Henry Goddough of 136 Clark st., Newton Centre, who was riding with Mrs. Pike, was slightly injured.

POLITICS AND RELIEF

Charges, denials, and counter-charges of the use of relief funds for political purposes have been flung far and wide in discussions of national politics. Now we have the sorry spectacle of similar conditions being manifested in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. Governor Hurley accuses a Republican controlled legislature of "using unfortunate men and women as pawns" and blocking his bond issue for unemployment "to discredit a Democratic administration."

What is the situation? No person in political life is unconscious of the troubles of those out of work or in dire circumstances, whether he be Republican, Democrat, or any other political belief. Prior to adjournment Congress passed a huge relief appropriation bill. Of the sum available it is estimated that nearly two hundred millions of dollars will be spent in Massachusetts under one agency or another, most of which will be for the employment of labor. Boston WPA officials are authority for the statement that Federal funds will at least employ one member of every family that needs assistance of this kind. Their chief concern is for the so-called "white-collar" individual who is not yet taken care of under any disbursement of such funds.

Governor Hurley, a month ago, first sought appropriations of about twenty-three millions of dollars of which some fifteen millions were to be raised by a bond issue. Some of this money was to be distributed to the cities and towns as an offset against an increased state tax caused by the spending of gasoline tax receipts now in the highway fund for additional road work. A majority of the bond issue, however, was to be used for the erection of buildings for insane patients and for a new state prison. In this connection it should be kept in mind that the greater proportion of these latter expenditures would necessarily be for materials and not for labor. Failing in his effort to obtain such appropriations the Governor then attempted a program totaling about seventeen millions of dollars. One million dollars of this sum he planned to hold as a reserve for emergency relief work, to be expended under a board comprised of various individuals in official positions, but any project they approved must have further approval of the chairman of the Emergency Finance Board.

This program also met defeat. Is it any wonder that the legislature, controlled as the Governor claims, by the opposition party, refused to countenance such a program when so much of it seems readily adaptable for use as a political campaign fund? And is it any wonder that the same legislature, still mindful of its experiences of three short years ago when Governor Curley managed to obtain a financial program which built miles of sidewalks edged with granite curbs, many of which are seldom, if at all, used by pedestrians, should refuse to make such use of public funds? And is it any wonder that the legislature rejected the Governor's programs when many times the amounts he asked will be spent by Federal agencies for practically the same or similar work.

There can be but one of two answers to the Governor's attempt to place the responsibility of unemployment relief upon the Republican party after eighteen months in the office of Chief Executive during ten of which he has seen unemployment increase considerably. One answer is that the Governor is politically concerned over his own chances of re-election. This opinion is given additional importance when it is realized that former Governor Curley, who spent considerable public funds yet later met political defeat, will probably be one of the present Governor's chief opponents for the party nomination. The second answer is that the Governor's contention that the Republican party is responsible is an effort to seize upon an issue for fear that if it were reversed it would cause him political embarrassment. Many times political advantage is gained by hurling charges against opponents before such charges are first hurled by them. Yet often in such cases these unsound charges become boomerangs of utmost importance.

Whichever of these answers one cares to accept a logical result of any reasoning is that any funds that the Governor may obtain stand every chance of being used where political advantage may be gained. The sooner both Democrats and Republicans quit playing politics with relief and get down to sound business principles, balanced budgets, expenditures not more than income and more just and equitable tax burden, the sooner will the state and nation embark on an employment program which will go far toward eliminating many of our present problems of this character.

Rotary Club

The Newton Rotary Club enjoyed a meeting with the Watertown Club on Tuesday, July 5, at the Winsor Club, Watertown. Harry Smith, recently elected president of the Watertown Club, was the presiding officer, welcoming the visitors. Harry Bascom, vice-president, in the absence of President Ellicker of Newton, responded briefly. Dr. Frank Clark and Horace Orr were greeted on their return from the international conference at San Francisco.

Carl C. Low, of the Display Department of the G. F. Schrafft Company, showed interesting moving pictures of historic Boston and of the Schrafft plant at Sullivan sq., Charlestown, the largest and most modern candy factory in the world. It was a most interesting story of the many products from all over the world which go into the making of candy. The remarkable machinery of the Charlestown plant, the laboratory experiments, the excellent methods of sanitation, the highly trained factory personnel—all of these things and many more made a moving and instructive story. In no other country is the making of candy such a large industry as in the United States, where sixty pounds of candy are consumed per capita each year, which is twice that of any other country.

At the Braeburn Country Club next Monday, former President Clark will report on the San Francisco meetings.

Saves Dog, Wrecks Car, Injures Man

A car driven by Pasquale Cappello, 22, of 51 Oak avenue, West Newton, hit a tree on Cypress street, Newton Centre on Sunday evening at 5:30. The car was badly damaged and George Howley of 428 Parker street, Newton Centre, who was riding with Cappello, received cuts and bruises on his face. He was taken to the Newton Hospital in a police car. Cappello reported that he swerved the car to avoid hitting a dog.

Speeders Fined In Newton Court

In the Newton court last Friday several motorists were fined $5 each for speeding. Among them were Joseph Liechtenstein, 11 Garner st., Newton Centre; John Killam, Linden st., Brookline; William McNeil, Everett st., Brookline; and Irving Newcross, 329 Lake ave., Newton Highlands, was dismissed because the defendant had gone to the hospital for an appendectomy.

COOLIDGE CORNER THEATRE, BROOKLINE

Katharine Hepburn, co-starred with Cary Grant, comes to the Coolidge Corner Theatre, Brookline, on Friday, July 8th, for a week's run in "Holiday," the screen version of the Philip Barry stage success.

"Holiday" is the story of a young debutante, stifled by wealth and family position, confused by the crowded and meaningless activity of a socialite's life, who falls in love with a young man with a sense of humor. He is more of a proportion. He thinks there is more to life than the accumulating of money, and he intends to continue his career no longer than he has to. He wants to retire while he is young and can still enjoy life. Miss Nolan is seen as another member of the wealthy Seton family. Her gods are family position and a fat bank account, and she has no desire to abandon them for love. Lew Ayres is the inebricate younger brother of Miss Hepburn and Miss Nolan, a boy who finds alcohol a pleasant substitute for the pleasure life should have given him but didn't. Henry Kolker is the complacent father. In the cast supporting Katharine Hepburn and Cary Grant are Edward Everett Horton, Binnie Barnes, Doris Nolan, Lew Ayres, Jean Dixon and Henry Kolker. Katharine Hepburn is brilliant in "Holiday." Equally brilliant is Cary Grant, greater in this picture than he was in "The Awful Truth" in which he was excellent. Now he reaches close to the greatest portrayal of his career in "Holiday."

The excellent comedy co-feature on this outstanding program is "There's Always a Woman" starring Joan Blondell and Melvyn Douglas. A thin thread of mystery weaves through the story of "There's Always a Woman" the picture adapted to the screen from the Wilson Collison magazine story, of the same name. The plot brings to center the mad antics of a bewildering young blonde wife who starts out to prove to her detective-husband that she, too, can be a Sherlockian sleuth. This wild-eyed situation arises when Douglas bequeaths his defunct private detective agency to his spirited wife and returns to his former post with the District Attorney. Soon after wards a murder occurs in which friend husband finds his investigations considerably hampered by the counter-moves made by his wife, representing the accused. Affairs for the harassed Douglas reach such a state that he must obtain a warrant to search his own home for an incriminating letter obtained by John and wanted by the police. Mary Astor and Francis Drake are prominently featured in the supporting cast, which includes Robert Paige, Jerome Cowan and Thurston Hall.

In addition to the two comedy features on this all-laugh week program, there will be the latest Coolidge Corner Theatre Newscast, presenting the latest news events of the day, both foreign and domestic. Our cooling plant is now in operation. Enjoy a good show here, every week in "cool comfort." Make this theatre your summer resort. Relax in cool surroundings of absolute refinement. Make the Cool Coolidge Corner Theatre a weekly habit. Watch this newspaper for announcement of a surprise show coming during the week starting Friday, July 15th.

Letters To The Editor

WAR IS HOMICIDE!

To the Editor:

Any reactions from readers of the Newton Graphic to my letter of May 6 in which I propounded that even our two traditionally glorious wars, the Revolutionary and the Civil, were blunders and disasters? I have noted no response in your columns. May I infer the general acceptance of my proposition? Or was my contention deemed preposterous and hence unworthy of notice?

The position of the thoroughgoing pacifist requires but one postulate, and that sole foundation few, if any, will dispute. It is simply that, generally speaking, a living human being is preferable to a corpse. I say "generally speaking," thus allowing individual exceptions. For there may be persons so injuriously and hopelessly anti-social that the legal killing of them—that is, capital punishment, seems justified. Yet, in my humble opinion, capital punishment tends to cheapen human life rather than to defend it. But if war meant only, or even chiefly, the killing of criminals, a good deal could be said for it. If it meant the killing off of weaklings, something could be said for it on eugenic grounds.

But the fact is that war means the killing off of a nation's criminals and weaklings, but on the contrary of its best folk, its choicest. War is collective homicide, the deliberate, organized killings of one group of human beings by another group of human beings. In war good, well-meaning, patriotic, even Christian men make it their business to kill equally good, well-meaning, patriotic, even Christian men, each side convinced that it is serving the cause of righteousness. The fitting word for such action is insanity. The notion that it ever brought a net benefit to the people who engaged in it, or to humanity as a whole, is a palpable superstition grosser than belief in witchcraft and a thousand times more harmful. In the nature of the case, whatever the circumstances, collective homicide is the worst possible procedure, the most inhuman, the most asinine.

Of all the damned foolishness that has brought war upon mankind the still almost universally accepted opinion that sometimes collective homicide is the indispensable means of defending truth and righteousness, and of safeguarding and furthering noble ideals, is quite the damndest. In this connection my favorite quotation is from Rousseau's letter to the war-mindful rulers of his day. He said that in order to refrain from war "they do not need to be good, generous, disinterested, public-spirited, humane. They may be unjust, greedy, putting their own interests above everything else; we only ask that they shall not be fools."

It seems a very reasonable and modest demand—merely not to be fools. But the word "fools" seems inadequate in discussing such utter irrationality as war. Suppose we say "damned fools," or, better still, super-damned-fools-plus.

Two Boys Assault And Rob Girl

Two 14-year-old boys, one residing on Harrington st., Newtonville, and the other on Washington st., West Newton, were arrested last Friday afternoon after they had followed Dorothy Mason, 15, of Watertown st., No. nantum, for a considerable distance, knocked her down and had taken her purse from her. The girl is employed at the home of Mrs. Edgar Greene, 14 Loring st., Newton Centre, and was on her way there when she was attacked. As she walked along Blake st. in the Cabot Woods section, the two boys, who were standing near a gravel pit, started to follow her. When she was crossing the former Walworth estate from Mill to Centre sts., one of the boys knocked her down and held her, while the other took her pocketbook. As the girl continued on her way to Loring st., the pair overtook her and returned the purse. Mrs. Greene telephoned police headquarters and a cruising car with Patrolmen William Riley, Hoyt and Taylor, went to the house. They cruised about the vicinity and found the two boys again in the neighborhood of the gravel pit. The pair will be arraigned in the juvenile session of the Newton court today.

Incendiary Fire At Lower Falls

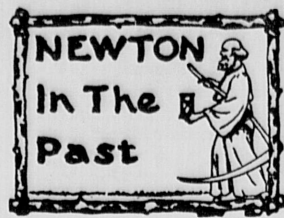

An incendiary fire destroyed a barn at the rear of 60 Pine Grove avenue, Lower Falls last Sunday night. A phone call summoned Engine 6 at 11:15 p.m. and box 531 was pulled a few minutes later. The barn was owned by Mrs. William Allerton. Three false alarms were pulled the night before the "Fourth." Box 2631 at 9:12 p.m. Sunday; Box 352 at 2:22 a.m. and Box 236 at 3:15 a.m. Monday.

NEWTON TWO-FAMILY SOLD

John T. Burns & Sons, Inc., report that final papers have been passed whereby the two-family frame dwelling located at 21 Hillside rd. in the Newton Highlands district, has been conveyed by Mary L. Ward, to Raymond Marchi, who purchases for investment. With the house there is a two-car garage and 9,185 square feet of land and the total assessment is $5500.

John T. Burns & Sons, Inc., represented both parties in this conveyance.

55 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, July 7, 1883
A prominent member of Channing Church has bought a cow.

Frank Brownell has sold a house and lot on Sargent st., Newton to Reuben Demmon for $22,000.

Three-cluster street lamp in front of Eliot Block, Newton is to be moved to the opposite side of Centre st.

New gas lamps of a handsome pattern are being placed in the Newton depot along the walls of the waiting rooms.

No casualties of a serious nature were reported on July 4th. The prohibition of the toy pistol had a salutary effect.

The Suburban Telephone Company has finished the new line through Mill st. to Newton Centre and several more instruments have been put in circuit there. There are now about 140 telephones in use in the city.

The open-air service on the Newton National Bank grounds at Newton next Sunday afternoon at 4 p. m. will be addressed by George Hawkins, superintendent of the Boston Industrial Home; John McCulloch and Stephen Porter of Boston; all reformed men who have suffered bitter experience with intemperance. Two cornets are expected.

A Boston Herald reporter has been investigating suburban almshouses and finds the Newton almshouse in good condition and creditably managed; inmates being comfortably supported at a cost of $1.44 each per week. This is due to Supt. Moody's skill in farming. There are 29 inmates—19 male and 10 female.

At 9 o'clock July 4th morning fire was discovered on the back part of the roof of the house on Waban st., near Pearl st., occupied by Mrs. Benjamin Turner. The fire was caused by a carelessly thrown firecracker and the firemen had to cut through the roof to get at the flames. One of the ladies in the house lost her footing in the attic from faintness and fell through the plaster into the room below. Her sister caught her and saved her from serious injury.

Sunday afternoon was a perfect day for the first of the open air meetings held by the Y. M. C. A. on the bank grounds at Newton. The opening praise service was led by George S. Trowbridge, President Woods read from the Proverbs and Master Willie Elliott sang—"What Shall the Harvest Be?" General John Swift gave a half-hour address on temperance.

Newton has survived another Fourth of July celebrated in the usual heathenish style with no serious result except one dwelling damaged by fire. The disturbance began early the night before, fish horns being sounded in large numbers. From midnight until dawn on the 4th the noise of firecrackers was incessant, though somewhat milder than in past years. The "horrible" parade of the Newton Bicycle Club in the morning was highly successful, about 50 riders took part, arrayed in ludicrous costumes.

The Watertown Enterprise says—"It is reported that a steamer will ply between Boston and the Watertown Arsenal. Who knows but what the future will see the graceful curves of the Charles adorned with parks on either side and delightful drives along the shores, fine mansions a little way off, and all the beauties of nature and art presented as steamers travel up and down the stream. But that must come before Newton turns its sewage matter into the river to blast our natural lives with its pestilential odor."

Our Watertown friends need not be alarmed. Modern sanitary science has provided means of disposing of sewage without polluting rivers, and when Newton disposes of its sewage the most improved methods doubtless will be used.

50 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, July 6, 1888

While Edgar Pitts of Waban st. was firing a horse pistol on July 4th it exploded and tore an ugly wound in his right hand. He was attended by Dr. Utley who took several stitches in the wound.

Frank Liddell, driver of Hose 1, was badly burned about the face and left hand on July 4th by the premature explosion of a small cannon which he was about to touch off in front of the engine house.

John Leavitt of Pearl st. won first prize in the professional swimming race in the Charles River at Boston on July 4th. He finished 100 yards ahead in the quarter-mile race. Walter Hodgdon and Eugene Leavitt were contestants in the amateur race.

There was the usual uproar the night before July 4th. Noise is often mistaken for patriotism even by men, so perhaps the boys cannot be blamed for imitating them. For 364 nights during the year the boys behave, but on this 365th night they burst all restraints. Cannons were fired, bells rung and horns blown, but there was no excuse for breaking gas lamps, blowing up the posts on M. A. Lawton's fence on Franklin st., or pelting with eggs J. Howard Nichol's house on Sargent st. and building a fire on his lawn.

Powers' Paragraphs

Talk about concentration. Wednesday morning as we drove along Thornton st., Newton, we saw a cat stretched out full length in the middle of the street and we supposed it had been run over by some automobile and killed. But, as we drew near we saw the cat was stalking two plump pigeons which were nearby on the sidewalk. So, instead of steering the car to the extreme right of the street to clear the cat, we slowed almost to a complete stop and steered so that the front wheels of the car would be equidistant from the feline, expecting that we would scare it, and thus save one of the pigeons. The cat fooled us. Looking out the back window of the car we saw that the bird which apparently had not moved an inch as the automobile passed above it, and its tail was nervously twitching as it appeared to leap at its prey.

Over the past week-end we took our annual motor trip to Coaticook, Quebec, and the Eastern Townships section. One of the attractions on this journey is the trip going North through Franconia Notch and the White Mountain Forest Reservation. This area was acquired by the Federal government in 1911 as a national park, largely through the efforts of John W. Weeks. It was intended to preserve it in all its natural beauty, unspoiled by the intrusion of commercial activities in the shape of lunch rooms, filling stations, souvenir stands and the like. Billboards were also taboo in the region. Until recently this intent has been followed. But, the bars apparently have been let down and unless the people protest sufficiently, this outstanding scenic attraction of New England will be perverted from its unspoiled, natural beauty so that a favored few may profit.

Several years ago a large frame structure was built near the Profile. This building contains needed sanitary facilities and no objections can reasonably be offered against it, even though a concession for a souvenir and refreshment business was included in it. But, within the past couple of years a small refreshment stand was built by the side of the road through the Notch, and now a large, frame building is nearly completed a short distance beyond Echo Lake. Outside this building, which is located on a curve and a very steep grade, we saw lying on the ground two large tanks. So, we assumed that there will be a filling station, in addition to other business there. We hope our assumption is wrong and we have taken means to find out for just what purpose this new building will be used.

Residents in the Farlow Hill section of Newton are concerned over the subdivision of a piece of property on Kendrick st. into three small lots with a frontage of only 50 feet and a depth of about 100 feet, and the plan to erect three small houses on these little lots. The same thing is occurring in all parts of the city and unless checked will mean the speedy deterioration of the more attractive neighborhoods of Newton, and the end of Newton's priority as a residential community with few equals in this or any other country. These undesirable developments are being made by outside promoters who care little for the future of this city. The Planning Board and the Board of Aldermen should without delay cooperate in the passing of an ordinance which will place reasonable restrictions on the size of house lots; such restrictions to be governed by the character of the various neighborhoods affected. An attempt made a year or two ago to restrict house lots in Oak Hill to 20,000 square feet was turned down, but in many sections of the city it would not be unreasonable or impractical to have 10,000 or 12,000 square feet as the minimum area of a house lot.

Ulysses G. Wheeler was a conscientious gentleman who for many years served in a modest manner as superintendent of schools in Newton. It would be a fitting tribute to him to name the new street leading to the Oak Hill School "Wheeler Road." But why has no action been taken by the Playground Commission or the Mayor on the suggestion made two years ago to name the playground adjoining the school—"Hurley Playground" as a tribute to the late Gobinet Hurley and members of her family who donated much of the land for the playground, and who have been respected residents of that locality for three generations? The suggestion to have the playground so named was made originally by persons prominent for years in the Oak Hill Improvement Association.

A Newton business man who is an expert and careful driver of automobiles, and who has been in the automotive business for many years, asked us to comment on the dangerous practice which has been in use by Mid-dlesex & Boston buses of stopping at the West side of the blind bridge along Washington st. This gentleman said that recently a bus which had stopped at the Richardson st. bridge nearly collided with his car when it started up. He suggests that the buses stop at the easterly side of the bridge instead of the westerly as they proceed from West Newton toward Newton Corner. He says that in New York City the rule for buses to stop at the further side of an intersecting street instead of the nearer.

A couple of persons have called our attention to the condition of the fences along Washington st., adjoining the Boston & Albany railroad. These fences in many places are either broken or dilapidated and offer no barrier to keep children from walking onto the railroad tracks. They should be replaced with wire fences. We have also been told that the fence between Washington st. and the Charles River, at Wales st., was also in a dangerous condition.

Recently at a convention of social workers in Boston the contention was made that women and girls who transgress the laws or who need disciplinary advice should be dealt with by women social workers and probation officers. Any reasonable person will agree with this. It is equally reasonable to contend that boys in their teens should be under the supervision of men social workers and probation officers. A tough boy of 15 or 16 isn't awed or impressed very much by a corrective lecture delivered by some woman.

Japan makes the boast that during the past year of carnage in China its army has slaughtered 1,300,000 Chinese. Japan exports 90% of the narcotics illegally smuggled into this country. Japan sends 90% of the silk used in this country. Most of this silk is used in the manufacture of silk stockings. So, it is up to the women and girls of the U. S. A. to curb the growing power of Japan and its menace in the future to Western civilization and the U. S. A. in particular by ceasing to purchase silk stockings.

Eastern railroads have been granted permission to raise passenger fares from 2 cents to 2½ cents per mile. Assuming that the railroads will take advantage of this ruling the result will be that much of the increased passenger traffic which followed the drop in fares a couple of years ago from 4c to 2c per mile will be lost to the railroads. Many of the people in poor or moderate circumstances who prefer to travel by railroad and have been doing so on the 2c per mile basis, will again travel by bus. It is true that the railroads are in a desperate financial condition; but a large percentage are and have been in the red. Persons who are middle aged or beyond remember how avaricious and unprincipled financiers "watered" railroad stocks a generation and more ago and started the financial decline of these public utilities.

In the years since the World War the matter of wages has been one of the vital factors in the railroad problem. Greatly underpaid 25 and more years ago, the four big brotherhoods of railroad employees through effective organization had their wages increased until they became among the highest paid workers in this country. Although they realize that the railroads have been in precarious circumstances for years, the members of the brother-

Star Market Wins Approval For Safe Driving

In the Commercial Vehicle Accident Reduction Contest, for 1938, sponsored by the Massachusetts Safety Council, the truck drivers of the Star Markets, delivering from the Watertown, Newtonville, and Wellesley stores, have established a 100% record for safe driving. In the first four months of the contest covered by the Council's most recent official report, not a single Star Market driver has been involved in even a minor accident.

During the four-months' period, the 23 Star Market trucks have been on the road a total of 14,000 hours and have driven approximately 200,000 miles, a distance equalling more than 8 times the circumference of the earth.

In recognition of the spirit of cooperation which the drivers are showing, as well as the customer-goodwill resulting, the Star Market Company is tendering them and their wives and sweethearts a dinner, on next Monday evening, July 11th, at the Coconut Grove, in Boston. It is expected that more than fifty will attend. And, while no speeches have been planned, there will, undoubtedly, be numerous spontaneous remarks by some of the drivers, telling of their experiences and the special efforts they have been making to give the Star Market the enviable, accident-free record which has won the hearty approval, not only of the Massachusetts Safety Council, but also of the residents of the many communities in which the three Star Markets deliver foods.

Auburndale House Entered and Looted

The home of Winthrop Stiles, 11 Brae Burn Road, Auburndale was entered over the week-end and looted of jewelry, clothing and other articles. The burglary was discovered by Mrs. Stiles on Monday. A window in the sun porch was broken to gain entrance to the house. The burglar included a pair of shoes in his loot, and left behind a pair of rubber sneakers which he had been wearing. Another burglary in Auburndale was that at the home of Mrs. Harry Philbrick, 1839 Washington street, which was entered on Saturday afternoon. A watch and a pair of gold cuff links were taken there.

NEWTON YOUTHS WIN TWO TENNIS TITLES

Newton youths are again making the headlines in the tennis world with Albert Everts, Donald Manchester and Leslie Lowry leading the way. Everts, known to his chums as "Sonny," staged a grand comeback last Saturday to feature the concluding match of the day in the Massachusetts state open junior championships at the Longwood Cricket Club. The Newtonville youth, after being on the brink of defeat several times finally toppled Arthur Prochaska of Hartford, Conn., in a gruelling five set match, 8-6, 6-8, 3-6, 8-6, 6-1.

The will to win was Everts' mainstay as he not only conquered his opponent but also conquered the continual urge to rest his weary and painfully blistered feet. Throughout the match he displayed a steady brand of tennis, making some excellent retrieves and returns of the smashing service of his husky opponent. In the first set he dropped the first three games and then fought back to even terms at 5 all. Twice he stayed off set point in the 12th game, then rallied to 6-4 and swept the next two games for the first set at 8-6. The next set he dropped by the same score with service being broken repeatedly. Footsore and weary under a blazing sun he dropped the third set in a 6-3 set and it looked as though Prochaska might easily run out the match in the next set.

No one took into account Everts' blistered feet, however. He was far from done or down even though the third set went to 1-5 against him after he took his own service in the opening game of the set. He won his own service again to start the uphill climb, broke through Prochaska's service twice and his own twice more to take a 6-5 lead. The Connecticut youth faded to even it all but then gradually warmed as Everts gathered momentum for the final sprint. Everts' win of the next two games and the fourth set to make it 2 sets each just about broke Prochaska's spirit and the final and deciding set was easy for the Newtonville high school star which he romped through to win at 6-1.

Even this was not enough tennis for Everts. Transferring to the doubles court he teamed with his schoolmate Don Manchester in the final of the state junior doubles. Playing against Don Martin and Bob Freedman another five set match was finally won by the latter. This match was featured by a comeback by the victors after being behind two to one. The scores of this match were 6-3, 3-6, 3-6, 6-3, 6-3.

Playing in the Central Massachusetts junior tennis championships at Worcester this week Don Manchester teamed with Leslie Lowry to capture the doubles title. In doing so they defeated the top-seeded pair of Bill Power and Francis Sharry of Worcester. Power is the State high school champion having bested the Newton player two months ago in the annual scholastic tourney. Power also retained his Central Mass. junior singles title by defeating Manchester. In the semi-finals Manchester won over Donald Stearns of Wellesley to gain the final round. Power's victory came in a three set match, 8-6, 2-6, 6-1. The doubles title went to the Newton pair in two sets, 6-3, 6-4.

Wittens at Buffalo

The inability of Leslie Pawson, outstanding marathon runner, to make the trip to the national A. U. championships at Buffalo last Saturday gave Warren Wittens, former Newton High star hurdler, the opportunity to make his first trip as a selection of the N. E. A. A. U. officials. Wittens captured the 220-yard hurdles at Lynn last week for the third consecutive year and although in the opinion of many, clearly entitled to make the trip was passed over for the second time. Two years ago he made the trip at his own expense, won the junior title and competed in the senior event. News reports of last Saturday's events failed to show that he placed in his specialty.

Needed More Moisture

As far back as 1780 Benjamin Franklin, realizing the need of more moisture in heated homes, included a crude evaporator pan in his famous "Franklin stove." A century later Joseph McCreary of Toledo, Ohio, patented an air washer and cooler, and in 1906 two engineers, working independently, developed mechanisms for the automatic control of humidity in the air. At the turn of the century the goal of researchers was the development of machinery for giving the proper degree of moisture in cotton textile plants and other factories where humidity affected production, but shortly thereafter it was discovered that space could be chilled for human comfort.

Recent Weddings

FRYE-COPELAND

The marriage of Miss Eunice Mary Copeland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Pitblade Copeland of 42 Austin st., Newtonville, and Robert Andrew Fyre, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard H. Fyre of 35 Bridge st., Newton, took place Thursday night, June 30th, at the North Congregational Church, Newton, the single ring ceremony being performed by the pastor, Rev. Martin L. Goslin.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Wm. P. Copeland, Jr., wore a white mousseline de soie gown with puff sleeves and a full skirt, trimmed with the same material. Her silk bridal illusion veil was caught with lilies of the valley and she carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley.

She was attended by her sister, Ida Emily Copeland of Newtonville, as maid of honor, who wore a pink dress and a tiara of pink rosebuds with a pink head-veil and carrying pink roses and blue delphinium tied with a wide blue ribbon. The bridesmaids, who wore blue dresses with blue head-veils and carried yellow roses and blue larkspur tied in yellow-gold ribbon, were Dorothy E. Copeland, another sister of the bride, and Miss E. E. Shine of Newtonville, and Arline F. Brewer of West Newton.

Edwin Louis Fyre was his brother's best man and the ushers included John Harris of Waltham, head usher, and Arnold Davis and Howard Vosburg. The wedding march was played by Clendenning Smith. The candle-lighted altar was decorated with baskets of hydrangeas and pink and white roses. The candles were lighted by Miss Elizabeth Fyre, sister of the bridegroom.

Similar decorations were in the vestry where a reception followed the ceremony. In the receiving line were the bride couple, their parents, the best man, maid of honor and bridesmaids.

The bride's mother wore a cornflower blue lace gown with a corsage of sweet peas, while Mrs. Fyre chose peach lace over burnt orange.

Among those present were Mayor and Mrs. Edwin O. Childs and relatives and friends from Milton, Dorchester, Walpole and Cliftondale.

After a two weeks' automobile trip to New York and Canada Mr. Fyre and his bride will reside at Jackson rd., Newton. They will be at home after July 25.

The bride is a graduate of Newton High School, 1937, and the groom, who is a civil engineer for the city of Newton, is a graduate of Newton High School and attended Northeastern University.

SHEARON-ROGERS

Miss Eileen Joan Rogers, daughter of Mrs. Francis E. Rogers of 398 Waltham st., West Newton, and the late Mr. Rogers, was married to Bernard Francis Shearon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard F. Shearon of Aruba, Netherlands, at ten o'clock on Monday morning, July 4, in St. Bernard's Church, West Newton. Rev. Thomas L. Boland performed the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Dr. Leo A. Rogers. She wore a gown of white silk jersey made on empire lines. Her veil of tulle was caught to a headpiece of the silk jersey and she carried a white prayer book with two white orchids and streamers of lilies of the valley. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. John E. Malony of Newton Centre, as matron of honor, who wore blue chiffon and a leghorn hat with blue accessories and carried yellow roses. Miss Ann Constance Rogers, another sister of the bride, was the bridesmaid. She wore yellow net and carried a bouquet of cornflowers.

Robert E. Shearon, brother of the groom, of Ft. Wayne, Indiana, was the best man. The ushers were Robert F. Lally of Worcester, brother-in-law of the bride, and Hugh Barnes Rogers, her brother.

Miss Claire Sylvia Rogers, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Wallace Haley, a former college mate, were the soloists. A reception was held at the home of the bride's mother. Mrs. Rogers wore black and white marquisette and a black hat.

On their return from a wedding trip to the White Mountains and South America, Mr. and Mrs. Shearon will reside in Aruba, N. W. I. after August 1.

The bride attended Walnut Park Academy, Mt. St. Joseph Academy and Regis College. The groom attended Purdue University and Harvard Business School. He is employed by the Standard Oil Company.

FITZPATRICK-VALLEY

Miss Verena Valley of Miami Beach, Florida, a nurse in St. Francis Hospital, was married to John Joseph Fitzpatrick of 24 Maguire ct., Newtonville, on Monday morning, July 4, in the Church of Our Lady, Newton. Rev. John Sheridan performed the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Jeremiah Valley. She wore a gown of white trimmed with tulle, with a lace veil and carried lilies of the valley and a white prayer book. She was attended by Mrs. Edward Fitzpatrick who wore blue alpaca crepe with a white hat and corsage of gardenias and by Mrs. Damian Austin who wore a lace gown with gardenia corsage. Miss Eileen Fitzpatrick, the bridesmaid, wore blue marquisette with hat to match and carried roses and delphinium. The groom, who was the best man, The ushers were George Morrissey of Newton and Bernard Fitzpatrick of Miami Beach, Florida.

At the reception which followed the couple were assisted in receiving by Mrs. Fitzpatrick who wore a gown of white satin with a corsage of gardenias.

On their return from a wedding trip to Maine and Canada Mr. and Mrs.

Mohammedan Year Has 12 Months, 29 and 30 Days

Unlike ours, the Mohammedan calendar is a lunar one. If you count the time it takes the moon to return to any particular phase, you will find that it is twenty-nine and one-half days, known as the "synodic," or often merely the "lunar" month. Many calendars have used this period in their reckoning, because the changing phases of the moon in the sky afforded a convenient means of telling the days, observes a writer in the Kansas City Star.

The Mohammedan year has 12 months, alternating between 29 and 30 days, making the average the correct length. Every month starts with the new moon, as it first appears in the west after the sunset. Then first quarter, full moon and last quarter mark the four weeks of the month.

But twelve 29½-day months total only 354 days, which is eleven days short of the year. Consequently, this means that Mohammedan dates shift around through the seasons. For instance, the Mohammedan year will commence in 1955 in the autumn, and in 1971 it will again come in March. Thus, their calendar gains a whole year on ours every 33 years. No doubt we should find this very inconvenient, not knowing what season a certain date might be in, but in their countries it is very arid, with little change between the seasons.

The Gregorian calendar, which we use, keeps step with the sun and ignores the moon, but it is possible to have one that will keep in step with both. A good example is the Jewish calendar. Ordinarily the Jewish year is practically the same as the Moslems', but after approximately three years, when it has lagged a month behind, an extra month is inserted which brings it up again. Actually, there are seven of these 13-month years every 19 years.

Screech Owls Prowlers;

Devour Insects, Rodents

One of the most diligent mouse hunters is the screech owl. The smallest owl with ear tufts, it usually isn't given the credit it deserves as an ally of farmers.

All of the owls long have been persecuted by man, and unjustly so, asserts a writer in the Chicago Tribune, because these birds kill countless numbers of meadow mice, wood mice and small insect pests which injure farm crops.

For example, the screech owl is known to consume grasshoppers, crickets and many other kinds of insects, as well as crawfish and an occasional snake. The night hunting screech owl likes insects better than any other American owl with the exception of the burrowing owl. The screech owl usually nests near farm buildings or in holes in trees, an old orchard with hollow limbs in some of the trees providing an ideal nesting spot.

Just how good the little screech owls are as farm citizens is best told by scientists who have examined the stomach contents of the birds. For example, out of 324 stomachs examined 169 were found to contain insects, 142 contained small animals (such as field mice, house mice, etc.), 56 contained birds, and 15 crawfish. Any one who dislikes the common English sparrow should be a screech owl enthusiast, because the owls destroy hundreds of sparrows in the course of a year.

Octagon House at Washington

Octagon house, a fine example of late Georgian architecture, was the Washington home of Col. John Tayloe, wealthy Virginia planter and friend of George Washington. Dr. William Thornton, original designer of the United States capitol, made the plans for the house in 1799. Built of English brick, it is, in spite of the name, actually hexagonal in form. After the burning of the Executive Mansion in 1814, President Madison established the temporary White House there and with Dolly Madison as hostess Octagon house reached its height of social power. The proclamation giving the terms of the treaty of Ghent was signed by President Madison in one of the upper rooms. The house was purchased and restored by the American Institute of Architects in 1902 and is occupied by that organization.

Hungarian Folk Dance

The csardas, Hungarian folk dance, is more than 100 years old. It made its appearance at society balls in 1838 and it took two years for the dance to gain popularity in Budapest. At a ball given in 1840 in honor of Franz Liszt a display of the csardas was given by young couples. The dance had been popular among the peasants of Hungary time immemorial. It is a fast dance in two-four tempo to music made up of Hungarian folk tunes.

Genius Not Recognized

Often genius is not recognized for generations, says Collier's Weekly. Spinoza and his philosophy were forgotten for 100 years after his death in 1677. Shakespeare was not considered an exceptional playwright for 150 years after he died in 1616. El Greco (1542-1614) was not acknowledged a genius in oils until a few years ago, while Walther von der Vogelweide was not recognized as a great lyric poet until almost 600 years after his death.

Earthworms Are Fond of Meat, Eat Sugar Readily

According to W. R. Walton, senior entomologist, United States Department of Agriculture, earthworms feed partly on the soil. They swallow great quantities of earth, from which they digest organic matter, both animal and vegetable. Their digestive apparatus is equipped with a gizzard-like organ by the aid of which they are able to grind up the tougher fragments of food. They are fond of either raw or cooked meat and will eat sugar readily. The mouth of the earthworm is devoid of teeth or other biting or gnawing apparatus, and consists of a simple sucking or grasping mechanism which is well supplied with powerful muscles. When an earthworm wishes to grasp any small object such as a blade of grass, it thrusts from its mouth an appendage which corresponds roughly to the tongue of a human being. This is used to oppose the snout of the worm just as one presses his thumb against his index finger, enabling it to grasp firmly any slender object. By use of this apparatus the earthworm is enabled to draw leaves or other objects into its burrows. Fresh leaves are frequently taken into the burrow, and the worm then moistens the innermost ends of them with a secretion from its mouth, which starts fermentation and soon renders the leaves sufficiently tender to enable it to tear off fragments for its food.

Earthworms crawl by means of alternate contraction and expansion of the muscular rings forming their bodies. In these movements they are helped by rows of very short, stiff bristles, placed along the sides of the body. They have no eyes, but are sensitive to light. They have no ears, but are sensitive to air currents and especially to the slightest vibration of the ground. Their eggs are placed in capsules, surrounded by a gelatinous food. Crows find these capsules a great delicacy. Not much is known about how and when the eggs hatch, but the young grow into adults in about three months.

Visitors Walk Safely on

Island of Trinidad Lake

All lakes aren't filled with water. On the island of Trinidad, off the coast of South America, there is an asphalt lake covering more than a hundred acres. The surface is brownish-black and wrinkled, like an old piece of leather. People can walk on the lake without sinking, their feet leaving only faint prints. Men work on the lake digging out the asphalt to ship to all parts of the world. A railroad track is laid across the surface to the place where the digging is going on. Each morning the hole made the day before is filled up, and the railroad track sunken and twisted from the movement of the asphalt during the night.

For a long time, says a writer in the Washington Star, it was thought that there was no end to the supply of asphalt, but during the last 50 years, when 5,000,000 tons of asphalt have been removed, the surface of the lake has dropped 50 feet. It will take many, many years to use up the supply, but some day in the far distant future mankind may have to think up some new substance with which to surface his streets.

Ambassador, Minister

An ambassador is head of an embassy and a minister is head of a legation. Under international law and usage an ambassador is the personal representative of the sovereign or head of a state and is accredited directly to the sovereign or head of another state. A minister is, under international law and usage, the representative of the government (as distinct from the head of the state) and is accredited to the government as distinct from the head. An ambassador has the right to converse directly with the sovereign or the head of the state to which he is accredited, and likewise may correspond directly with the sovereign or head of his own country. A minister, on the other hand, in theory, carries on his correspondence with the minister of foreign affairs of the state to which he is accredited, and similarly corresponds with his own government through the minister of foreign affairs of his own country. In practice the duties of an ambassador and a minister are the same.

Exhibits Rare Viking Relic

A rare terminal post from a Viking ship is exhibited by the British museum. It is the only known one carved in the shape of an animal. The head of the post is either that of a great bird or that of a dragon, with four large teeth on each side of its jaw. Its neck is carved in a cross-pattern and the piece originally decorated a ship built in the ninth century. For many years the post was used as a garden ornament by an engineer, who found it while dredging near Termonde.

Considered Greatest Clown

Joseph Grimaldi (1779-1837) is considered the greatest clown of all time. London-born of Italian parents, says Collier's Weekly, he standardized the dress and the general routine of clowns, who have, since his time, been known as Joys. His memoirs were edited by Charles Dickens and his costumes are among the most valued treasures of the London museum.

Varying Manuscripts of Arabian Nights Recalled

The Arabian Nights, or the Book of the Thousand and One Nights, is an extensive and remarkable collection of tales, forming an important part of Arabic literature.

The Nights were first made known to Europe by Antoine Galland, a French orientalist, who obtained manuscripts in the East, says a writer in the Cleveland Plain Dealer, supplemented them with tales taken from the lips of professional story-tellers and published his collection in 12 volumes between 1704 and 1717. The stories were translated from his French into many other languages and thus became widely known.

Though the authenticity of the tales, as published by Galland, was at first doubted by European scholars, ample substantiation has been supplied since, and many widely varying manuscripts of the Arabian Nights have been found.

Tracing their ultimate origin has been more difficult. The great variety of the manuscripts is due to the gradual growth of the collection, undoubtedly contributed to by many tale tellers and in different centers. Certain references in old eastern writers indicate that the framework and the earliest tales are of Persian origin.

Internal evidence has led scholars to believe that some thirteen of the stories were committed to writing as early as the Tenth century, and may have been extant long before that. The collection as a whole is assumed to have taken a definite shape in the Thirteenth century, while there are a few tales which may be as late as the Sixteenth century.

London Tower Beefeater

Not Yeoman of the Guard

One of London's greatest draws is the Tower of London where a Beefeater, or Yeoman of the Guard, is always to be found on guard in his picturesque scarlet and gold uniform. But Beefeater is only his nickname; he is not really a Yeoman of the Guard, and although his uniform is the oldest in the British army, he is not really a soldier.

The name Beefeater is a corruption of Buffetier, the name given to Yeomen of the Guard who served at royal dinners in days gone by, says Pearson's London Weekly. The Beefeater does not descend from these yeomen, but from the warders who acted as assistants and were allowed to wear yeoman's uniform.

Another version of the origin of the name Beefeater was that a grand duke of Tuscany, visiting Britain in 1669, was so struck by the size and girth of the tower warders that he asked if they fed entirely on beef.

All the Beefeaters are old soldiers with distinguished records, and they play an important part in the ceremonies that have been handed down from Norman times.

Names Bertram, Bertrand

Bertram and Bertrand are probably forms of the same Teutonic name, meaning "glorious raven." One authority says that Bertrand means "with the burnished shield," but that may be because Norse warriors painted ravens on their shields to terrify the enemy. The raven thus became the badge of a warrior and the name Bertram expressed hope for its bearer's prowess in battle. Several saints have borne the name of Bertrand, which seems to be older than Bertram. Bertrand du Guesclin (d. 1380) duke of Molinas and constable of France, was one of the most celebrated soldiers of his time and many tales are told of his exploits. He was aptly named.

Thanksgiving in February

Imagine Thanksgiving day in February. To South Carolinians it was an actual occurrence almost a century and a quarter ago, for a preserved copy of the famous pioneer newspaper, the Pendleton Messenger, reveals that once the state observed the feast of Thanksgiving on the first Thursday in February. In the issue of February 3, 1819, this journal carried a proclamation given under the hand of Gov. John Geddes and the seal of the state, that reserved the day in early February to acknowledge the goodness of God.

Stars Brighter Than Sun

Many stars are hundreds and even thousands of times brighter than our sun. Sirius, Capella, Arcturus, Betelgeuse, Deneb, Canopus, Antares and Rigel are a few of the brighter ones. The last four are about 14,000 times as luminous as the sun. The largest known star, Antares, in the constellation Scorpio, has a diameter at least 390,000 miles, which is 450 times that of the sun. Arcturus has a diameter about 27 times that of the sun, and is about 100 times brighter.

What "Potomac" Means

The name "Potomac" signifies "plenty of fish" in the Indian language. Capt. John Smith, who explored the lower Potomac in 1608, mentioned the "abundance of fish, lying so thick with their backs above the water—for want of nets, we attempted to catch them with a frying pan—neither better fish, more plenty, nor variety, had any of us seen in any stream."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Sacrament" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday, July 10.

The Golden Text is: "Let us keep the feast, not with old leaven, neither with the leaven of malice and wickedness; but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth" (1 Corinthians

5:8).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Create in me a clean heart, O God; and renew a right spirit within me. . . . Restore unto me the joy of thy salvation; and uphold me with thy free spirit" (Psalms 51: 10

12).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian

Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary

Baker Eddy: "The baptism of Spirit, washing the body of all the impurities of flesh, signifies that the pure

in heart see God and are approaching spiritual Life and its demonstration.

It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle, than for sinful beliefs to enter the kingdom of heaven.

eternal harmony. Through repentance, spiritual baptism, and regeneration,

mortals put off their material beliefs and false individuality" (p. 241).

Walnut in Victorian Era
During the Victorian era walnut was used almost exclusively in the construction of practical furnishings—dining room and bed room pieces especially—though, handsomely carved whatnots and other living room items, settees, small tables, occasional chairs and massive hall chests were also fashioned of the light-toned wood.

Rhubarb Once a Decoration
Rhubarb was once used only as a decoration.

Crown of Mary, Queen of Scots, Long Hidden

The crown which Mary, Queen of Scots, once wore is one of the great attractions of Edinburgh castle. Now exhibited to the public, it was once believed lost along with the other regalia of Scotland and was at various times concealed in Dunnotar castle, buried in a garden, and then kept under lock and key for over a century.

When Cromwell was in power in England the Scots feared that the crown, believed to have been worn first by Robert the Bruce, and the regalia, consisting among other things of the sword of state and the mace of the Royal Treasurer, would be destroyed. They spirited the pieces away to Dunnotar castle and later when it was besieged, the wife of a parish minister buried the articles in her garden.

At last the regalia were returned to Edinburgh castle, but kept behind barred doors and windows in the Crown room because it was feared that the sight of the pieces might rouse a rebellion. For over a hundred years they lay in an oak chest, unseen by anyone. In 1817, however, the novelist Sir Walter Scott persuaded the authorities to let him open the chest, and to the great rejoicing of the Scots, the regalia were found intact and later put on exhibition.

English Church Only One Having Bells on Ground

A church in Suffolk at East Bergholt claims to be the only one in the world with its church bells on the ground, writes a London correspondent in the Chicago Tribune.

Cardinal Wolsey began to build the belfry, but his downfall interrupted its construction and, from that day the bells have been housed in a wooden bellcage among the paving stones. Their tongues point upward and a platform runs between them. The ringer grasps a wooden stick, sends it off against the metal, and catches it again as it swings to and fro in the pit. There are ropes, as well, but these are used only for chiming.

Only the treble is modern. The second, Gabriel, is in its original form as cast in 1450. The third, founded in 1601, carries in Latin the words: "My name is Mary. For my tone I am known as the rose of the world." The fourth shows coins of Charles I. on the face and the tenor, weighing 26 hundredweight, is dated 1727.

The ringers of this church have a great reputation for "singles" and are proud of their place in campanology.

Unusual Bargains Being Offered In Ocean Travel

Never have been offered so many alluring ocean cruises and tours to Europe, the West Indies, South America, Bermuda, the Saguenay and other places both on this side of the Atlantic and in foreign climes, as the various steamship companies have arranged for this summer and the coming autumn. And in addition, the leading Trans-Atlantic steamship companies offer a round trip to Europe or the British Isles and return for 12 times the one-way fare, resulting in reductions which run as high as $100. To get this very low rate one must sail from this country between September 4 and October 2, and have the privilege of staying in Europe four weeks exclusive of the day of arrival and the day of departure. If the West bound sailing will be made before September 25th, the difference between half of the excursion rate and half the regular rate must be paid. One can travel third class for as little as $134.50 round trip to a British port, or $177 tourist class, and to Continental ports for slightly higher fares.

On September 7 the 11th annual Post Labor Day tours conducted by the United States Lines will leave New York on the S. S. Manhattan. Frederick J. Reuter, assistant district passenger manager of the Boston office will again be in charge of these tours and the high praise accorded him by the many who have taken the tours in past years is a guarantee of satisfaction to those who will go this year. The tours are of 23 days duration. One includes England, Holland, Belgium and France and its cost is $272.25. Another visits Ireland and England and the rate is $283.50. A third itinerary includes England, Scotland and Ireland and the rate is $306.50. The fourth route covers England, Holland, Germany, Switzerland and France, and the rate is $313.25. Persons residing in Boston and vicinity will be given free rail transportation to New York and return. Make your reservation now and take advantage of this exceptional trip.

For persons who want much for little the tours conducted by the Merchant & Miners Line are acceptable. Each Tuesday and Saturday a boat leaves Boston for Norfolk and Baltimore. This trip includes a trip from Baltimore to Washington and a tour of the Capitol. One can take side trips from Norfolk to Virginia Beach for only $55, or to Williamsburg for $45.00. The cost of this tour, including stateroom and excellent meals is but $42; six nights and four days on the water. A four days' tour to Philadelphia leaves Boston every Monday and Saturday; 3 days on the ocean and a tour of Philadelphia. It costs but $31.50.

The Savannah Line tours to that beautiful, old Southern city continue to be as popular as in former years. Boats leave Boston on 10 days tours to Savannah, including 2 days stay at the palatial De Sota Hotel, and the cost is only $71. Or one can spend 2 days at Hotel Cloister, Sea Island, Georgia for $7 extra.

For those who prefer to go North the Canada Steamship Lines offer 7 days cruises from Boston to Montreal, Quebec, St. Anne de Beaupre, the Saint Lawrence, Murray Bay and the Saguenay for $78. These tours leave Boston each Saturday until September 3 inclusive. Another 7 days tour from Boston on Sundays and Wednesdays goes to Niagara Falls, Toronto, Lake Ontario, the St. Lawrence, Thousand Isles, Montreal and Lake Champlain. It costs $79. Then there are the 7 days cruises on the S. S. Richelieu from Montreal down the St. Lawrence to Quebec, the lower St. Lawrence, the Saguenay, Chicoutimi, Tadoussac, old Quebec and back to Montreal. The cost from and back to Boston is $96.50.

The Munargo Line cruises leave New York on July 23, August 6 and 20, September 3 and 17, October 1, 15 and 29. Twelve days to Nassau, Miami and Havana. The fare only $125. Ask anyone who has taken this cruise.

The Swedish-American Line offers the following cruise bargains: August 12, on the Kungsholm to Bermuda and Halifax, only $70; August 27 on the Gripsholm; 10 days to Nassau and Havana over Labor Day, only $110; October 8 in the Kungsholm to Bermuda over Columbus day, 5 days cruise, only $60; November 18 11 days cruise to Haiti, Jamaica and Havana, only $119.

The popular Canadian National Steamship cruises from Boston each fortnight—16 days to Leeward Islands, $155; 30 days along the West Indies to Trinidad and return, $230; to British Guiana and return with several stops at West Indies islands, 30 days and the cost only $225.

The Eastern Steamship Lines, "Acadia" leaves New York each Saturday in July and August on cruises to Bermuda and return, all expenses, only $50 and up.

The palatial COLUMBUS of the North German Lloyd will make three 12 days cruises from New York to the West Indies and South America. On September 24 to Port au Prince, Kingston, Colon and Havana.

The Cunard White Star Line offers the following cruises—Carinthia on July 26 to Nassau and Havana, 10 days, only $105 and up. Georgic, July 13 and August 15, and Britannic on August 1, four days from New York to Halifax and return; $5 and up. Carinthia to Gaspe, Saguenay, Quebec and Bermuda from New York on August 6 and 20; thirteen days, only $145 and up. Carinthia on September 3 to Nassau, Havana and Kingston, 12 days, only $115 and up. Carinthia on September 17 and October 1, to Haiti, Kingston, Havana and Nassau; 13 days, $125.50 and up. Carinthia to Nassau and Havana on October 15 and 23, November 5 and 16 from New York; 8 days, $75 and up.

Excellent reservations for all these tours and cruises may be obtained from the Newton Steamship Agency, 11 Centre ave. (Postoffice Building) Newton. Phone Newton North 4501, or we will call at your residence if you prefer.

Parachute From Aircraft

The first parachute descent from aircraft was made by Andre Garnerin when he opened his "big umbrella" and jumped from a balloon over Monceau park in Paris on October 22, 1797. The first descent with a "rip-cord" device was made by Leslie Irvin, over McCook's field in Dayton, Ohio, on April 28, 1919, says Collier's Weekly.

Calm Area in Hurricane

Although a hurricane may be blowing 200 miles an hour, there is a calm area in the center, usually about ten miles across.

Gloves of Long Ago Had a Variety of Meanings

There is amusement in tracing the names of some of our most familiar and necessary articles of clothing. Take gloves, for instance. The word gloves is said by some writers to be derived from the Belgic gloveoe (faithfulness) because gloves were a testimony of faith, or from gift-love, since gloves were so often gifts of love.

Another ancient writer thinks the word might come from goe, the hand, plus the Anglo Saxon "ober" meaning "over" meaning over, because they were worn over the hand. A more modern authority says it is from the Gallic cell, to cover, and lamh, the hand, pronounced cell lav or klav and then glove.

Wherever the name came from the indisputable fact remains that gloves must have been in use when England was in its infancy, and were worn either for warmth or protection, observes a writer in the Montreal Herald. Once the ceremonial gloves were so elaborate and general that every grade of society was in some measure under its rule. Gloves protected the business of merchant or peddler. They were a general pledge of security. Gloves conveyed defiance from one king to another. They had also a tender meaning and were chosen as a token of faith between lovers. On the bench, in the court of laws, they denoted probity. In the church the glove denoted purity. A knight wore a dainty glove in his helmet to remind him of his absent "dearling." And of course ladies of the haute monde wore the most entrancing and enchanting gloves imaginable.

Island of Orleans Once Called Isle of Bacchus

The picturesque island of Orleans set down in the St. Lawrence river near the fortified city of Quebec was called Isle of Bacchus by Jacques Cartier 400 years ago because of the grape vines that covered it. It has long since lost its bacchanalian air, however, and is settled down to agricultural sobriety like all other rural districts of the province of Quebec.

The island is steeped in history, writes a correspondent in the Boston Globe. It was in the channel between it and Levis, on the south shore of the river St. Lawrence, that the British fleet in the year of the conquest, 1759, first dropped anchor and it was here that the British soldiers first set foot on the land they were to camp upon and conquer.

The people of the island village of St. Laurent had fled at the approach of the enemy fleet, but the parish priest pinned a note to the church door addressed to the English commander, imploring him not to demolish the church or burn the village, adding naively, "I would have hoped that you might have arrived earlier so that you could have tasted the vegetables, such as asparagus, radishes, etc., that grow in my garden and which now have all gone to seed."

Gen. James Wolfe granted the old man's request and the church went unlooted.

What Makes Popcorn Pop Several theories have been offered to explain popping in corn. The explanation accepted by the United States Department of Agriculture is as follows: Popping in corn is an explosion due to the expansion under pressure of moisture in the starch grains. Until the instant of the explosion the expansion is prevented by the material in which the starch grains are imbedded. According to the department neither air nor volatile oil, as was formerly supposed, is concerned with the process. The wall of the kernel of popcorn is harder than that of ordinary field corn, a fact which causes the entire kernel to explode when heated, throwing out the white interior. Long before the arrival of white men on this continent the American Indians cultivated a variety of corn similar to our popcorn.

In the Southwest the natives called this grain "little corn." It is doubtful, however, that they used it for popping purposes, although it is probable that our popcorn was originally developed from the Indian variety.

Once Ocean, Once Desert In prehistoric ages the mysterious region of Imperial Valley, Calif., was the floor of a great arm of the Gulf of Mexico. Gradually the lake dried up, leaving the valley covered with a bed of silt whose depth and potential richness compares only with the valley of the Nile. Other phenomena of Imperial county include the Salton sea, with geysers and mud pots; oyster beds, shell deposits and remnants of marine life scattered along the ancient beach lines; and petrified forest said to have been carried down in the heart of a prehistoric glacier, as it slowly moved from Canada countless centuries ago.

Perry's Burial Place Commodore Perry is buried in Newport, R. I., which was his home. In 1818 Perry was sent with a small squadron to the West Indies to protect American commerce against pirates. He contracted yellow fever and died on his thirty-fourth birthday, August 23, 1819. He was buried with military honors at Port of Spain, Trinidad, but in 1826, by direction of congress, his body was removed in the sloop of war Lexington and reinterred at Newport. The state of Rhode Island erected a monument to him.

No Alternative Bridge In Burma, when a person is on the point of death, he is careful to burn a yellow paper scroll on which are written some words from the Buddhist scriptures, which he has kept with him for such an emergency through life, so that the Buddha may know that a soul is on the way to the spirit world and may permit it to cross the No Alternative Bridge and proceed straight to Paradise.

Do Not Leave Wills On some of the islands of the Malay archipelago many natives do not leave wills or oral bequests, preferring to divide their property after their death through spiritual communion with the holy man of the village. When this is done, says Collier's Weekly, the heirs are usually satisfied, believing that if some one received the wrong table or too many pigs the ghost would have raised a rumpus.

Comply With Mosaic Law Many orthodox Jews comply with the Mosaic law that requires a bachelor to marry his deceased brother's widow when she has no heir. If he refuses, according to a correspondent in Collier's Weekly, she cannot marry anyone else until a "chalitzah" ceremony has been performed, during which she returns the insult, in the presence of judges and witnesses, by removing a shoe from her brother-in-law's foot.

Comply With Mosaic Law Many orthodox Jews comply with the Mosaic law that requires a bachelor to marry his deceased brother's widow when she has no heir. If he refuses, according to a correspondent in Collier's Weekly, she cannot marry anyone else until a "chalitzah" ceremony has been performed, during which she returns the insult, in the presence of judges and witnesses, by removing a shoe from her brother-in-law's foot.

Do Not Leave Wills On some of the islands of the Malay archipelago many natives do not leave wills or oral bequests, preferring to divide their property after their death through spiritual communion with the holy man of the village. When this is done, says Collier's Weekly, the heirs are usually satisfied, believing that if some one received the wrong table or too many pigs the ghost would have raised a rumpus.

Cocaine Produced From Dried Leaves of Shrub

Cocaine is one of the best known dopes. It is a shiny powder obtained from the dried leaves of coca, a shrub that grows most commonly in the mountains of Peru and Bolivia. Its effects are at first stimulant, like very strong tea or coffee, and afterward narcotic. Its principal medical use is as a local anesthetic, writes Guy Murchie, Jr., in the Chicago Tribune. In surface application on mucous membrane, especially on the inside of the nose, it is particularly effective, and every one is familiar with its synthetic derivative, novocain, which is widely used by dentists in extracting teeth.

The great danger in cocaine, of course, is the fact that it is habit-forming, though in a different way than is opium, for, unlike opium, cocaine does not cause bodily agony and violent sickness in its addicts who fail to take their accustomed dose. Instead it grips the addict with an intense mental craving and a nervous restlessness that few can stand for long. And as the addict continues his habit of snuffing up cocaine (or, worse still, injecting it) he increasingly develops insomnia, decaying moral and mental power, and emaciation until he dies.

Narcotic agents call cocaine the most dangerous of all dopes, because its initial stimulating effects so often distort the addict's mind, leading him to commit murder, or any other horrible crime without a quaver of conscience.

Island of Orleans Once Called Isle of Bacchus

The picturesque island of Orleans set down in the St. Lawrence river near the fortified city of Quebec was called Isle of Bacchus by Jacques Cartier 400 years ago because of the grape vines that covered it. It has long since lost its bacchanalian air, however, and is settled down to agricultural sobriety like all other rural districts of the province of Quebec.

The island is steeped in history, writes a correspondent in the Boston Globe. It was in the channel between it and Levis, on the south shore of the river St. Lawrence, that the British fleet in the year of the conquest, 1759, first dropped anchor and it was here that the British soldiers first set foot on the land they were to camp upon and conquer.

The people of the island village of St. Laurent had fled at the approach of the enemy fleet, but the parish priest pinned a note to the church door addressed to the English commander, imploring him not to demolish the church or burn the village, adding naively, "I would have hoped that you might have arrived earlier so that you could have tasted the vegetables, such as asparagus, radishes, etc., that grow in my garden and which now have all gone to seed."

Gen. James Wolfe granted the old man's request and the church went unlooted.

What Makes Popcorn Pop Several theories have been offered to explain popping in corn. The explanation accepted by the United States Department of Agriculture is as follows: Popping in corn is an explosion due to the expansion under pressure of moisture in the starch grains. Until the instant of the explosion the expansion is prevented by the material in which the starch grains are imbedded. According to the department neither air nor volatile oil, as was formerly supposed, is concerned with the process. The wall of the kernel of popcorn is harder than that of ordinary field corn, a fact which causes the entire kernel to explode when heated, throwing out the white interior. Long before the arrival of white men on this continent the American Indians cultivated a variety of corn similar to our popcorn.

In the Southwest the natives called this grain "little corn." It is doubtful, however, that they used it for popping purposes, although it is probable that our popcorn was originally developed from the Indian variety.

Once Ocean, Once Desert In prehistoric ages the mysterious region of Imperial Valley, Calif., was the floor of a great arm of the Gulf of Mexico. Gradually the lake dried up, leaving the valley covered with a bed of silt whose depth and potential richness compares only with the valley of the Nile. Other phenomena of Imperial county include the Salton sea, with geysers and mud pots; oyster beds, shell deposits and remnants of marine life scattered along the ancient beach lines; and petrified forest said to have been carried down in the heart of a prehistoric glacier, as it slowly moved from Canada countless centuries ago.

Perry's Burial Place Commodore Perry is buried in Newport, R. I., which was his home. In 1818 Perry was sent with a small squadron to the West Indies to protect American commerce against pirates. He contracted yellow fever and died on his thirty-fourth birthday, August 23, 1819. He was buried with military honors at Port of Spain, Trinidad, but in 1826, by direction of congress, his body was removed in the sloop of war Lexington and reinterred at Newport. The state of Rhode Island erected a monument to him.

No Alternative Bridge In Burma, when a person is on the point of death, he is careful to burn a yellow paper scroll on which are written some words from the Buddhist scriptures, which he has kept with him for such an emergency through life, so that the Buddha may know that a soul is on the way to the spirit world and may permit it to cross the No Alternative Bridge and proceed straight to Paradise.

Newton Girl Scouts Opens Camp Mary Day At Natick; Many Improvements Made

Camp Mary Day of the Newton Girl Scouts has completed its first two weeks of the 1938 season, which has been marked by extensive water front improvements, replacement of equipment in the dining room and kitchen, an enlarged staff and progressive changes in program over former years.

Twenty-three new girls are being welcomed for the second two-week period. They are:

Jean Allison, Wellesley; Marjorie Baker, Betty Lowell, Patricia Wilson, Newton Lower Falls; Cynthia Breed, Charlotte Thompson, Patricia Thompson, Carol Root, Newton Centre; Betty Furman, Virginia Powers, Newton; Gwendolyn Guile, Ann McCraw, Elizabeth Ann Naylor, Edith Anne Young, West Newton; Phyllis Hackley, Barbara June Potts, Betty Vaughan, Waban; June Hersum, Louise Laffey, Auburndale; Nancy Hilliard, Arlington; Rosalie Thorne, New York; Jacqueline Zeldin and Phyllis Zeldin, Watertown.

The girls who registered on June 30 are:

The Camp is divided into three units, the Cedars, the Birches, and the Ridge, for the 10 year olds, the 11 and 12 year olds, and the experienced campers from 12 to 14 years of age, respectively. For the first period the Patrol Leaders of the youngest girls were Barbara Ann Wanecek, Dolara Leone and Rhoda Dorsey; of the next group Charlotte Murphy, Nancy Sutton and Dorothy Hughes; and of the last Dorothy Hale, Jane Mullineaux, and Barbara Kidger. These leaders with their secretary, Louise Salsburg, form a Court of Honour. They meet every day in each unit to plan the program, and twice a week they confer with the Staff as part of the Camp Council. The girls have increasing freedom in working out their own programs as it has resulted in more closely integrated activities. Rest, bed-time and meal hours are observed strictly on schedule, but the arrangement of all other activities is flexible.

Man Drowned at Newton L. Falls

Arthur Schack, 23, of 29 Walnut st., Wellesley Hills, was drowned in the Charles River not far from his home on Monday night. Schack and his brother-in-law, David Burke, also of Walnut st., Wellesley, drove along Quinobegun rd., Lower Falls, about 9 o'clock and went in swimming near where the Metropolitan aqueduct crosses the stream. After swimming about three quarters of an hour Burke told Schack he was going out and left the water and when he was partly dressed shouted to Schack but received no reply. After searching for his comrade Burke notified the Wellesley police. The lighting plant truck of the Newton Fire Department was sent to the scene and policemen from the Metropolitan, Newton and Wellesley departments started to drag the river. The Metropolitan police continued the search until Tuesday afternoon before the body was located. It had lodged under a protruding piece of granite on one of the aqueduct piers. Schack had been employed at a gasoline filling station on Beacon st., Newton Centre. Schack is survived by his parents, four sisters and a brother.

80 WPA Workers On Brook Project

On Monday 80 WPA workers were assigned to the project of widening, deepening and walling South Meadow Brook in the Oak Hill section. The improvement will extend from Dedham to Parker st., a distance of about a mile and is expected to take about 15 weeks. It is planned to eliminate to a considerable degree the mosquito nuisance in that district. The city has appropriated $2000 for tools and materials in connection with the project, and it is expected that more will have to be appropriated before the work will have been completed.

Proclamation

An effort is being made to destroy ragweed in Newton.

To succeed, the cooperation of all is necessary. If each of us will take care of his own premises in this matter, good results will follow.

Let's join with our fellow citizens in eliminating one of the causes of hay fever, and begin now.

EDWIN O. CHILDS,
Mayor.

Dr. A. C. Cummings Dies Suddenly

Dr. Alvah Cochran Cummings of 447 Centre st., Newton, died suddenly of heart failure on July 11 at Grand Lake Stream, Maine, where he and Mrs. Cummings were spending their vacation at the camp of Mrs. Fred Woodward of Waban. Dr. Cummings was born in Concord, N. H., 64 years ago, and had practiced medicine in Newton for about 35 years. He graduated from Dartmouth in 1896 and from Harvard Medical School in 1901. On April 1, 1935, he was appointed City Physician and had performed a great deal of work in that office because of the large number of persons who are on relief. He was a member of Dalhousie Lodge of Masons and the Newton Rotary Club, and a former member of Newton Lodge of Elks. Dr. Cummings' funeral service was held on Thursday afternoon at his late home, Rev. Chester Drummond officiated and burial was at Concord, N. H. Dr. Cummings is survived by his widow, Mrs. Jeanette (Harris) Cummings; a daughter, Miss Ann Cummings, who is a teacher at Meadowbrook School, Weston, and by two brothers and a sister who reside in Concord.

Dr. Derow Acting City Physician

Dr. Sidney Derow of 14 Rice st., Newton Centre, was appointed on Tuesday by Mayor Childs as acting City Physician, assuming the duties of Dr. Alvah C. Cummings who died suddenly on Thursday night. Dr. Derow was born in New York City 31 years ago, graduated from Columbia University in 1925 and Boston University Medical School in 1930. From 1930 to 1934 he served at Mass. General, Boston City and Newton Hospitals. He came to Newton Centre in 1934 and has since been on the surgical staff at Newton Hospital. Since last May he has been serving as assistant to Dr. Cummings in the duties incumbent on the city physician.

Pratt Resigns As Chairman of Board

A. Stuart Pratt of Highland st., West Newton has resigned as chairman of the Newton Retirement Board and Street Commissioner Charles Mahoney was elected to succeed him. Mahoney has been a member of the Board since it was formed several years ago. Pratt will continue to serve as a member of the Board until his successor will have been appointed by Mayor Childs and confirmed by the Board of Aldermen. The Mayor will probably submit the name of Pratt's successor at the next meeting of the Board of Aldermen.

Proctor Made First Asst. Attorney Gen.

Edward O. Proctor of Glen ave., Newton Centre, was promoted on Wednesday by Attorney General Dever to be his first assistant, to succeed James J. Ronan, of Salem, recently appointed a justice of the Massachusetts Supreme Court. Mr. Proctor was appointed an assistant by Attorney General Dever 18 months ago and has since been engaged in several quite important cases, including that involving this State's claim to $6,000,000 taxes on the estate of the late Col. Edward H. Green of South Dartmouth. Mr. Proctor is 51 years of age, a graduate of Yale and Harvard Law School and he has been a member of the bar for 25 years. He has been a zealous member of the Democratic party. He served overseas in France during the World War, and his wife is a native of that country. Mr. and Mrs. Proctor have three children.

Wellesley Police Drop Newton Radio

The Police Department of Wellesley is to establish its own radio broadcasting station and will discontinue using the Newton police radio station. It has made application for a permit for a broadcasting station and two-way installations in two police cruising cars.

In addition to installing transmitters in 13 motor vehicles owned by the Newton Police Department, application has been made for a permit to install radio transmitters in three automobiles of the Newton Fire Department, including the cars of the chief and assistant chief, and the truck carrying the lighting plant. Waltham and Watertown will continue to be served by the Newton police radio station.

Dave Dalton Kills Big Bull Frog

Patrolman Dave Dalton of the Newton police, champion revolver marksman among the police of New England, had a lowly target on which to test his skill early Monday morning. His quarry was a bull frog which had been leading a happy life in the small pond on the Brae Burn Country Club property near Fuller st., West Newton. This frog, as any normal frog is wont to do, had been giving vent to its contentment night after night by croaking. To some persons the croaking of bull frogs, the chirping of crickets, the piping of toads, and the noises made by other creatures which sleep days and are active nights, is soothing and compose nature's symphony. But to other people, including those with high-strung nervous systems, or those who are very light sleepers, the incessant croaking of a bull frog is quite disturbing.

The bull frog which had been warbling its guttural sonnets from its watery home near the Brae Burn Club had been disturbing the sleep of a woman who resides nearby on Commonwealth ave. She telephoned police headquarters and complained. Dalton was assigned to end the nuisance. He went to the little pond, focussed his flashlight in the direction of the vocalizing frog, and with one unerring shot ended the career of the croaker. In Captain Vedeccio's office at police headquarters is an exhibition of many medals and several silver cups won by Patrolman Dalton in revolver marksmanship competitions. There may be another medal awarded him as a reward for killing the bull frog.

WPA Auburndale Concert Postponed

The concert which was to have been given on Tuesday evening at the Auburndale Playhouse by the Newton Orchestra was postponed on account of the storm and will be held on next Tuesday evening, July 19. The program will be the same as scheduled for this week.

George Mills Supt. Of Newtonville P.O.

George Mills, for the past 25 years a clerk at the Newton postoffice has been appointed superintendent of the Newtonville postoffice to succeed Dominick H. Richards who was recently retired on a pension. Mr. Mills assumed his new duties on Monday, July 11. He was born in Newton, the son of Alexander and Margaret (Foley) Mills. He entered the postal service in 1909 as a substitute clerk, in 1912 he became a regular clerk and was assigned to the Boston postoffice. In 1913 he was transferred to the Newton postoffice where for the past quarter century he has won many friends both among his fellow employees and patrons of the office because of his co-operative attitude and courtesy. Mr. Mills is married and has for many years resided on Nonantum st. on the Oak sq. section of Brighton.

Bowker Out For Congress in 9th

Phillip Bowker of Brookline, Representative from Brookline in the State Legislature, has taken out papers as a candidate for the Republican nomination for Congress from the 9th District which includes Newton. He will oppose for the nomination Congressman Robert Luce of Waltham, who seeks another term, and Rowe of Cambridge, who has been conducting an active campaign the past couple of months. Bowker gained considerable publicity during the administration of Governor Curley.

Guzzi To Run For Legislature

Alfred R. Guzzi of West Newton has taken out nomination papers for Representative to the Legislature from the 4th Middlesex District as a Democratic candidate. Guzzi, who was Ward Alderman from Ward 3 in 1935 and 1936, was one of the Democratic candidates for Representative two years ago, but was defeated. It is understood that the two present Representatives from the district, William B. Baker and Warren K. Brimblecom, will again be candidates for the Republican nomination, as their nomination papers are also being circulated.

Robs Chauffeur of Watch and $15

Ivan Robbins of Watertown, employed as a chauffeur by Thomas Beal of Lawrence rd., Chestnut Hill, had a gold watch and $18 in cash stolen from the pocket of a pair of trousers he had left in the garage at that address last Friday afternoon. On the same day a bag containing articles valued at $50 was stolen from an automobile parked at the Commonwealth Country Club, Chestnut Hill. The stolen property belonged to A. N. Tellier of Belmont.

Thought Policeman A Hold-up Man

Joseph Wagner of 314 Cherry st., West Newton, testified in the Newton court on Wednesday that when he was pursued on July 3 and stopped by a young member of the Newton police force, Patrolman Madden, he thought the latter was a bandit because he was attired in civilian clothes and wore a sweater, although Madden had his police badge attached to his sweater. Madden testified that Wagner ignored a stop sign and that he drove at a speed of between 55 and 60 miles while the officer was pursuing him. Wagner claimed that he did not exceed 35 miles an hour. Judge Mayberry fined Wagner $3 for not obeying the traffic sign, and found him not guilty on the speeding charge.

In court the same day Edmund Rice, Jr., 21, of 172 Carlton rd., Waban, was fined $10 for speeding. Patrolman Dave Dalton testified that Rice passed five cars on the short stretch on Washington st. between Beacon st. and Quinobegun rd. on the night of June 23rd, when the officer stopped him for speeding, and that the Waban youth did not have his license in his possession. The latter charge was placed on file.

Annual Fiesta At Nonantum

The annual three days' fiesta conducted at Nonantum by the Maria del Carmine Society will be held on next Saturday, Sunday and Monday. There will be a solemn high mass at Our Lady's Church next Sunday morning and on Sunday afternoon a parade will be held, starting at Our Lady's Church and proceeding over Nonantum streets to Hawthorn st. playground. Band concerts will be given each evening at the playground and on Monday night there will be an elaborate display of fireworks. Nonantum streets will be illuminated as in the past.

Police Capture Runaway Girls

Serg. Sullivan and Patrolmen Madden and Rogers of the Newton police were in a cruising car on the Worcester turnpike on Tuesday night when they observed a truck pass by. The truck was carrying a cargo of fish, and seated on two of the fish barrels were two young girls. The police stopped the truck and upon questioning the girls had run away from their homes in Methuen and were headed West. They had boarded the fish truck in Boston and intended to go as far as Worcester on that "bus."

City Wins Another Point in Long Oak Hill Litigation

Last Friday the Supreme Court of Massachusetts affirmed the action of Superior Court Justice Boudreau in ruling for the City of Newton in dismissing the suit in equity which was brought a couple of years ago by George S. Wilbur, Herman, Frederick and James Esty to void a traffic ordinance which had been passed by the Newton Board of Aldermen. The ordinance prohibited heavy trucking on Dedham st., Oak Hill and was designed to end the operation of gravel pits on land owned by Wilbur and the Estys. A few years ago the Board of Aldermen refused to renew a permit for the operation of the gravel pit and an injunction obtained by Wilbur as a result of that action is still hanging on, pending action by the Supreme Court. In the matter of the traffic ordinance, the Supreme Court ruled that the petitioners still have access to and from the gravel pit over a street leading to West Roxbury.

Would Add to Fire Hdqs. Building

One of the proposed WPA projects in this city is to remove the old wooden stable attached to Engine 3 house at Newton Centre and build on its site a garage for the fire department. A cement floor would also be constructed in the fire house. Mayor Childs will probably recommend this project to the Board of Aldermen at its meeting on July 25.

Another Burglary At Newton Centre

Burglars entered the home of Robert Harpel, 25 Dolphin rd., Newton Centre, last Thursday afternoon while members of the family were absent. Among the articles stolen were jewelry, a camera and projector and a number of medals won by Harpel while he was in college. Entrance was made by breaking a small pane of glass at the front door.

Reappoint Whiting Trustee of El

Edward E. Whiting of Mount Vernon st., Newtonville was confirmed by the executive council on Wednesday as a member of the Board of Trustees for another term of 10 years; Governor Hurley having made the reappointment. The position carries a yearly salary of $5000.

RAGWEED AND HAY FEVER

Beginning next week Monday city trucks will begin the collection of ragweed in an effort to eliminate or greatly minimize the presence of this obnoxious plant. Residents of the city are urged to collect the weed from their premises or neighborhoods and have it ready for disposal by the city. The ragweed plant is a common cause of hayfever and it is estimated that about two-thirds of the population of the United States are hayfever sufferers. The weed begins to pollinate within another month and the wind-borne pollen irritates and affects the nasal passages of many who inhale it in the air they breathe. All citizens are urged to co-operate in the movement, which may well be of unlimited value to many others. Inasmuch as the plant may be unknown to many persons who are desirous of co-operating in this effort, it might be helpful if the committee directing the drive could mount specimens of the weed in window displays in a vacant store or two in each of the Newton villages.

DR. ALVAH C. CUMMINGS

Although having served as city physician but for three years and having succeeded a more elderly physician who had endeared himself in the hearts of the many patients with whom he had come in contact the late Dr. Alvah C. Cummings proved a worthy successor to the late Dr. Fred M. Lowe. We knew Dr. Cummings as a physician and as a friend. Throughout thirty years of our friendship we had many occasions to note and to realize the depth of his character, his love of humanity, his sympathy for the ill and his ability as a physician. The suddenness of his passing makes us keenly aware of the uncertainty of this life. The sympathy of his many friends goes out to those he leaves behind, comforted in part that the entire city is the better for his having lived here and administered to its residents during the past forty years.

THE FIRST HUNDRED IS THE HARDEST

There is a common facetious expression that the first hundred years are the hardest. It may well be that the first hundred days is the most difficult length of time to go without a fatal automobile accident. The city of Newton passed one hundred days with such a record on Monday and is now several days toward its second hundred. We are mindful of the fact that before these words are in print or are before our readers' eyes there may be a fatal accident to render our thoughts valueless, but there is also the realization that the longer the record continues the more conscious automobile drivers, and pedestrians will be of their pride in maintaining such a clean slate. As we start on the second hundred days let us trust that it will be many more days than that before a human life is snuffed out through some accident upon our highways.

ARCHERY

Due to the success and popularity of the sport of archery, which was first undertaken by the Newton Playground Department last summer, regular classes are again being held at the Newton Centre playground under the direction of Miss Cynthia Kenway. Many of the children who took part last year are back again to improve upon their last season's accomplishments, and all old and new comers alike are doing exceptionally well. The three one-hour classes which are held every morning from 9 to 12 are already filled with enthusiastic boys and girls between the ages of six and fifteen.

At the end of the season, classification medals will be given to all who have attended the archery classes. These medals are put out by the National Archery Association, and are arranged in such a manner as to give a definite rating to all archers, from beginner to champion.

Well Known Upholstering Co. Opens New Building

In anticipation of improved business conditions in the upholstery industry, Seeley Bros. Co., located at 757 Washington st., Newtonville, have erected a new fireproof two-story addition to their former building. The interior is of white lime brick, creating a model sanitary daylight workshop and showroom. Mr. Seeley finds that there is a definite improvement in business conditions and that the outlook is bright for the furniture industry.

Seeley Bros. Co., one of Newton's oldest upholstery companies, was established in 1904. They specialize in the restoration of antiques, fine custom upholstery, furniture refinishing and repairing. They also do mattress work, window shades and Venetian Blinds. They operate a separate department in their showroom for the sale and exchange of new and used furniture and home furnishings. Seeley Bros. Co. have introduced a new time payment plan in order to make it easy for their customers to buy what they want when they want it.

Growth and Development
Growth means increase of size and strength; development means increase of power to use size and strength.

Why Let Them Drown!

Recreation, in and on the water, has been and always will be appealing and attractive to a multitude of people. Participants in any of its forms gain health-benefiting and happy experiences. The one dark note in this otherwise bright and stimulating picture is seen in the number of persons who lose their lives by drowning (7500 a year on an average for the past several years), and in the many who experience "near-drowning" but manage to survive.

Knowledge and skill—these are the things which tend to eliminate danger. Skill in aquatics is acquired through instruction and practice, knowledge is gained by means of instruction and experience. There is no end to the acquirement of either and a person is reasonably safe in the water in exact proportion to the amount of each he possesses.

For nearly a quarter of a century, the Life Saving Service of the American National Red Cross has been engaged in seeking out information and training men and women as aquatic and water safety leaders. These leaders in turn pass on their training and experience to other young people all over the country.

The Newton Chapter, American Red Cross, has conducted aquatic and water safety programs at Crystal Lake, Newton Highlands, for more than ten years, and has made it possible for those teaching the courses to get the best training in the latest methods and techniques.

Learn to swim! If you have a child five years old or more he or she may receive swimming instruction from capable and trained instructors at no cost. Every morning at 9:15 and every afternoon (except Saturdays) a class of non-swimming children come for this part of the aquatic program.

Can you swim? Or do you merely keep afloat and make some forward progress under only ideal conditions? If you fall in this category, there is a place for you in classes of "swimmers" of this and all degrees of ability—be at home in the water, don't merely be a "shallow water" swimmer.

Boys and girls over twelve years of age, with a fair amount of swimming ability, are eligible to take the Life Saving and Water Safety lessons, qualifying for Junior or Senior Life Saving certificates and badges. Thirteen hours of practice and instruction for Juniors, and fifteen hours for Seniors are required before the examination is given.

Swim for health—but learn to swim well! Do it now.

Since the opening of the season at Crystal Lake the following have passed the Swimmer's Test:

Marjorie Moore, Patricia Monahan, Charlotte Maloney, Josephine MacIsaac, Carol Curry, Oliver Williams, Gretchen Croote, Kathleen Connolly, Theodore Boulter, Walter Podzka, Maxwell Jonah, Alan Bates, Robert Wadman, Joseph Brady, John Brady, Warren Strange, Monroe Collette, Charles Marden.

In addition 42 girls and 28 boys have passed the Beginner's Test.

Rotary Club

Newton Rotarians welcomed to their membership at Monday's luncheon meeting Lawrence L. Frederick, president-treasurer of the Newton Glass Co. at 302 Centre St. His classification is ceramic-glassware—retailing. Irving Palmer, honorary member, and Donald Hyde, former member, as well as a number of visitors from out-of-town were present.

The immediate past-president of the local club, Dr. Frank Clark, entertained the meeting with an informal travelogue of his observations going out to the recent Rotary International convention at San Francisco, with sidelights on the meeting itself. To Dr. Clark who had never been west of Chicago, a vast new country was opened up. As compared with New England, the barns and dwellings on the wide prairies seemed diminutive indeed. After the pleasant green fields and hills beyond Kansas City, the arid region of the southwest seemed not so good. Comparing the muddy rivers with the clear streams of the east, a fellow-traveler described the Colorado River as "too thick to drink and too thin to plow." Then came the mountains which shoot up straight from the plain without the foothills we are used to here. The mountain roads seemed hazardous and there must in consequence be greater faith in drivers than with us.

The speaker's vivid pictures aroused a desire in those who had never been to the Far West to go, and for those who know the region there was much that was reminiscent.

CHESS CLUB

A group of business and professional men in Newton have been playing chess together weekly for more than five years, and are known as the Newton Chessmen. They meet at each other's homes Saturday evenings and welcome visitors. Appointments may be made by other chess players through Mr. Crummett at Newton North 6613. Their standing on the ladder is: Richardson, Allen, Weston, Loring, Rae, Crummett, Ruane, Sharpe.

NEWTON HOME SOLD

The Chestnut Hill Office of R. M. Bradley & Co., Inc. reports the sale of the single residence located at 300 Franklin st., Newton, for Mrs. Anita S. Turner of Woods Hole, Massachusetts, to Miss Katherine Schultz of Newtonville, who will occupy after extensive alterations. The property is assessed at $11,200. The purchaser was represented by John T. Burns & Sons, Inc. and the seller by R. M. Bradley & Co., Inc. R. M. Bradley & Co., Inc. also report the sale of a lot of land on Sheafe st., Chestnut Hill, for Mrs. J. D. Hollowell.

Y. M. C. A.

Track

Coach Henry C. Pierce of the Newton Y. M. C. A. has entered the following members of his squad in the Boston Caledonian Club Games being held at the Caledonian Grove in Roxbury this Saturday afternoon:

100-yard dash—John Morris, Dan Carey and Bob Stewart.
440-yard run—Art Linthwaite, Bob Stewart, Ivan Hunt and Dan Carey.
880-yard run—Art Linthwaite and Ivan Hunt.

Walter Scott Mile—Bob Hunt.
Three-Mile Run—Gene Kelley and Alfred Carroll.

Running Broad Jump—Martin Boermeester, Francis Olivigni, Stan Cullen and John Morris.

Running Hop, Step and Jump—Stan Cullen.

Tennis

Close competition was seen at the Newton Y. M. C. A. courts last Saturday when the Newton "Y" tennis team took a 4 to 1 victory over the Piety Corner Club of Waltham. Newton captured the singles and divided honors with the visitors in the doubles. Lowell Warren of Waltham made a strong comeback in the second set of the singles match with Chase Kepner of Newton, but the latter proved to have the edge. William Hays, ace Piety Corner man, gave Timothy Dacey of Newton a run for his money, the match going three sets. In the doubles, the Waltham men, Fred Richard and Joseph Riley, carried off the first match over Donald Harrington and Arthur Jacobs, taking two sets in succession after dropping the first. The second doubles match was also a neck-and-neck battle, ending in favor of Kepner and William Seaver of Newton.

The summary:
Singles—Chase Kepner, N., defeated Lowell Warren, W., 6-2, 7-5.
Gordon Kitchen, N., defeated Charles Brodick, W., 6-1, 6-3.
Timothy Dacey, N., defeated William Hays, W., 6-1, 3-6, 6-4.
Doubles—Fred Richard and Joseph Riley, W., defeated Donald Harrington and Arthur Jacobs, N., 3-6, 6-2, 6-2.
Chase Kepner and William Seaver, N., defeated Gervase Potter and Harold Davis, W., 6-4, 7-5.

Swimming

Henry McNamara and Lawrence Smith of the Newton Y. M. C. A. Swimming Team continued to add to their laurels earned during the indoor season when they entered the New England Amateur Athletic Union Championships held at Rosemary Beach, Needham, last Saturday.

Lawrence Smith won the N. E. A. A. Junior 1500 meters back stroke championship by winning his first heat easily, and had to extend himself to the limit of his ability and endurance to win the final from Alex Liska of Oliveville Boys Club.

Henry McNamara avenged previous defeats by George Patrick and other entrants in the diving. He gave Kelley of Gardner Swimming Association the best competition of the day from the high board. McNamara, showing rare form in the execution of his dives with perfect entries, won second place to Kelley the defending champion. Showing great improvement, McNamara has many more victories to look forward to.

Junior Baseball

The boys' baseball program for the summer months is in full swing at the Newton Y. M. C. A. with four boys' teams in action to supplement the fine showing the Senior team is making in the Newton Two League. The Intermediate team, made up of older boys, has played four games to date, starting an extensive campaign of two and three games a week during July and August. The following boys are included on the Intermediate team: Jay Gleason, 3rd b.; Bob Nelson, ss.; John Gehling, 2nd b.; Jim Martin, 1st b.; Fran Olivigni, c.; Fred Arsenault, Bill Braunig, Jack Masters, Al Shapalis, and Russ Burgen, outfielders. The pitching staff includes one veteran and a rookie—in order, Bill Wiles and Robert Olivigni.

The Junior baseball team has a very strong lineup. The following list makes up the team: Jim Pace, Harold Martin, Robert Martin, John Coffey, Richard Dunne, Robert Holmes, Anthony Lapietro, Robert Whalen, David Ryan, Mills Nelson, Carl Eschelbach, Jr., Fred Smith and Calvin Goodale. They played their first game Thursday the 14th against the Hutchinson Club Juniors. The Middlets have a very good club made up of the following boys, who will probably start on their first game next week: George Turner, Francis Litchfield, Raymond Curran, Walter Leonard, Richard Whoolley, Timothy Curtin, Dana Gleason, John Olivigni, Robert Perry, William Dunn, Robert Maloney, Buddy Keane, Joseph Murphy and Joseph A. Murphy.

The Y. M. C. A. teams are hoping for one of the best seasons.

The "Harrison & Morton" flag which is suspended over Centre st. at Newton, now bears the legend—"Republican Ward & City Committee," which is a needed addition as it prevents any outside enterprise from claiming the credit for hanging out the flag.

Newton people will be pleased to learn that the Newton Centre baseball club has recently formed a nine that will be one of the strongest, strictly amateur teams in the vicinity of Boston. It is composed of young men who reside in Newton with a sprinkling of several college men who are spending their vacations here. The Newton Centre team will put the following men against the Resolute of Boston at Magnolia Field, Newtonville on Saturday—Soden, pitcher; Comey, catcher; Warren, 1st base; Farquhar, 2nd; Hovey, 3rd; Bates, ss.; Harkins, lf.; Oldham, cf.; Bancho, rf.

Newton was visited Wednesday at midnight by a small cyclone which came from the direction of Waltham touching first at North st. and extending over Morse Field and through the valley between Brighton Hill and Mount Ida. The cyclone began by taking the roof off W. E. Fuller's barn on North st., Newtonville and uprooting an elm tree 100 years old, and a large willow tree. At Nonantum a number of trees were uprooted and all along Watertown st. trees were blown down and chimneys levelled, the street being impassable on Thursday morning. All through Morse's field district the wind raged havoc. N. K. Putnam on Vernon st. lost a large elm tree which blew against the house, smashing several windows. N. P. Coburn on Franklin st. lost a handsome chest-

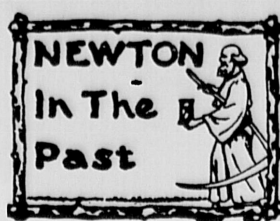

Advertising Awards For Edison Company

The Public Utilities Advertising Association has announced the granting of two premier awards for 1937 advertising to the Boston Edison Company. In an annual competition among hundreds of utility companies of the United States and Canada, advertising material in all categories is submitted for the Association's "better copy" contest.

The Boston utility has been represented previously with winning newspaper and other copy classifications, the recent awards being for its outdoor advertising and customer publications programs. The awards provide excellent criteria on advertising effectiveness as judged by national authorities in this field.

Top awards in more than one classification were taken by but two utilities, the second being the Consolidated Edison Company of New York.

People who walk over Newtonville ave. are cautioned that the bright, green leaves growing so rank over the fence to the height of a man's head are poison ivy. Several have been badly poisoned by handling them. Do not touch them.

The same amount of money now being spent by the Street Department on Elmwood st. if put on Newtonville ave. would serve the public interest much more. The Elmwood st. work is not necessary, but the latter will soon be cause for formal complaint if not attended to.

It is probable that the flag station at the Centre st. crossing on the R. & A. railroad will remain where it is now, having been moved twice.

Next Wednesday the Newton City Government and friends will join in the excursion along the North Shore in the steamship "Empire State." The trip is the most inviting of the harbor tours of this noble steamship and the occasion will be one of pleasure.

The Common Council held a short meeting Monday night and adjourned without any further action on the matter of new school houses. The only important business done was the passage of an order for improvement of the Jackson School at Nonantum at a cost of $2000. It will provide for new and larger outhouses, repairs to the furnace, putting in cold air boxes and laying new floors in the basement.

A young man in the employ of Dwight Chester of Newton Centre was prostrated by sunstroke last Saturday afternoon while returning from Boston driving a team loaded with manure. He fell from the team while passing through Brookline and died several hours later at his home.

Crystal Lake, that jewel on the forehead of the queenly Garden City was never more brilliant than on last Saturday evening when the festivities of Independence Day were concluded. The North shore of the lake was gay with Chinese lantern illuminations of Messrs. Young, Edmunds and Farnham. C. S. Davis displayed lights in his new house fronting the lake, also Mr. Gardner and J. W. Parker, Jr. whose long piazza was hung with lanterns which cast a soft glow over the crowd at this place. Early in the evening the boats were out in force, notably the fine yacht of Captain Sylvester whose seamanship was displayed, there being a stiff breeze. The pyrotechnics were thrown from a raft, and for 2 hours the bombardment from the shore and the raft continued with rockets, Roman candles, bombs, etc., all of which were appreciated by the people on foot and in carriages.

W. L. Stiles of Newton had a bunch of bananas left at his house Saturday night and on Sunday a Moccasin snake 20 inches long was found in it. Miss Stiles barely escaped touching it while pulling off a banana.

The first outdoor meeting of the Newton Y. M. C. A. of this season was held last Sunday afternoon on the grounds of Dr. Hitchcock at Centre and Franklin sts., some 300 being present. Rev. Pleasant Hunter, Jr. preached a powerful sermon from the words—"Christ the same, yesterday, today and forever."

Considerable amusement was furnished the boys at Newton Upper Falls on Wednesday afternoon by the appearance of two trained bears who were put through their tricks by their Italian owners.

Powers' Paragraphs

A young Nonantum woman's favorite radio program is a "ghost story" feature which is broadcast nights at 11 from a Boston station. In order to get the real thrill from this program many of the regular listeners sit in unlighted rooms. One warm night last week the Nonantum woman sat in the dark near an open window of her living room as a particularly "creepy" ghost story came over the radio. At the high spot in the story, a neighbor with a practical Scandinavian sense of humor who had robbed himself in a sheet and crept alongside the house of the ghost story addict, arose outside the window and uttered a doleful groan. The young woman at the radio certainly got a thrill. She emitted such a terrific scream that it awakened her aged father-in-law in his bedroom upstairs, and so startled him that he fell out of bed and hastened downstairs to rescue her from whatever danger threatened. The "ghost" became apprehensive that his victim might have a nervous collapse, so he returned and identified himself.

Last week a Federal judge granted the petition of the New Haven Railroad that it be permitted to abandon 88 railroad stations in Massachusetts. Most of these stations are on the Old Colony division, many of them on Cape Cod. Others are on the former Woonsocket branch of the New York & New England Railroad, from Dover to Bellingham. The ending of passenger service on the "Woonsocket Branch" brings memories to older residents of the Newtons, many of whom can recall when trains on this branch were pulled from the old Boston & Albany station in Boston by B. & A. Engines to Newton Highlands. From that point a New York & New England locomotive would haul the cars through Upper Falls, Needham, Dover, Medford, Millis, Medway and Bellingham to Woonsocket. In 1905 the T. Stuart Co. of Newton constructed a connecting link from the Dedham branch of the New Haven Railroad at West Roxbury to Needham Junction and this gave it a connection with the Woonsocket branch, ending the necessity of using Boston & Albany facilities from Boston to Newton Highlands.

That Americans are not taking the newspaper propaganda of "war scares" in Europe seriously is proved by the fact that travel on Trans-Atlantic steamship lines for the first 6 months of this year totalled 143,291 from the U. S. A. to British and European ports and there are heavy bookings for the remainder of the summer and early autumn. The BREMEN of the North German Lloyd recently sailed from New York with 1833 passengers and the QUEEN MARY of the Cunard Line also sailed with a capacity cargo of 1840 passengers. Other lines whose boats have been loaded with European bound tourists include the United States Lines, Anchor, Italian, Red Star and Swedish American.

Benjamin N. Cardozo was a great man. At his expressed wish there was no eulogy at his funeral service. In death as in life he proved his unassuming greatness. Wherein he differed from so many little men who have delusions as to their importance.

Congratulations to Edward O. Proctor and to Attorney General Liver for recognizing the talents of an outstanding citizen of Newton. Mr. Proctor is not only an able lawyer but also an honorable gentleman.

Many of our citizens deplore the change in ethics which has been increasingly evident in this country since the World War. Lack of pride has supplanted to a large degree the nut tree. Alderman Tyker a large black walnut tree and several chestnut trees were blown down at Mrs. Prescott's estate on Centre st.

Fred Pratt of Bowen st., Newton Centre went out to ride with his mother a few days ago and at Hyde Park got out of the buggy and took the bridle off the horse so he could feed on the grass. As soon as the bridle was removed the horse started. Mr. Pratt was thrown to the ground and was kicked in the jaw. He is doing well, however.

old spirit of independence. "Chiselling" has become commonplace. This deterioration in character among so large a percentage of the masses of our people is not to be wondered at when it is a fact that selfishness, the tendency to grasp, and the unwillingness to bear their share of public expenses are manifested to an inordinate degree by so many of our so-called outstanding citizens. We read in the papers this week of an individual who since he attained his majority has fared extremely well from public treasuries. In addition to holding a permanent public position which pays an excellent salary, he has been the recipient of other public jobs which have largely increased his income. Yet, this person who has been sending his son to an outstanding public school in the city where his family formerly resided, refuses to pay the comparatively small amount charged for tuition to non-residents, although the alleged residence of the family in the city involved has been closed for several years, according to an official investigation. And it's the "gimme" guys who get the plums in public office.

In this column last week we mentioned that we had observed a new building in process of construction in Franconia Notch, a short distance North of Echo Lake alongside the Twin Mountain highway, and that it seemingly will be used for commercial purposes, as there were two, large fuel tanks lying on the ground, indicating that a gasoline station was to be established there. We deprecated the apparent commercialization of this beautiful region from the pristine beauty which it has retained because of having been made a National Forest Reserve by the Federal government 27 years ago. We have since learned that the area near Echo Lake is not a part of the White Mountain National Forest Reserve, but is owned by the State of New Hampshire which acquired it some years ago from its former owners, the Profile Notch Hotel Corporation. Between the State Reserve near Echo Lake and the National Forest Reserve North of Echo Lake, we are informed there is a strip of territory still owned privately and it is on this strip that the building we referred to has been erected. It is deplorable that the Federal government and New Hampshire did not acquire this strip in past years. Either or both governments should acquire it without further delay to prevent further intrusion of business into the Franconia Notch region.

In our "Paragraphs" last week we referred to the proposal made 2 years ago to name the playground at Oak Hill the "Hurley Playground" as a tribute to the family which donated most of the land for this recreation area and as a memorial to the late Gobinet Hurley, who was an outstanding citizen of that section. We mentioned that prominent workers for the development of Oak Hill had suggested to us that the playground be so named. We asked—"Why has no action been taken by the Mayor or the Playground Commission on the suggestion made two years ago to name the playground?" Subsequently a member of the Playground Commission informed us that the Commission has been and is willing to defer to the wishes of Oak Hill residents on this matter, and that some of the residents in that district want everything public there, including the playground, named "Oak Hill." We believe that those who take this view are inclined to stress Oak Hill too much. No matter what the playground will be officially named, it will not lose its identity as the Oak Hill recreation center, and it will be just as much used by children and others of that village. Incidentally, gratitude is a good quality to possess, and the never residents of Oak Hill should show it to a fine, old family of that district. In mentioning this matter to Mayor Childs, he informed us he was referring to the Board of Aldermen that the name "Hurley" be given to the Oak Hill playground and the new playground at Auburndale be named the "Lyons Playground" as a memorial to the late Thomas Lyons who for over 20 years served enthusiastically and unselfishly as a member of the Newton Playground Commission. RECENT DEATHS

EDWARD R. KIMBALL

Edward R. Kimball of 227 Pleasant st., Newton Centre, died on July 12. For the past 17 years he had been associated with the Newton Centre Savings Bank as Assistant Treasurer and Treasurer. Mr. Kimball was born in Roxbury 67 years ago. He graduated from Roxbury High School, attended Mass. Institute of Technology with the class of 1897 and later was associated with his father in the brokerage business. Mr. Kimball was a resident of Newton Centre for 37 years. He was the first Boy Scout Commissioner in this city. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Mabel (Boyer) Kimball; a son, Richard E. Kimball of Scarsdale, New York, and a granddaughter, Sally Kimball. Mr. Kimball's funeral service was held on Thursday afternoon at the Newton Centre Baptist Church. Rev. Everett C. Herrick, president of Andover-Newton Theological School, officiated. Burial was in Forest Hills Cemetery.

THOMAS E. CROUGH

Thomas E. Crough of 10 Remick ter., Newton died on July 10. He was born in West Newton 61 years ago, the son of Henry and Mary (Mulhern) Crough. Mr. Crough was an automobile body painter by occupation. He formerly was employed at the Stanley Motor Carriage Company in this city and for the past 15 years had worked for Lynch Brothers in Chelsea. He was a member of the Royal Arcanum. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Mary (Dwyer) Crough; a daughter, Mrs. Agnes Davis of Watertown; one brother, Nathaniel Crough of Newton; and three sisters—Mrs. Walter Morrissey and Miss Mattie Crough of Newton and Mrs. Mary Good of Walpole, New Hampshire. His funeral service was held on Tuesday at Our Lady's Church, Newton and burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

JOHN MELIDEO

John Melideo of 154 River st., West Newton died on July 6. He was born in Italy 48 years ago and had been employed by the Middlesex & Boston Street Railway. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Rose (Scallisi) Melideo; two sons; a daughter; and a brother, James Melideo, all of West Newton. His funeral service was held on Monday at St. Bernard's Church, West Newton and burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

Henry N. Milliken of 229 Winslow rd., Waban, died on July 7. He was born in Boston 87 years ago and had resided in this city for 65 years, much of that time in Newtonville. For 48 years Mr. Milliken was associated with Jones, McDuffee & Stratton of Boston, of which company he was assistant treasurer. He was a Past Master of Dalhousie Lodge of Masons of Newtonville, a former secretary of the Boston Credit Men's Association, and for many years a member of the Every Other Saturday Club of Newtonville. His funeral service was held on Monday in Bigelow Chapel, Mount Auburn; Rev. Randolph Merrill of Central Congregational Church officiated. Mr. Milliken is survived by his widow, Mrs. Jeannette A. Milliken; a daughter, Mrs. Fred M. Tibbot of Chesterville, Maine; and a son, H. Eugene Milliken of Hyde Park.

ALICE A. BARKHOUSE

Mrs. Alice A. Barkhouse of 25 Kenyon st., West Newton, widow of Simon Barkhouse, died on July 7. She was born in Lunenburg, Nova Scotia, 76 years ago, and had lived in this city for 39 years. Mrs. Barkhouse is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Hazel Kirsch of White Plains, New York, and Miss Elsie Barkhouse of West Newton; and by two sons—Carl Barkhouse of Saxonville and Ralph Barkhouse of Malden. Her funeral service was held on last Sunday at her late home and burial was in Saxonville.

ARCHER DAVIDSON

Archer Davidson of 154 Warren st., Newton Centre died on July 8. He was born at Farnsworth, Virginia, and was a graduate of Virginia Polytechnic Institute. He became employed by the Westinghouse Electric Company in 1902 and in 1916 came to the Boston office where he was head of the New England steam engineering division. He was a member of the Society of Mechanical Engineers. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Florence Meadows Davidson; and two sisters. His funeral service was held last Sunday at Newton Cemetery chapel.

JOHN W. BOYNTON

John W. Boynton of 320 Chestnut st., West Newton, died on July 11. He was born at Trumbull, Conn., in 1862, and had resided in West Newton for 19 years. Mr. Boynton was a mechanical engineer by profession and in 1905 founded the Union Twist Drill Company at Athol. He was a member of the Athol lodge of Masons and of the Knights Templar. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Dora Carter Boynton. Mr. Boynton's funeral service was held at his late home on Wednesday. Rev. Harris Hale of Marblehead officiated. Cremation was at Mount Auburn.

Recent Weddings

DOLAN—WING

Miss Cornelia Wing, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sewall King of 98 Homer st., Newton Centre, was married to John Barr Dolan, son of Associate Justice Arthur Walter Dolan of the Supreme Court of Massachusetts and Mrs. Dolan, on Saturday afternoon, July 9, at three-thirty in the chapel of St. Gabriel's Monastery, Brighton. Rev. Fr. Hillory performed the ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white satin with a train. Over her tulle veil she wore an antique point lace veil the cap of which was attached to a coronet of rose point lace which was worn by her mother at her wedding. Her bouquet was of white orchids, sweet peas and lilies of the valley. Miss Florence Bainbridge of Hingham, cousin of the bride, was the maid of honor and only attendant. She wore a ruffled crepe gown with a matching hat.

Barr Dolan, brother of the groom, was the best man.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents following the ceremony. Mrs. Wing wore gray chiffon with a corsage of lavender orchids and Mrs. Dolan wore blue lace with an orchid corsage.

On their return from a wedding trip through Canada, Mr. and Mrs. Dolan will reside at 47 St. Mary's st., Brookline.

The bride is a graduate of the Cathedral School in Washington, D. C., and the Museum School of Fine Arts in Boston. She is a member of the Junior League. The groom was graduated from Harvard in 1933 and from the Harvard School of Law in 1936. He is a member of the Commonwealth Golf Club and is associated with the law firm of Sherburne, Powers and Needham.

DENTON—CODY

Miss Vera Alice Cody, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Francis Cody of 214 Commonwealth ave., Chestnut Hill, was married to Thomas Kelsey Denton of Chicago, Ill., son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Lee Denton, on Saturday afternoon, July 9, at three o'clock in the Sacred Heart Church, Newton Centre. Bishop Francis J. Spellman performed the ceremony.

The bride wore a gown of ivory satin and chanted lace made in princess style. She carried orchids and lilies of the valley. Her bridesmaid, Miss Eleanor M. Fitzgerald, wore pale blue marquisette and carried a cone shaped bouquet of spring flowers. Victor Owen Jones was the best man.

A reception was held in the Sheraton Room of the Copley Plaza Hotel, Boston. On their return from a wedding trip through the New England States and Canada, Mr. and Mrs. Denton will make their home in Chicago, Illinois. The bride attended the Sacred Heart Academy and the Garland School. The groom attended the University of Michigan.

COOLIDGE CORNER THEATRE BROOKLINE

Sparkling, scintillating and gay, with all the vivacity that is so much a part of gorgeously feminine Loretta Young, "Three Blind Mice" her newest romancing portrayal of a modern American girl, opens for a week's run on Friday, July 15th, at the Coolidge Corner Theatre, Brookline, with Joel McCrea sharing the star honors.

Beginning in inauspicious farm overalls, Miss Young and her two screen sisters, set forth on the gay adventure in quest of millionaire husbands, on funds from a bequest by a departed relative. "You can fall in love with a millionaire just as easily as a plumber," opines lovely Loretta Young, as she establishes her coterie at a fashionable hotel. They're drawn lots and Loretta becomes the "lady." Marjorie Weaver her "lady's maid," and Pauline Moore the "secretary." In a kaleidoscopic array of gay dancing parties, beach scenes, fiestas and ranch barbecues, lavishly deluged with the splendiferous gowns which Miss Young reveals as no one else can. Loretta meets handsomely exciting Joel McCrea. Marjorie Weaver finds romance with Stuart Erwin and Pauline Moore meets her man in David Niven. Niven, by the way, provides a third of a diverting triangle, well, that would spoil the story. Binnie Barnes and Jane Farwell complete the feature cast.

The excellent co-feature is "Sinners in Paradise" featuring Madge Evans and John Boles. "Sinners in Paradise" she establishes her coterie at a fashionable hotel. Trees Thousands of Years Old
 The oldest of the sequoias on the western slope of the Sierra Nevada are said to date back 3,000 or 4,000 years. Compared with these Methuselahs of the vegetable kingdom, oaks are shortlived, but several of the more than 300 species of oaks live to be hundreds of years old and attain great size. The great oak of Gloucestershire, England, for example, developed a girth of 47½ feet five feet above the ground.

Bread Is Bread—by Any Name the World Calls It

Most of us take bread for granted. Toasted in the morning, made into a sandwich for lunch or picnic use, cut round as a base for hors d'oeuvres, probably in the form of rolls at dinner time. We eat it without giving it a thought.

Yet bread is as varied as the peoples who eat it, observes Martha Harmon in the Philadelphia Record. Europe; the long, six to seven-foot long, white twist is typical of Paris; Mexicans use their tortillas as spoons to lift their other food before consuming the tortillas themselves; the hoe cake cooked in ashes may be the food of the very poor in the South, but it is both nutritious and delicious—and the staff of life. In the Holy Land, bread is kneaded by slapping it against the stone walls in pieces three feet long and on holy days every loaf is stamped with a design of a saint. In Hungary the people in some small towns bring their first loaves when the new harvest has been garnered and pile these high in the church for the priest to bless.

Egyptian women bake their bread by putting it on the housetops for the hot sun to bake, while in lower Egypt many desert wives bake their bread over fires in special containers carried along on camelback so they will have fresh bread for the family when the night stop is made and tents put up for the overnight homes.

In the far northern part of Norway, the women make bread as thin as wafers and several feet in diameter and hang it to season and ripen for a couple of months before serving.

"Coffee Shop" Clearing Plan Used in the 1600s

The earliest ancestor of the clearing house was the crude "coffee shop" clearing system used during the 1600s by London banks. From each of the London banks, employees known as "walk clerks" would start on a tour of all other banks every day with bundles of checks drawn upon each. At each bank the clerks would deposit the checks drawn there and collect cash.

One day two clerks from different banks met in a coffee shop. Laziness, in this instance, observes a writer in the Chicago Tribune, was the mother of invention, and the clerks decided to make their exchanges there in the coffee house, each paying the other in cash for checks drawn on his bank. Other clerks adopted the practice, and bank executives, discovering this, became interested. Thus was the original London clearing house begun.

On October 11, 1853, representatives of 52 New York banks met in a basement at 14 Wall street to settle claims against their institutions at a central clearing house for the first time. Clearings for that first day were less than $23,000,000 and balances were less than $1,300,000. By contrast, it may be noted that a single check for $146,000,000 went through the New York clearing house in 1925 and that clearings for 1929 totaled $457,000,000,000.

Founder of Chinese Empire
 Prince Chin, after whom China is named, lived about 21 centuries ago and was the founder of the Chinese empire. Up to his time, about 250 B. C., China was but a group of independent principalities, about 1,800 in all. Prince Chin conquered them and united them into a single empire, with himself as the First Emperor Shi Huang Ti. To assure the stability of this empire, he ordered a wall built across its northern boundary. Rebellious princes and their aristocratic courtiers, poets, philosophers, robbers and thieves—all were put to work on this wall. Those who died on the job were buried within it. When completed, many centuries after the emperor's death, it was about 2,500 miles long. It is the wall of China. The empire thus united by Shi Huang Ti did not last. It fell to pieces shortly after the emperor's death, and was reunited and fell to pieces again many times afterwards.

Language Treats Dog Shamefully
 Consider the dog, most popular and well-loved of all animals in Britain, advises a writer in London Answers Magazine. Our language treats him shamefully. He stands for everything rotten. If you're "a dirty dog," you're a worthless fellow. If somebody is leading you "a dog's life," you're having a rough time, "to the dogs" and you're ruining yourself. "Dog in the manger" is a selfish person. Die "a dog's death" and you perish miserably. Sailors loathe "dog-days"; dog-fish are small sharks; the alternative name for dog-fennel is Stinking Camomile; and if it's "raining cats and dogs" it's particularly foul weather.

Jade Precious to Chinese
 Jade to the Chinese is what diamonds are to many Westerners. It is to them the most precious of precious stones. Centuries ago this stone, carved in the form of bats and storks, was worn to insure long life. It varies in color from deepest kingfisher blue to white. In China they gauge the value of jade not by its color but by its texture—the experts "feel" it.

Unusual Bargains Being Offered In Ocean Travel

Never have been offered so many alluring ocean cruises and tours to Europe, the West Indies, South America, Bermuda, the Saguenay and other places both on this side of the Atlantic and in foreign climes, as the various steamship companies have arranged for this summer and the coming autumn. And in addition, the leading Trans-Atlantic steamship companies offer a round trip to Europe or the British Isles and return for 1½ times the one-way fare, resulting in reductions which run as high as $100. To get this very low rate one must sail from this country between September 4 and October 2, and have the privilege of staying in Europe four weeks exclusive of the day of arrival and the day of departure. If the West bound sailing will be made before September 25th, the difference between half of the excursion rate and half the regular rate must be paid. One can travel third class for as little as $134.50 round trip to a British port, or $177 tourist class, and to Continental ports for slightly higher fares.

On September 7 the 11th annual Post Labor Day tours conducted by the United States Lines will leave New York on the S. S. Manhattan. Frederick J. Reuter, assistant district manager of the Boston office will again be in charge of these tours and the high praise accorded him by the many who have taken the tours in past years is a guarantee of satisfaction to those who will go this year. The tours are of 23 days duration. One includes England, Holland, Belgium and France and its cost is $272.25. Another visits Ireland and England and the rate is $283.50. A third itinerary includes England, Scotland and Ireland and the rate is $306.50. The fourth route covers Switzerland and France, and the rate is $313.25. Persons residing in Boston and vicinity will be given free rail transportation to New York and return. Make your reservation now and take advantage of this exceptional trip.

For persons who want much for little the tours conducted by the Merchant & Miners Line are acceptable. Each Tuesday and Saturday a boat leaves Boston for Norfolk and Baltimore. This trip includes a trip from Baltimore to Washington and a tour of the Capitol. One can take side trips from Norfolk to Virginia Beach for only $55, or to Williamsburg for $4.50. Alleged Drunken Driver Resists

Thomas J. Murphy of 51 Bourne st., Auburndale, was arrested on Tuesday night by Patrolman Charlton on charges of drunkenness and driving a car while under the influence of liquor. According to Charlton's testimony a car driven by Murphy collided about 9 o'clock Tuesday night on Commonwealth ave. near Norumbega Park with a car driven by Edward Miller of Cambridge. Charlton arrived at the scene shortly afterward and Miller said that Murphy was responsible for the collision. Murphy drove off and Charlton followed him in another car and caught up with him on Bourne st. The policeman asked Murphy to show his license and registration, and Murphy allegedly refused to do so. Charlton stated that when he started to place Murphy under arrest, the latter resisted and Charlton called on Special Officer Ferguson of Norumbega Park to aid in arresting Murphy. In the scuffle the policeman's left wrist was injured. Murphy was arraigned in the Newton court on Wednesday and his case was continued until July 21.

Newton Lawyer Claims Injury

Arthur Scipione of Walnut st., Newtonville, a lawyer, was a passenger in a car driven by Dr. Rocco Pavone of 192 Crafts st., Newtonville when it collided on Auburndale ave., West Newton with the rear of a parked trailer owned by Louis Proda of Adams st., Newton, at 9:30 Wednesday night. Pavone's car was damaged and Scipione claimed he received a head injury. He was treated by Dr. Pavone. Pavone reported to the police that there was no parking light on the large trailer.

First Governor of N. W. Territory

Gen. Arthur St. Clair was appointed the first governor of the Northwest Territory, and in the summer of 1788 he established his headquarters at Marietta, Ohio. The day of his arrival someone stationed at Fort Harmar wrote in his journal that "on landing he was saluted with 13 rounds from the field piece. On entering the garrison the band played a salute; the troops paraded and presented their arms. He was also saluted by a clap of thunder and a heavy shower of rain as he entered the fort, and thus we received our governor of the western frontiers." Of the original domain of the Northwest Territory six states were formed—Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, and part of Minnesota. Such were our humble beginnings. The pattern of a democracy had been established in the old Northwest.

Wore Precious Stones

Precious stones were first worn by primitive peoples because of their beauty, because the stones attracted attention to the wearer and because it was believed the stones ward off evil.

Never Grows Old

The fact that there are more than 14,000,000 savings accounts in the Mutual Savings Banks in this country indicates a widespread belief that personal initiative and thrift are not things of the past.

This Bank, one of 556 such institutions, serves more than 17,000 depositors. There are no stockholders to share in the profits, which belong to the depositors alone.

Not Guilty of Reckless Driving

In the Newton court on Thursday Judge Mayberry found Mildred Lehner, 31, of Lancaster rd., Newton not guilty of driving a car so as to endanger the safety of the public. Patrolman Taffe who had investigated the accident was the complainant and Walte Burke of Malden, driver of a truck, which was overturned when hit by Mrs. Lehner's car on Hammond st., Chestnut Hill on July 6, was injured. He said he came to a stop before entering Hammond st. from Hammondswood rd., and saw no car approaching. The next thing he knew the crash occurred. Patrolman Taffe testified that when the vehicles were righted the control on the truck showed that it was in second speed, and the gas pedal on the Lehner car was jammed down to the floor.

In court the same day Judge W. Lloyd Allen found James Murphy of Elmwood st., Roxbury not guilty of driving to endanger. On June 26 a car driven by Murphy collided at Needham and Winchester sts., Newton Highlands with a car driven by Arthur Baker of Wellesley. Baker's car was overturned and Baker was injured. Baker testified that Murphy had turned to the left of the street and cut his car off. Judge Allen commented that the evidence showed no recklessness or criminal act on the part of Murphy.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Life" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday, July 17.

The Golden Text is: "As the Father hath life in himself; so hath he given to the Son to have life in himself" (John 5:26). Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Enter ye in at the strait gate: for wide is the gate, and broad is the way, that leadeth to destruction, and many there be which go in thereat: because strait is the gate, and narrow is the way, which leadeth unto life, and few there be that find it" (Matthew 7:13, 14).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The way is straight and narrow, which leads to the understanding that God is the only Life. It is a warfare with the flesh, in which we must conquer sin, sickness, and death, either here or hereafter—certainly before we can reach the goal of Spirit, or life in God" (p. 324).

Flag Often Replaced

The Union Jack that flies high above the Victoria Tower of the Palace of Westminster in London when the house of lords is in session is probably replaced more often than any other flag, says Collier's Weekly. Frequently the wind is so violent that it reduces to shreds as many as three ensigns in a single day.

—Wildlife Fears Scent of Man
Of all the scents, that of man is the most feared by wildlife, much more so than the sight of him, according to a writer in the Detroit News. And the reason for this, of course, that throughout the ages all animals have been pursued by man and his smell, therefore, instantly brings to the surface the timeless dread of their greatest enemy. A deer, for instance, will often gaze upon a man in sheer curiosity, but will instantly flee upon getting wind of him. Since the beginning of time nature has showered her greatest gifts into the lap of man, but on the whole he has shown only base ingratitude, and heedlessly continues to destroy and dangerously deplete her magnificent creations. In the open all senses must be highly keen, and so nature in her great wisdom has endowed her charges with faculties that will give them at least a fighting chance in a life that is always hard.

"The Liberty Song"

Special Programs Arranged For Music School

With a registration of 151 students representing 21 states, Hawaii, and Canada, The American Institutes of Normal Methods at Lasell Junior College, Auburndale, Massachusetts, begins the second week of its 55th annual session.

In addition to the regular classroom work, special speakers in the daily educational symposium were scheduled for the following dates:

July 12—Miss Grace Ullemeyer of the State Teachers College, Loch Haven, Pennsylvania.

July 13—Mr. John Merker, Executive Secretary of the New England Music Festival Association.

July 14—Miss Harriette Perkins, Director of Music, Malden, Massachusetts.

July 15—Mr. Lawrence Chidester, Associate Dean of the Junior Division and Director of the Institute Band.

Speakers for the following week are to be announced.

A special program was held on Tuesday evening, July 12th, on which soloists from the faculty and student body will perform, including a description of Hawaiian music and singing by two teachers from Honolulu, Mrs. Sally Criss and Mrs. Moehau Moore.

On Thursday evening, July 14th, a half-hour of band music was given on the campus of the College preceding the evening program which featured the Institute Orchestra directed by C. Paul Herfurth, Director of Instrumental Music, East Orange, New Jersey.

On Sunday evening, July 17th, a program will be given by chorus, Orchestra, soloists, and speakers in the new Winslow Auditorium at the College in memory of two former members of the faculty, Miss Frances G. French of Wellesley Farms, and Stella Marek Cushing of Montclair, New Jersey.

The public is cordially invited to all evening programs.

Auburndale

—Miss Eleanor Sampson is spending the summer at a Dude Ranch in Wyoming.

—Mrs. Alice M. Dennison of Auburndale ave. is vacationing at Brant Rock.

—Miss Vivian Taft left last week for a trip to the West Coast and Alaska.

Profitable World War Deal

A most profitable transaction in the World War was the purchase of a German register by the British Secret Service in Belgium in 1917. It contained far more information about the German military forces than had been secured in the previous three years from an army of spies. The seller, says Collier's Weekly, accepted $500 for it when he could have successfully demanded several hundred times as much money.

Man Beavers' Chief Enemy

The beavers' chief enemy is man. Wildcats and other enemies they are entirely competent to deal with; but, with all their cleverness, and even with government protection, they cannot fight man. Despite their wariness, concealed traps get them.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE

By virtue of and in execution of the Power of Sale contained in a certain mortgage given by Philip Ditch, as Trustee of Lenard Realty Trust under Declaration of Trust dated September 12, 1933, recorded in Middlesex County (South District) Deeds, Book 5746, Page 486, to Auburndale Co-operative Bank dated March 6, 1937, as shown on plan No. 14580 and noted on Certificate of Title No. 41187, Book 275, Page 309, in the South Registry District for Middlesex County in the Land Court, of which mortgage the undersigned is the present holder, for breach of the conditions of said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at Public Auction at eleven o'clock A. M. on the ninth day of August, A. D. 1938, on the premises in Newton, Middlesex County, Massachusetts, all and singular the premises described in said mortgage, to wit:

"A certain parcel of registered land, together with the buildings thereon, situate in said Newton and being bounded and described, as follows: Southwesterly by Hope Street, seventy (70) feet; Westerly by Lot 17, as shown on plan No. 14580 mentioned, ninety-five and sixty hundredths (95.60) feet; Northeasterly by Lots 21 and 20, on said plan, sixty (60) feet; and Easterly by Lot 19 on said plan, one hundred two and eighty hundredths (102.80) feet. Said parcel is shown as Lot 18 on said plan. All of said boundaries are determined by the Court to be located as shown on a subdivision plan approved by the Court filed in Land Registration Office, a copy of which is filed in the Registry of Deeds for the South Registry District of Middlesex County in Registration Book 167, Page 345, with Certificate of Title No. 41187.

"Excepting so much of the above-described premises as was conveyed to the City of Newton by Document No. 121,852, in connection with the laying out of Hope Street as a public way.

"This conveyance is made subject to the easements and takings of record, municipal liens and assessments which may be thereon and to the taxes assessed January 1, 1937.

"Including all furnaces, heaters, ranges, stoves, mantels, gas and electric light fixtures, screens, screen doors, awnings, storm doors and windows and all other fixtures of whatever kind and nature at present contained in any buildings on said land, and all material, apparatus or supplies intended to enter into the construction, repair or remodeling of the buildings on said premises, now in said buildings or on said premises, or placed therein or thereon prior to the full payment and discharge of this mortgage."

"Conveyance will be made subject to the easements and takings of record, taxes, tax titles, municipal liens and assessments which may be thereon.

Terms of sale: $300 to be paid in cash or by certified check at time and place of sale and balance on delivery of deed. Other terms, if any, to be announced at the sale.

Name Matthew of Hebrew

Origin: "Gift of God"

The name Matthew is of Hebrew origin and means "gift of God." Matthew, the tax-gatherer, was one of the apostles. Modern opinion holds that he did not write the "gospel according to Matthew," but that its author referred to a collection of Jesus' sayings Matthew had written, writes Florence A. Cowles in the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Sir Matthew Hale in 1671 was chief justice of the king's bench, highest judicial office in England. He was held almost infallible on legal questions and his "Analysis of the Law" gave Blackstone an outline for his "Commentaries."

Matthew Thornton (1714-1803) signer of the Declaration of Independence, was a judge of the New Hampshire Supreme court. Matthew Arnold (d. 1888) English poet and critic, professor of poetry at Oxford, helped introduce a new era in criticism and in religion.

Other Matthews of the past were: Flinders (d. 1814) one of the greatest of hydrographers, whose survey of the Australian coast is the basis for modern charts and whose name was given to an island, town and mountain range in Australia; Perry, naval officer, famous for his treaty with Japan in 1852 safeguarding American commerce in Japanese waters.

Baldwin, co-founder of the Baldwin Locomotive works; Brady, first war photographer in America, who followed the armies during the Civil war with the permission of President Lincoln and made pictures of incalculable historic value, and Vassar (d. 1868), who used the fortune he accumulated as a brewer to found Vassar college.

Panda Sits on Haunches

to Fight; Easily Tamed

The panda (East Indian name: order Ferae, family Procyonidae, genus Aelurus, species Aelurus fulgens), is a raccoon-like mammal of the southeastern Himalayas. A small panda is about the size of a large cat and has a bushy tail nearly as long as its body, ringed like that of a raccoon. The giant panda weighs about 300 pounds at maturity. Its fur, which is thick, is a rich red chestnut above and jet-black below, the face, the inner surface of the ears, and the claws being white.

The panda lives in the forests of the Himalayas at elevations of 7,000 to 12,000 feet, states a writer in the Indianapolis News. Though an excellent climber it passes much of the time on the ground, making its home in holes and clefts in the rocks. It is mainly herbivorous, its foods being chiefly fruits, acorns, bamboo shoots, and roots, but it will eat eggs, milk and butter. Its habits are some like those of a bear, whence it is sometimes called the cat-bear. It sits upon its haunches to fight, and drinks like a bear by putting its nose in the water and sucking instead of lapping. The panda is easily tamed and makes a pleasing pet, but is hard to raise in any but a warm climate on account of its susceptibility to cold.

World's Smallest Republic

San Marino, high in the Italian Apennines, area 22 square miles, population 13,000, is the world's smallest republic and one of the most ancient. The republic, which consists of a craggy mountain about 2,200 feet high, on which is the town, and some circumjacent territory, with four or five villages, is entirely surrounded by Italian provinces, but has maintained its independence since the Fourth century, and coins its own money, as well as maintaining diplomatic representatives in various foreign countries. The legislature of the republic consists of a senate of 60 members elected for life. Administrative functions are in the hands of two regents, or presidents, who are chosen every six months.

Early Reference to Compass

The magnetic compass, friend of navigators when Columbus discovered America, was known at least as long ago as the Twelfth or Thirteenth century, says Nikola Tesla, noted physicist. He has a definite allusion to it in a poem by Guyot de Provins, a medieval French writer. Tesla disagrees with the conclusion of the Berlin geographer, Heinrich Winter, that the compass was first used by Norse sea-wanderers. He considers it more probable that the instrument was invented by either Chinese or Arabs.

Great Herbal Emetic

The great herbal emetic comes from ipecac, a tropical plant. The great herbal pain-killer is morphine, a derivative of the opium poppy; this is not grown in the United States. The herbal fever-fighter is quinine, from the cinchona tree which grows in Brazil and Asia. Of medicinally valuable plants, the United States has extremely few. Perhaps the two best known are cascara sagrada bark from the Pacific coast and the leaves and bark of the common mayapple plant, which are used in the preparation of laxatives.

Camp F. A. Day Boys Pass Swim Tests

Close Competition In First Swimming Meet

The following boys have completed the requirements of the Beginners' Test and their names are off the Sink-Easy List of Camp Frank A. Day. They are also entitled to wear the Beginners' button of the American Red Cross. This list includes all boys who passed the test from the opening of Camp through July 12th.

The first swimming meet of the 1938 season was conducted on Saturday, July 9th, with more than 100 boys taking part in the 17 events which were scheduled. All competition was on the League basis, and this served to increase the competitive spirit of the meet. A close race for points resulted in the Senior Camp where the Pirates edged out the other two teams, the Cubs and the Giants. Final score was Pirates 24 points, Cubs 23 points, and Giants 22 points.

In the Junior Camp the Red Sox by amassing 32 points to 18 for the Tigers and the Red Sox in last place with but 7 points. The Royals, composed of the two youngest tents of the Junior Camp, defeated the Bears of the Midget Camp as well as the Bisons of the Midgets in the order of 21-13, to 14-13 and 9-13.

Individual high point scorers in each camp were as follows:

The Name Harrison

The name Harrison means just that—"Harry's son." Harry may be a diminutive of Harold, "mighty in battle, leader," or of Henry, "ruler of the home," although Harry is an older form than Henry. Harry's son would naturally partake of the characteristics of Harry, so the Harrisons may consider themselves leaders in battle and rulers of the home, which is quite a comprehensive program.

Footgear Worn by Lapps

The Lapps wear no stockings. The shoes are lined with dry grass—a short hay called "starr." It is a trick requiring clever manipulation to stuff a shoe with "starr" so that it can be pulled over the foot and worn with comfort. From the bottom of the shoe wears through, it is patched with a round piece of reindeer leather. In rainy weather the natives wear reindeer leather leggings. The pants, blouses, coats, breast cloths and caps are all made of good Swedish woolen cloth, blue preferred.

We hope we are wrong, but we predict that there will be more collisions between automobiles in the future at Newtonville sq. than there have been in the past, as a result of the traffic being removed from the intersection of Washington and Walnut streets, and replaced by signals at the street corners there. Our opinion in this matter is shared by the traffic officers who have been on duty for a long time at Newtonville sq. Some months ago the Engineering Committee of the Newton Safety Council recommended the removal of the traffic beacon at Newtonville sq. because it was alleged the beacon was a hazard, and because "traffic experts" favor the removal of all traffic signals which are located in the centre of streets.

Personally, we don't enthuse over "traffic experts" or "traffic engineers." So many of them are self-constituted, and we have observed the results of some of their expert knowledge in this city. The traffic tower at Newton Corner is one case. It was placed 15 or 20 feet from the site where it should have been located, and where it was recommended to be placed by veteran traffic officers who had been on duty at that locus for years, and who had ample opportunities to know conditions there. Also—this signal shows two left-turn arrows simultaneously, causing two lines of traffic to cross each other. Another example of "expert" traffic engineering in this city was the ridiculous situation caused a year and more ago at West Newton square by the placing of a multiple system of traffic signals there which greatly impeded traffic, until the operation of these unnecessary signals was stopped through action of Alderman Gaddis of West Newton, a member of the Traffic Committee of the Board of Aldermen, after many protests had been received.

And the past week there has been a convention of "traffic experts" at Washington. They recommended that the various States increase the legal speed limits for motor vehicles from 45 to 55 miles an hour in the daytime and to 45 miles an hour at night. This recommendation made despite the fact that "speeding" has long been admitted (through statistics) to be easily the greatest cause of automobile fatalities and accidents; despite the fact that there has been a national campaign in recent years to limit the maximum speed to 50 miles, and the slogan has been disseminated that—"Death Begins at 40 Miles per Hour." God help pedestrians as well as careful motorists if the speed fends are given greater latitude, even with the approval of "traffic experts."

Certain colleges in this country seeking new fields to conquer have established courses to train youths as traffic engineers and experts. In our humble and unacademic opinion one does not require a Ph.D. or a Bachelor of Traffic degree to qualify as having superior ideas on traffic. In the horse and buggy days, when the writer was a boy and youth, if we wanted good advice on driving, we would have asked a competent coachman or teamster. And today, if we desire advice on driving, we would seek it from some careful, professional chauffeur or truck driver, some intelligent traffic officer, or some experienced automobile salesman, not from a youth who had spent a comparatively short time studying times and writing theses on traffic, and acquiring knowledge on this subject from self-constituted experts. After all, the right or wrong operation of motor vehicles and the question of highway safety is a matter of common sense, observation of traffic laws and consideration of one's own safety and the safety of others. Until the traffic laws are enforced impartially, until "fixing" is stopped and speeders, reckless and drunken drivers are punished in conformity with the laws, all the traffic experts and engineers from here to Hades won't lessen to any appreciable degree the horrible record of automobile accidents and fatalities in the U. S. A.

Our friend, Dr. Alvah C. Cummings, suddenly passed from this life on July 11. We had known him since he first came to Newton as a young physician 35 years ago. He was a courteous, kindly, democratic man. Since assuming the office of city physician 3 years ago he was subjected to inordinate demands on his energy. Twice within recent weeks he had told us that the greatly increased duties placed upon the city physician because of the large number of persons dependent on public welfare, had made his office a very burdensome one, and instead of being a part-time job, it had become too onerous for one physician to handle, so he had requested the Board of Aldermen to give him an assistant. Undoubtedly the strain under which Dr. Cummings had been for the past three years, contributed to his death. He will be missed by his large number of friends in Newton and elsewhere.

How artless were Mr. Raskob and Mr. DuPont in their sales and resales of stock to one another. It would seem that two such sagacious men could have devised a more clever method of allegedly attempting to evade the payment of taxes.

Charged With Drunken Driving

Pasquale Cappello, 22, of 51 Oak ave., West Newton was arraigned in the Newton court on Tuesday charged with driving while under the influence of liquor and driving so as to endanger the safety of the public. The case was continued until July 19. On July 3 a car driven by Cappello hit a tree on Cypress st., Newton Centre and George Howley of Parker st., Newton Centre, who was riding with Cappello, was injured. Cappello reported to the police that he had to swerve the car suddenly to avoid hitting a dog.

29 CRAFTS STREET, NEWTONVILLE

Fined $20 For Hit-Run Driving

William Hattem of 1560 Washington st., West Newton was fined $20 in the Newton court on Thursday by Judge Mayberry for leaving the scene of an accident without making his identity known. On the night of May 22 a car driven by Herman Belliveau of Waltham was hit by another car at Washington st. and Commonwealth ave. and the offending car continued on its way. Belliveau complained to the police, and Patrolman Cunningham, just on a hunch, went to Hattem's home and in the driveway found the latter's car with the fenders on its left side damaged. Hattem later admitted having been involved in the collision but said he did not think he had caused damage to the other car and so continued on.

Moorhead Freed On Assault Charge

John Moorehead of 22 Court st., Newtonville was found not guilty of assault and battery on William Phillips in the Newton court on Thursday. On the night of July 2 Moorehead and Phillips, who conducts a barber shop at 276 Centre st., Newton became involved in an argument as to who had the right to play a gambling machine in a store at Centre st. Moorehead allegedly broke Phillips nose. Patrolman Walker who was the complainant, testified that Phillips had told him he was afraid to swear a complaint out against Moorehead. Phillips told Judge Mayberry that he had struck the first blow in the quarrel. Police have made complaints against the gambling machine involved.

All who have been concerned over the kind of a life a dog leads in the city may take comfort. At the recent annual convention of the American Veterinary Medical Association held in New York it was reported that a city dog lives longer, and is less susceptible to diseases than those which have the privilege of frolicking in the country.

The average life span of dogs kept in the city is about 11 years; of those kept in the country about 9. The longer life of the city slickers is attributed to superior care and the fact that their country cousins are exposed to many disadvantages with which the city dogs do not have to contend. Country dogs are subject to all kinds of climatic changes, irritations, acquired by contacts with vegetation, such as ticks and other blood sucking insects. It is also believed that a city dog is less inhabited by fleas, the carriers of many of the germs that attack our canine friends.

I am not going to dispute the figures and theories advanced at the convention, but even if there were a chance for my own dogs to live longer in the city, I for one shall continue to keep my pets in the country where they can roam and frolic and have a better chance of dying from old age and have less chance of being killed by an automobile.

If you were asked to choose a dog to set against a horse in a 5 mile race what breed would you pick? No, the racing Greyhound wouldn't be the best choice. The Foxhound would have a much better chance to beat the horse, in fact he would be a heavy favorite to do so.

The Foxhound is a fast running dog and is thought to have the greatest endurance for running of any breed. Because the fastest race horse can not maintain its speed for any distance over 3 miles, in a 5 mile race the Foxhound would come from behind to win.

Interesting statistics for the relative speed of a dog and horse reveal the following: The world's record for the mile run by a horse is about 1 minute and 34 seconds. If the fastest Greyhound could maintain the same speed in which he can run a quarter mile, his time for the mile would be approximately 1 minute and 39 seconds.

The horse is the faster animal in distances from a half mile up to about 2½ miles but from then on the greater endurance of the dog would make him the winner in a race at any distance over 2½ miles.

Do not give your dog a bath too often. Excessive bathing depletes the oil in the skin which is a natural protection against irritations and infections. In warm weather a bath not often than every two weeks and in the winter once a month should be sufficient and will not be harmful.

I am going to discontinue recommending that lime water be added to a dog's drinking water. I have discovered that enough calcium cannot be maintained in water to be of any decided benefit internally. Many breeders believe that lime water furnishes the calcium which promotes better bone development.

The best method, however, is to give your pet a small amount of calcium phosphate every other day. Puppies especially should have this item added to their diet.

Dogs normally like to ride in automobiles but the suffering that many endure in a car during the warm weather is really pitiful. The suffering doesn't occur while the car is moving, but when an inconsiderate owner parks his machine and locks his dog inside. The sun beating down makes the interior a furnace. Even if one window is partly open the heat inside is unbearable. It isn't uncommon for a dog to die from the effects of the terrific heat. If you must leave your pet in the car, park it in the shade and open all the windows as wide as possible.

Question: How many dog cemeteries are there in the United States?—G. T.

Answer: There are close to fifty and they are scattered all over the country. Many are beautifully landscaped and well taken care of.

Question: We have had many arguments as to which is the best type of collar for a dog—a wide or narrow one. Which do you favor?—R. L. N.

Answer: A narrow collar is the best.

Question: How long does it take for food to pass through the digestive system of a dog?—J. B.

Answer: Approximately seventeen hours in an adult dog. In puppies the length of time is less.

Italian Society Holds Fiesta

The annual fiesta conducted by the Societa Maria del Carmine of Nonantum started on Saturday evening of last week at the Hawthorn st. playground when a vaudeville and moving picture show was given, together with a band concert by the New Marine Band of Everett under the direction of Michele Leccese. On Sunday a parade started at Our Lady's Church headed by James D'Angelo, chief marshal, Mayor Childs and Sheriff Joseph McElroy. In the parade were over 1000 men, women and children marchers, representing Italian organizations of Nonantum and other places in Greater Boston. Music was provided by several bands and drum corps, including the New Marine Band, Newton Post, A. L. Band, Elsie Janis Drum Corps and the drum corps of the Sons of V. F. W. Eugene Daley Post. The parade proceeded over Nonantum streets as numerous bombs were discharged, and was disbanded at the Hawthorn st. playground where it was reviewed by Mayor Childs and Sheriff McElroy. The most prominent feature of the procession was an ornately decorated statue of Our Lady of Mount Carmel which was escorted by Rev. James Fahey and acolytes from Our Lady's Church.

Sunday evening a band concert was given by the New Marine Band. The fiesta was to have been concluded on Monday night with an elaborate display of fireworks, but the rainy weather caused a postponement until Saturday night, July 23rd, when in addition to the fireworks a band concert will also be given.

McCarthy in Charge Of Street Dept.

Charles J. McCarthy of 52 Channing rd., Newton Centre was appointed acting Street Commissioner on Monday by Mayor Childs to succeed the late Charles A. Mahoney. Mr. McCarthy is a native and lifelong resident of Newton and has been in the employ of the Newton Street Department since he was a boy. In 1895 he was made clerk at the City Hall. In 1914 he was promoted to be division foreman, in charge of the Newton, Newtonville and Nonantum sections, and he has for years been senior division foreman. His lifelong experience in street construction and maintenance work has given him unusual knowledge in this field.

Dump Fire At Newton Highlands

That combustible materials are still being deposited in dumps in this city was evidenced last Saturday night when firemen had to go to the dump on Pico rd., off Beacon st., near the old Purity Ice Company building at Newton Highlands to extinguish a fire which was smoking up that section. The expensive incinerator erected a few years ago at Newton Highlands was expected to end the nuisance of fires in dumps.

Claim Injury Led To Man's Death

Last Friday an inquest was held at the Newton district court before Judge Murray of Milford on the death of Sidney Cornell, 48, of 15 Jackson ter., Newton, who died on April 30. Medical Examiner Gallagher gave the cause of Cornell's death as heart disease, but testified that a contributory cause was an injury to Cornell's back received when he collided with a post at the Highland Trust Company building in Somerville last February when he was working there as a State bank examiner. Others who testified at the inquest were Mrs. Helen Cornell, widow of the deceased; and Dr. P. F. Lowry. Judge Murray reserved his decision. The purpose of the inquest was to decide whether, or not, the injury to Cornell's back was a contributory cause of his death.

Newton Boy Is Annapolis Winner

Hugh Van Roosen, 16 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Van Roosen, 44 Grafton st., Newton Centre, and an appointee of Congressman Robert Luce, has been admitted to Annapolis after successfully passing his entrance examinations. He prepared for the Naval Academy at an Annapolis prep school and graduated last June from Newton High School. He is an Eagle Scout with three palms, highest honor obtainable in Boy Scouts of America. Norumbega Council.

Several Want To Be City Physician

Several physicians in this city have made applications to be appointed as successor to the late Dr. Alvin Cummings in the office of City Physician. Some of the candidates are men who have practiced medicine for many years in the city, and at least one is a life long resident. Upon Dr. Cummings' death Mayor Childs appointed Dr. Sidney Derow of Rice st., Newton Centre, as acting city physician.

Charles A. Mahoney Dies Suddenly

Charles A. Mahoney, Street Commissioner of Newton, died suddenly of cerebral hemorrhage at his home, 36 Walter st., Newton Centre, on Saturday morning, July 16. He was stricken as he was preparing to go to his office at City Hall and died within a couple of hours. He was to have started on his annual vacation on that day. Mr. Mahoney was born in Newton on April 21, 1896, the son of Daniel and Mary (McCarthy) Mahoney. He graduated from Newton High School in 1914 and was president of his class. In 1915 he was appointed as clerk at the Crafts st. yard of the Newton

CHARLES A. MAHONEY

Street Department. During the World War he attended the aviation school at M. I. T. and served at Kelly Field, Texas, and Fort Sill, Oklahoma. In 1922 he was appointed a division foreman in the Street Department, in charge of the streets in the South Side of the city. On August 6, 1934, he was made Street Commissioner by Mayor Weeks to succeed the late George Stuart.

Mr. Mahoney was elected this year president of the Massachusetts Highway Association. He had been a member of the Newton Retirement Board since its formation several years ago, and a few weeks ago was elected chairman of this board. He was a past president of the Newton Kiwanis Club, a member of Newton Lodge of Elks, and of the Royal Arcanum. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Lucy (Leah) Mahoney; a stepson, Howard Miller; and four brothers, Lieut. William Mahoney of the Newton Police, Daniel Mahoney of Tulsa, Oklahoma, Robert Mahoney of Houston, Texas, and J. Joseph Mahoney of Newton.

Mr. Mahoney's funeral service was held on Tuesday morning at Sacred Heart Church, Newton Centre. The requiem mass was celebrated by Rev. John Reynolds. Mr. Mahoney's popularity was attested by the gathering which crowded the church, including employees of the street department, city officials and employees, and delegations from the various organizations of which the deceased had been a member. Burial was in St. Patrick's Cemetery, Watertown, where committal prayers were read by Rev. James Fahey of Our Lady's Church, Newton, and Rev. Francis Driscoll, chaplain of St. Elizabeth's Hospital. Military honors were accorded by members of Newton Post, American Legion, under the direction of Commander J. Sherman Irving.

Blames Newton for Boston Accident

Bertha Guilmette of 412 Baker st., West Roxbury has filed a claim against the city of Newton for injuries received on June 22 when she was thrown from her bicycle opposite 788 Baker st., West Roxbury, near the Newton line. Her attorney alleges that employees of the city of Newton allowed water to flow from a hydrant on Dedham st., Oak Hill, near the West Roxbury line, that this water flowed into and filled the hole on the street in West Roxbury, and thus caused the claimant not to see the hole.

111 DAYS No Fatal Accident in NEWTON

DRIVE SAFELY
LET'S NOT SPOIL THE RECORD

More Burglaries In the Newtons

Two more burglaries were reported to the Newton police last Thursday to be added to the many which have been committed in this city the past several weeks. Mrs. Elizabeth Jackson of 445 Crafts st., West Newton, informed the police that the back door at the home of Pearl Maynard at 459 Crafts st. had been observed opened after Miss Maynard had left the house a few hours previously to start on her annual vacation. Inspectors King and Burke went to the house and found it had been entered and ransacked. The dwelling adjoins the Albemarle Golf links.

On the same day the police received word that the home of Mrs. Ruth Rooney at 146 Woodchester drive, Chestnut Hill, had been entered and looted sometime between Wednesday evening and Thursday evening, during the absence of the occupants of the house.

Edward Murphy of 27 Algonquin rd., Chestnut Hill, reported to the Newton police on Wednesday that his home had been entered the preceding night during the absence of the family and ransacked.

Edward Cohen of Tremont st., Newton reported to the police on Wednesday that when he returned to his home after an absence of two weeks he found that someone had entered it and stolen electric fixtures from the living-room and dining-room.

Bad Check Passer Goes Back to Jail

Albert Prevost, formerly of Newton Centre, who was arrested several months ago by Inspector Hammell of the Newton police on an old warrant, issued after Prevost had passed worthless checks at two Newton Centre stores 5 years ago, was sentenced by Judge Mayberry in the Newton court on Tuesday to serve 30 days in prison on one of the charges. After Prevost had been arrested by Hammell he was convicted in the Newton court of larceny of $10 for passing one of the checks, and on this charge was sentenced to a jail term. When released, he was again arraigned on the other charge, involving a check for $25.50. He was given a suspended sentence on condition that he make restitution, but having failed to do so, was arrested again at his place of employment in Cambridge last Monday night.

Arrest Driver of Blazing Auto

It was a tough break for William Boyd, 44, of 133 Grove st., Watertown when his automobile short-circuited and became ablaze about 1:45 a. m. on Wednesday. Patrolmen Litchfield and White observed the car afire at Washington and Park sts., Newton and halted the driver. Then they placed Boyd under arrest for being under the influence of liquor. The fire, however, could not be attributed to his condition. In court on Wednesday morning he was fined $50 by Judge Mayberry. Clemency was extended to two speeders who were arraigned in the Newton court on that day. Charges against Harold Sonneborn of Hotel Canterbury, Boston, and Warren Devine of Slocum rd., Lexington, were filed. Devine was also charged with not stopping before entering a through way.

Newtonville Home Broken Into

Stanley Smith of 341 Albemarle rd., Newtonville reported to the police on Tuesday that his home had been broken into and ransacked during the preceding 24 hours while he was absent from the house. Entrance was effected by breaking a window.

Newton Child Badly Burned

Nancy Crane, 4, of 25 Oakland st., Newton, was critically burned on Monday afternoon at her home when her clothing became ignited while she was playing with matches. Her mother, Mrs. Anna Crane, received severe burns on her hands in tearing the blazing clothing from the child. The little girl was alone in a room and set some papers afire. Her screams brought her mother to her rescue from another room in the house. Police headquarters were notified and the little girl and her mother were rushed to Newton Hospital in the police ambulance. The child was found to have received second degree burns on her back, chest and arms. She has since been in a critical condition at the hospital.

Drunken Driving Case Again Set Back

The trial of Pasquale Cappello, 22, of 51 Oak ave., West Newton, charged with driving a car while under the influence of liquor, was postponed for a second time in the Newton court on Tuesday. On July 3 a car driven by Cappello crashed into a tree on Cypress st., Newton Centre, and a man riding in the car was injured. Patrolmen Hoyt and Taffe, together with Inspectors Burke and Hammell, investigated the accident, and as a result Cappello was summoned to appear in court on July 12. On that day his lawyer, William Ginsberg, asked for a continuance because he had just come into the case, and Judge Allen ordered that the trial be held on July 19. Last Tuesday when the case was called, Attorney Ginsberg showed a telegram from Cappello in which the latter stated he was unable to appear because he had ptomaine poisoning as a result of eating lobsters at New Bedford. Lieut. Crowley, who was prosecuting the case, objected to the second continuance and called Judge Mayberry's attention to the fact that the defendant should have submitted a physician's certificate. As the police had two Newton Centre business men present as witnesses, Crowley asked that their testimony be heard, but the judge refused and granted another continuance until July 25.

Fifty Added To Newton WPA List

During the past week about 50 men were added to the number on WPA rolls in Newton, making a total of over 800. Some will be assigned to the large number already at work on improving South Meadow Brook at Oak Hill, some have been assigned to the job of razing the old building near the Plummer Memorial Library at Audubon, and recently donated to the city by Frederick Plummer. Others will be assigned to the project of completing the stone wall around the Water Department at Edinboro st., Newtonville.

Automobile Accidents

Cars driven by Robert Ciccone of 17 Chase street, Newton Centre and William Crawford of Dedham, collided on Saturday at Walnut and Bowers streets, Newtonville. Mrs. Christine Ciccone of Beacon street, Newton Centre, was slightly injured in the collision.

A car driven by George Taylor, Jr., 22, of 30 Foster street, Newtonville, and a bicycle ridden by Merton Wilton, 10, of 147 Edinboro street, Newtonville at 7:10 p. m. last Saturday, collided on Foster street, Newtonville. The boy received a slight injury to his right arm. Taylor reported that he had stopped his car at the intersection of Walnut street and the bicycle hit the automobile.

Ragweed Campaign Making Progress

Led by the personal efforts of Mayor Edwin O. Childs, the drive to eliminate ragweed from Newton, sponsored by the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs, has met with most gratifying results. Permission is required to go on privately owned lots to remove ragweed. Any person reporting ragweed growing on a privately owned lot is requested to give the name of the owner. The storms of the past week have hastened the

Charles P. Howard Tells Rotarians That Democrats Are Using Spoils System

Says Both National and State Administrations Have Broken Down Civil Service System

Charles P. Howard of Reading, Vice-President of the Civil Service Assembly of the United States and Canada, and former Chairman of the State Commission on Administration and Finance, was the guest speaker at the Monday noon meeting of the Newton Rotary Club.

Declaring that there has been a serious weakening of the public service as a result of the wholesale exercise of the "spoils system" in both National and State Governments, he said that once the people realized that the "spoils system" is a threat to their security and their pocketbooks, they will put a stop to it.

"The tremendous increase in the number of unemployed during the past few years has produced steadily increasing pressure upon public officials to give jobs to their supporters, which has led to a break down in the merit system of appointment to public service. It must be obvious that the resulting decrease in the efficiency of government is due to a widespread loosening of moral fiber among public officials."

"Accompanying the break down in the merit system has been a colossal increase in public expenditures which has brought a relaxation of effort to obtain full value for the money expended. A few years ago there were many governmental units where the taxpayer could reasonably hope to receive a dollar's worth of service for every dollar which he contributed. Today, to secure the same service, due to this decreased efficiency in government, the taxpayer must pay many more dollars."

"The breakdown of the merit system is totally unfair to those who are out of employment. Every citizen is entitled, especially when jobs are scarce, to have his fair chance to obtain employment from the largest individual employer, that is, from the government. The appointment of individuals to public positions on the basis of 'pull' rather than on the basis of merit shuts out of the public service all those who are not fortunate enough to have the ear of some important politician. Under the merit system, of course, any citizen, if he has sufficient capacity, can receive the appointment. This is fair. This is decent. This is the method which is provided by law here in Massachusetts and in many other jurisdictions throughout the country."

"The citizen is vitally interested also as a taxpayer in the maintenance of the merit system for appointment to public positions. The employee who is chosen by the head of a department, division, bureau or institution, for reasons of merit alone, knows that he enters the service as a well-qualified individual. He knows that he is expected to perform capably the work for which he was employed. He enters the service with the desire to work and with the feeling that his work must be satisfactory if he is to hold his job."

"The individual who is appointed to a public position for political reasons, on the contrary, usually is not as well qualified as the person who is chosen for reasons of merit alone. Furthermore, he is appointed, not because he is the choice of the head of the department or institution, but because of the influence of some politician. He, consequently, looks upon the duties of his position with no feeling of responsibility to his immediate superiors in the service. He does not feel that his work must be satisfactory to them if he is to hold the job. He feels that his personal strength is superior to that of those who, theoretically, are his superiors in the service, because he knows that they will not dare to dismiss him unless his political sponsor permits it. It is not surprising, therefore, that most political appointees tend to relax, once the desired appointment has been secured. To perform a given amount of work requires many more individuals when appointments are made by politicians than when appointments are made for merit alone. This means increased cost to the taxpayer."

"Many of the services rendered to the people by their various government agencies are absolutely vital to safety, health, even to the preservation of life itself. Public employees in the police and fire departments protect your safety day and night. Public employees analyze the water which is consumed by every citizen who lives in an area where there is a public water supply. Public employees inspect the apparatus which is used to pasteurize milk. Public employees inspect slaughter houses and factories where meat products are manufactured. They inspect plants where all beverages are bottled. They inspect all public halls and other places of assembly, factories and boilers, railroad carriages, street cars.

"Do you want the individuals who are to safeguard your life and health and your safety appointed for political reasons or for reasons of merit?"

Would any of you, in choosing a chemist to analyze the water which you and your family are going to drink tomorrow morning, choose him because he was the friend of some politician? Of course you would not. If you had any reason to suspect that the water supply for your home was contaminated, you would find the best qualified chemist that could be obtained to analyze that water. Yet, if you tolerate application of the 'spoils system' in your various governmental organizations, you will find that, in fact, you have chosen the friend of some politician to safeguard the purity of the water that flows into your home."

"As I have already said, there has been all over the country a general relaxation of moral fiber among public officials, which has resulted in the breakdown of the merit system in public employment, and the reappearance of the 'spoils system'. This condition will continue unless public opinion is aroused to prevent it. As former President Lowell pointed out in his book 'Public Opinion and Popular Government,' the real sovereign in the United States is public opinion. The people of the United States, the people of Massachusetts, the people of Newton, can have the kind of government that they want and need, if they will arise and assert themselves. If they tolerate abuses they will have only themselves to blame when the results of those abuses occur."

"I do not believe that the people will permit breakdown of their governmental services. Once they actually realize that they are spending more dollars for less service; that the 'spoils system' is a threat to their security and their pocketbook, they will put a stop to it."

Thousands Signing Papers for Luce

The office of Congressman Robert Luce of the 9th Massachusetts district reports more than 20,000 signatures to papers being circulated in his candidacy for the Republican nomination for re-election. Thousands of Newton voters are numbered among the signers. Congressman Luce is now spending a well earned vacation in Maine. He will return the latter part of August to launch an active campaign.

Ignored Traffic Lights, Fined $3

Myron Vincent of 37 Waldorf rd., Newton Highlands, was fined $3 by Judge Mayberry in the Newton court on Tuesday for driving past two traffic signals at West Newton when the lights showed red and yellow. Vincent claimed that he stopped, but Patrolman Maguire testified that the defendant did not obey the lights.

A FALSE ISSUE

Although it is not our intention to repeatedly discuss one particular subject, the situation pertaining to unemployment relief and the distribution of gas tax receipts constitutes an important problem. Within the past week news reports have related how organized labor has entered the discussion with suggestions aimed at arriving at a settlement. And still the Governor and the Legislature are apparently as far apart as ever.

It should be generally understood that the relief of unemployment, the concern of all those holding governmental office and not the concern of any particular political party, is in this instance, largely exaggerated. The current legislative session has surpassed many previous sessions in the appropriation of millions of dollars for the construction, maintenance, and other work upon state and county highways. Today there is available some twenty-five millions of dollars. Considerable of this sum was appropriated by the state in the general and supplementary budget bills, while other millions have been allotted to Massachusetts by the Federal government. And of even greater concern is the fact that much of this money, although available, has not yet been put to work. In addition there will shortly be available approximately five millions of dollars more for construction of the extension of the north Metropolitan sewer. With nearly thirty millions of dollars in the kitty where is the justification for labor or any other group or party seeking additional funds which obviously will be used for political campaign purposes.

Thus the existing issue on Beacon Hill is being beclouded by side issues which make good political argument. President Wragg of the State Senate and Speaker Cahill of the House of Representatives and other Republican leaders are leading a fight for a principle which should not go unheeded. That principle, far from being the desire for political advantage at the expense of the unemployed, is over the distribution of gasoline tax receipts. It should be distributed to the cities and towns throughout the Commonwealth whose residents have contributed it. And it should be used for local highway projects or at least as an offset to local highway appropriations if the community deems it inadvisable to enlarge its appropriations for such work this year.

CHARLES A. MAHONEY

For the second time within a week Newton has been sadly awakened to the uncertainty of this life in the sudden passing of Street Commissioner Charles A. Mahoney. Mr. Mahoney, during his years of service in the street department, enjoyed an ever-widening acquaintanceship and friendship. In addition to his public duties he found time to devote considerable thought to the service of others through his membership and official position in the Newton Kiwanis Club. His friendly smile and pleasing personality will be greatly missed by all.

RUSSELL STUDENTS IN CONCERT

William McAlpine, baritone, a voice pupil of Mrs. Florence Wood Russell, was guest soloist on Sunday evening at the orchestral concert at the Ocean-side Hotel in Magnolia, presenting two groups of songs with signal success.

Mrs. Russell has also booked her tiny six-year-old artist, Fin Regan, for the evening of August 14th, at the same exclusive resort, and her quartet, consisting of Ethel Watson, soprano; Sylvia Russell, contralto; Donald Read, tenor, and William McAlpine, baritone, for the evening of August 21st. Little Fin will offer a ballet number "Liebesfreud," and will sing two groups of art songs, while the four adult singers are to present the song cycle "In a Persian Garden," by Liza Lehmann.

Other engagements, including one at the Isabella Stewart Gardner Museum and the Children's Museum, are pending arrangement of dates.

REAL ESTATE

Carley Realty reports the sale of the property, 167 Mount Vernon st., Newtonville, for the Winchendon Savings Bank. The property consists of a six-room English frame cottage with oil heat and garage. The lot contains approximately 6000 feet.

Editor, Newton Graphic:

How well I remember my years at the Newton High. Newton at that time prided itself on the new addition to the High School. It was of two stories and of wood, directly in front of the old building, built when the school was started in the late fifties.

The highest class was called the First Class and so on down to the Fourth or Freshman. The Fourth had about one hundred who started in Sept. 1877.

The whole school had about two hundred and eighty pupils.

Military Drill for the boys and calisthenics for the girls were introduced at that time. Lieut. Carter, a West Point graduate on leave of absence, had charge of the boys and Miss Ireson was the calisthenics teacher for the girls. We had military drill twice a week. Maj. W. Claxton ("Tan") Bray was the head of the Battalion and C. Peter Clark, Ed. Converse and Charles G. Morton, our captains.

Before the end of the year Capt. Morton was appointed to West Point by Rep. Claffin, who had been governor. Morton was in the regular army until retired in 1925 with the rank of Senior Maj. Gen.

We were armed with old Civil War muzzle loaders. The smaller or "Pony" Company had the muskets shortened.

Our principal was Mr. Waterhouse, with Mr. Sampson, Mr. Kent and T. Bond Lindsay, assistants. Mr. Lindsay only stayed one year, when he was appointed Professor at Boston University. S. Warren Davis was then appointed and was there many years. He was very well liked, though I thought the boys sometimes "put it over on him." Mr. Kent was a colorful character. He was about 6 ft. 5 in. tall. He was a graduate of Harvard and played with the Boston Nationals at one time. On rainy days when we couldn't play football at recess, he used to come out and under the eaves George Martin caught his throws bare-handed. The rest of us stood around and grinned but few of us dared to try to catch his bullet like flings. Mr. Martin is still alive and able to drive an auto according to reports in the papers.

Mr. Kent for many years later was head of the Concord, N. H., high school. Mr. Sampson had charge of chemistry and physics. He, too, was a positive character but very fair.

Mr. Lindsay and Mr. Sampson were the room teachers of the fourth class. Miss Spence of the second, Mr. Kent of the third, and Mr. Waterhouse of the first or senior class. The other teachers were Miss Hanson, Miss Foote and Miss Worcester. The first building was still used besides the new addition.

Even at that time Newton had very competent instructors.

The boys generally played football at recess. The first and second classes against the third and fourth. We had no regular team "them" days either in football or baseball but we all enjoyed playing the games.

Several scholars from the outlying districts drove to school in a horse and buggy. There were sheds then just like the old churches. No street cars in Newton at that time but a bus through Newton Centre to the Upper Falls. Many on the north side of Newton used the street cars but a large majority walked to school.

I should have mentioned Mr. Waterhouse in more detail. He was a very able man and well liked by all. I think New York finally "got" him away from Newton.

There were several in my class who became prominent later, the two Warren Bros. of West Newton, A. P. Langtry, Billy Woods, Frank Hale, Fred Gay, George Eddy, E. H. Sanborn, Judge Bacon, Arthur G. Webster, E. H. Chandler, John Cutler, and Prof. Mary Perkins of Wellesley College.

Other schoolmates but in different classes from me who were more or less successful were Dr. Utley, Dr. Lancaster, Winthrop Burr, A. Stuart Pratt, Rev. Henry Pinkham, Frank Holden and Frank Mason. Probably there are others who became successful in some line. Should be glad to hear from any of my old friends or schoolmates.

NEWTON UPPER FALLS GARDEN CLUB HOLD MID-SUMMER MEETING

Mrs. Harold T. Sprague assisted by Mrs. Carl E. Cedergren of Indiana, served an outdoor supper to the members of the garden club at the home of Mrs. Sprague on Thursday evening, July 14. Following the supper the president presided at the monthly meeting. Miss Alice M. Temperley read the poem, "The Key to a Beautiful Garden," by Rudyard Kipling. There was a beautiful display of flowers from the gardens of some of the club members, who submitted bouquets in a contest of Flower Arrangement.

Gifts of Killarney roses were awarded to the following members: 1st prize, Patriotic bouquet, Miss Florence Osborne; 2nd prize, color combination, Mrs. James McNeally.

3rd prize—Daintiest bouquet, Mrs. John Temperley, award, 6; 4th prize original Cape Cod bouquet, Miss Grace Hunt.

An Open Forum was held at the close of the awards during which the control of Garden Posts were discussed and directions for the sowing of next year's perennials were given by the president. Centerpieces, bouquets of Sweet Peas from the garden of Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. McLaughlin added to the dainty arrangement of the tables.

Y. M. C. A.

Track

The entries for the 5th Annual Track Meet at the Newton "Y" to be held on July 23 at the "Y" track are rolling in and it is expected that the greatest field ever will compete.

The Henry C. Pierce Mile, a special feature of the meet, has drawn such outstanding runners as Joe Gallant, N. E. A. A. U. Champion; Bob Hunt, Two-State Y. M. C. A. Champion; Don Fleet, Walter Scott, mile winner of the Caledonian Games this year; Paul Kanaly, winner of many mile races for the past few years; Art Linthwaite, the Newton "Y's" best middle distance runner, who will step up to this distance to try for a leg on this beautiful trophy; Mike Lally of Watertown, Bob Carroll of Belmont and a host of others who are intent on taking this trophy.

The host of the day, the Newton "Y" has the largest entry to date. Don Carey, who will compete in the 100 and 440; Jimmy Walsh, Johnny Morris and Bob Wheeler in the 100, Broad Jump and Hop, Step and Jump; Art Linthwaite in the 440, 880 and Special Mile; Ivan Hunt in the 440 and 880; Bob Hunt in the 880 and Special Mile; Tom O'Connor in the 440 and 880; Alfred Carroll in the 3-mile, along with Gene Kelley, Jack Alden and Will Poukott. The high jump brings Joe Blair and Ted Hammond out again and the hop, step and jump with Bob Stuart, Jimmy Walsh, Bob Wheeler and Danny Boormeester furnishing the competition. The shot put winds up the entries for the "Y" with Bob Stuart and Frank Garafalo.

With the many clubs sending in their entries, it is expected that there will be at least 100 competitors on hand for the different events.

Baseball

The highlight in baseball activities was reached last Friday when the Y. M. C. A. Senior Baseball Team defeated the league leading Auburndale nine, 1 to 0, to gain a first-place tie with that team in the City "Twit" League.

The game was a thriller with Jim Feeley smashing out the hit which drove in the only and winning run of the game. John "Red" Joyce pitched stellar ball, showing real competitive spirit in the manner in which he staved off possible runs by the opposition and mastered the situation when the odds seemed to be against him.

The fine defensive play of the Y. M. C. A. team as a whole was an ever present background to good pitching. John "Pepper" Martin, catcher; Martin Boormeester, 1st; William "Bill" Kearns, 2nd; James "Spud" Feeley, short stop; Urban Deagle, 3rd; Nicholas "Nick" Colantuono, center field; Louis Vatti, left field; Joe McCarthy, right field.

The strong opposition given by the Auburndale Club playing their usual brand of ball made this one of the best competed games played in the City "Twit" League.

Rainy weather has kept the three boys' teams inactive for some time. The boys are eager to get back on the field for competition.

CAMP DAY NOTES

Director Hess of Camp Day Delivers Sermon at Camp Atwater

Clyde G. Hess, director of Camp Frank A. Day delivered the sermon at Camp Atwater on last Sunday before a group of 228 campers. Mr. Hess was the guest as a result of an invitation extended by Dr. DeBerry, Director of Camp Atwater. The Camp Day Director likened the human voice to a brooding station and warned his hearers of the dangers resulting from the programs of unbridled tongues. The simple language employed in the sermon, as well as native-born eloquence made the message one of real force. Mr. Hess has placed himself to the forefront in this field through his direct and earnest language.

Camp Atwater Boys to Visit Camp Day

Camp Frank A. Day will play host to 24 boys from Camp Atwater next week in a novel invitation extended by Director Hess to the boys of Camp Atwater on Sunday last. The colored boys of the well-known Camp Atwater were overjoyed at this proffered opportunity, for it opened to them the chance to visit a camp which they had heard pleasant words of, but had never seen.

The members of the Junior Camp Cabinet, single representatives from each tent in the Junior Camp, were happy of the opportunity to be the hosts and have offered the full use of the waterfront equipment to the boys when they arrive. This will appeal to the Camp Atwater boys for they have but four canoes and two rowboats for their two hundred boys while Camp Day boys enjoy not only twenty canoes and twelve rowboats, but also first sailboats and two motorboats.

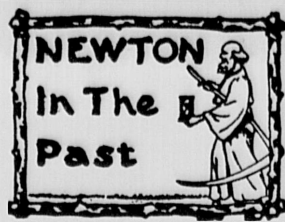

Each tent will have one boy from Camp Atwater for the noon and evening meals and will bid farewell to their guests well after the evening meal.

Bell Presented to Camp Day

A long-felt want was filled by a gracious gift of Mrs. Grace L. Coan to Camp Day this past week when she presented to Clyde G. Hess, Director of the Camp a huge bell to be placed on the roof of the bathhouse for waterfront emergencies. Calling campers in from swim sometimes has been a slow process with a whistle, and this has been made more difficult with the new "Buddy" system which calls for a check-up of boys twice during the course of each swim after a signal on the whistle. Now the bell will give the waterfront leaders the chance to use the bell to call out swimmers after the time limit.

Prescott Coan, son of Mrs. Coan, is the tent leader for Tent 1 of the Senior Camp and may be regarded as a story in himself. In height he is six feet, five inches tall and weighs 150 pounds.

Bunting & Thomas have put on a new light order-wagon for their fish market.

Forty-one dollars was contributed last Sunday by Grace Church for the new St. Paul's chapel at Newton Highlands.

When respectable, well-to-do people are met in Boston carrying bundles of all sizes and shapes, and behaving as if they were not accustomed to such exercise, depend upon it—they are Boston & Albany commuters who are determined to carry bundles to the utmost limit of their strength rather than submit to the increased tariff the railroad has placed on such packages.

The Clintons of Ruddyville played the Shaw Mouths of Mack's Village on the 19th, beating them by a score of 10 to 7.

Thursday, July 19 the new St. Paul's Chapel at Newton Highlands was dedicated with appropriate ceremonies. The growth of this church has been very rapid since the first meeting for its organization was held on January 26 of this year. The first public service was held on February 4 in Knights of Honor Hall. Rev. G. W. Shinn of Grace Church, Newton officiating. Attendance at Sunday services have averaged over 100 and the Sunday School of 60 members is in a flourishing condition. Effort for erection of a chapel was started in March, and $1600 has already been pledged, all but $100 having been contributed by members of the church themselves. The building is an attractive Gothic structure, costing only $2600, but it has the effect of an elaborate structure.

The public hearing given by the Board of Aldermen on Thursday evening to City Marshal Hinds called out a large gathering. The marshal's case was ably handled by E. W. Cate. Mayor Ellison, who had demanded the Marshal's resignation was unable to be present because of sickness. The charges of the Mayor were briefly as follows—insufficient preparation of cases in court, want of harmony between members of the police and the marshal, unnecessary delay by the marshal in the case of liquor seizure in the Murphy case, Hardman shooting case not pushed into trial, notifying liquor sellers of intended raids, reckless conduct in the Rawlins case, and his conduct in the Taylor case in searching a house and disturbing a dying man. The charges were taken in order and evidence brought forward to disprove every one. Ten of the fourteen police officers testified to having confidence in their chief and having pleasant relations with him. Asst. District Attorney Cooney and Sheriff Fiske testified that Marshal Hinds was not at fault in the liquor cases. No evidence was offered by the other side. Mr. Cate argued that every charge had been disproved and that there was no cause for the removal of the marshal other than that the Aldermen were determined to do so. The Board went into executive session and after considerable discussion voted to remove the Marshal by a vote of 5 to 2.

Milk shake is now the popular drink and Arthur Hudson's new milk shake machine is hardly able to supply the demand.

One of the members of the Boston battery of artillery which passed through Newton on Monday on way to the militia camp muster at Framingham, had evidently been imbibing too freely. He fell off the horse he was riding and received painful bruises.

There will be a hearing in Boston next Wednesday before the Gas Commission on the application of the Newton & Watertown Gas Light Company to put in an electric light plant. There will probably be a large attendance.

Newton's popularity as a summer resort is shown by the fact that the Hotel Hunnewell is well filled with guests and a large number of its patrons have had to seek rooms at different houses on Brighton Hill. Ex-Alderman Harwood, proprietor of the hotel, says he could have easily filled a house twice the size. A large wing is being added to the hotel.

We hope that Congress in the River and Harbor Bill will make a generous appropriation for the dredging of the Charles River as far as Watertown. This is much more needed than most of the appropriations which have been log-rolled into the bill.

A curious dog was discovered by the police at West Newton last Saturday. His master was lying by the side of a street, intoxicated, and the dog was in the same condition. It was part Scotch terrier and part mongrel and its head was nearly as large as its body, with the ears and general expression of a donkey. Both the dog and the man were taken to the police station.

Powers' Paragraphs

Howard Hughes, assisted by three other aviators and a navigator flew across the Northern part of the earth in 91 hours, covering a distance of 14,824 miles. According to newspaper statements it cost Mr. Hughes $300,000 to prepare for and make the hectic journey. The big airplane in which the journey was made travelled at an average of over 200 miles per hour. Hughes and his companions travelled a long distance but they went so high and so fast that they saw little, or nothing of the countries over which they journeyed. That Trip "Around the World in 80 Days" conceived by Jules Verne about 50 years ago, was much more interesting and intriguing than was Hughes' flight.

New Yorkers pride themselves on living in the world's most sophisticated community. But their practice of emptying the contents of waste baskets onto heroes and celebrities who are being honored, causes some doubts in the minds of non-New Yorkers as to the intelligence of the inhabitants of that big city.

The hearing before the Public Utilities Commission on the graft money allegedly extorted from the owner of a trucking company by a State official, does not enhance the reputation of Massachusetts.

The long-needed traffic signal at the intersection of Watertown and Chapel sts., Nonantum, was placed in operation last Friday and that which we expected happened. Children, and boys and girls old enough to know better, have been using the signal as a plaything and seriously impeding the heavy traffic along Watertown st. This same misuse of pedestrian traffic signals has been occurring to a lesser degree at Washington and Jewett sts., Washington and Adams sts. and at other places where such signals have been installed in this city. Some member of the Newton police might well be temporarily assigned in plain clothes to apprehend some of the older offenders and have them be compelled to visit police headquarters.

The flying fabricator with the Irish surname and Scotch given name, Douglas Corrigan, took an awful long chance and made good. He took much of the limelight from the overpublicizing of Howard Hughes' "round the world" stunt. But, had he failed, he would have been labelled a foolish hero instead of being acclaimed as a hero.

This is a queer old world, and because it is queer it is as it is. Persons like Howard Hughes and Douglas Corrigan, who do spectacular feats, are lionized and become for a brief time popular idols. It is true that their accomplishments call for tremendous, even reckless courage. But, there are other heroes and heroines on this earth, hundreds of thousands of them, whose deeds go unhonored and unsung. Some men and women perform a brave act—and by risking life for a few days or less, gamble on winning fame and fortune. The unknown heroes and heroines are those who sacrifice their futures, the pursuit of happiness, who surrender their personal ambitions and opportunities in unselfish devotion to some aged father or mother, to some invalid brother or sister. They include also the widows and widowers who struggle bravely to make a home for fatherless or motherless children.

one day this week. Why doesn't someone else along that street armed with a revolver and rid the earth of these curs?

A patent medicine man entertained villagers at Newton Upper Falls last Saturday night. He took his stand near the postoffice, furnished entertainment for the crowd and made numerous sales of medicine.

A new soprano singer has been heard in the home of William Flanders on Crescent ave., Newton Centre. It's a girl.

Last Wednesday eight young Newton Centre people in charge of a chaperon gave a leap-year hayrack ride. It was a pleasant night and the young people had a most enjoyable time.

less children. Their battles against trials and adversities, their contests with physical and mental hazards, are not a matter of hours or days, but of long, bitter years. And they realize full well that no material reward awaits them.

We regret the untimely passing of Charlie Mahoney. We knew the late Street Commissioner since he was a small child. During the four years he headed the Street Department we frequently asked him, sometimes on our own initiative, sometimes at the request of others, to have a highway repair made or some traffic sign or parking line attended to. He never refused a reasonable request, and he always kept any promise he made. Charlie Mahoney had a cheerful, buoyant disposition, but he took the responsibilities of his office very seriously, and during the past three years had been under severe nervous strain. He performed his duties efficiently and conscientiously. His associates in the Street Department and at City Hall, and his legion of friends will miss him.

The club women of Newton are making a serious and practical effort to rid this city as far as possible of "rag weed" in order to aid the large number of persons who are victims of hay fever. This activity is unselfish and highly commendable. Residents of Newton, both young and old, should co-operate by eradicating rag weed in their own yards. It may save you or some member of your family from hay fever later on, or from head colds which are akin to that ailment.

We do not enthrone over the oratorical outburst and threats of John F. Gatelee, president of the Massachusetts branch of the A. F. L., on the deadlock between Governor Hurley and the Legislature. According to Mr. Gatelee, 500,000 distressed and despairing men and women are facing eviction and starvation in this Commonwealth, in addition to 2,000,000 other persons dependent upon them. The controversy between the Governor and the Legislature involves the disposition of $5,500,000. On Gatelee's estimate of 2,500,000 men, women and children in dire need in Massachusetts, the distribution of the sum at issue would allot an average of about $2.20 per person, or even if $10,000,000 were issued, as Gatelee suggests, for relief purposes, it would add but $4 per person, if the needy are as numerous as the labor leader alleges. These trifling amounts would not go far toward relieving starvation and eviction among the needy until next year. And when Mr. Gatelee asserts that there is wholesale starvation in Massachusetts, he cannot expect to be taken seriously by thinking people. His action seems suspiciously favorable, politically, to the Governor. And we are not attempting to absolve the Republican legislators from having played politics at times, and stupid politics at that. But, as we stated in this column a few weeks ago, Governor Hurley's great solicitude for the unemployed seemed to have been delayed until the approach of the primary and the State election. And a very prominent Democrat, who is also a former Governor, recently said about the same thing, except in a more castigatory manner.

We are pleased to learn that our repeated suggestions relative to Newton sidewalks being improved by means of WPA labor are receiving serious consideration from city officials. Several times in the past we have advocated that on such streets as Watertown, Pearl, Adams, River and Walnut, used daily by large numbers of pedestrians, the present apologies for sidewalks be replaced by hard-surfaced walks. Our suggestion that the city ordinances be changed so that such thoroughfares will have improved sidewalks without abutters paying half the cost, bids fair to come before the city government. We know that there are persons in the city who might selfishly attempt to have streets with little pedestrian traffic also so improved, but this would be a poor argument against the long-needed construction of safe sidewalks on the comparatively few "pedestrian highways" in the Newtons. THIRZA EYRE GAMMONS

The funeral of Mrs. Thirza Eyre Gammons, widow of Charles Ellis Gammons, was held on the afternoon of July 15th at St. John's Episcopal Church on Lowell ave., Newtonville. Mrs. Gammons passed away at her home, 46 Brookside ave., on July 13th.

The funeral services were conducted by the Rev. Raymond Lang, rector of the church, assisted by the Rev. Oliver L. Loring of New Bedford, formerly of Newtonville. The pall bearers were J. Ellis Gammons, J. Ellis Bowen, Donald E. Bowen, Robert Gammons and Dean Bassett. Committal service at the cemetery was read by the Rev. Mr. Loring.

Mrs. Gammons was born in Firshy, Lincolnshire, England, Dec. 1, 1848, daughter of Benjamin and Dinah (Brant) Eyre, and had lived in Newton for 54 years. She was one of the earliest members of St. John's Parish and of St. John's Women's Guild and had been a member of the Newtonville Woman's Club for many years.

RECENT DEATHS

JEANNETTE A. GRANT

Miss Jeannette A. Grant, who died last Monday at the Waltham Hospital was for many years a resident of Newtonville where she was well known in club circles of her day. She was born in the West End of Boston upon August 10, 1853; daughter of John and Susan A. Grant. Her family moved to Newton when she was a child. She attended the Newton schools and graduated from the High School in 1871. In the fall of that year she was appointed in charge of the newly organized Franklin School in West Newton. The following year she was transferred to the Jackson School at Nonantum where she remained for seven years. She then resigned and took special courses at Wellesley College. From there she went to Indianapolis and later to Northfield, Mass., in both of which places she taught. Then she established a private school of her own at Newton Corner. The summer of 1889 she spent in Scotland in company with Boston friends and upon her return home she wrote and published a book telling of her experiences while abroad. Her brother Walter C. Grant survives her.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at Newton Cemetery Chapel. Rev. R. Park Johnson officiated. Interment was in the family lot at the Newton Cemetery.

Recent Weddings

FORD—BROUGHTON

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Ida Alice Broughton, youngest daughter of Mrs. George Henry Broughton of Pembroke st., Newton, and Scarborough, Maine, and the late Mr. Broughton, to Austin Francis Ford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Ford of Cambridge and Milford N. H. The ceremony on Thursday, June 30th, took place in the Church of Our Lady of the Presentation, Brighton, and was performed by the Rev. George Keelan S. J., of Boston College, assisted by Msgr. Walsh of St. John's Seminary, Brighton.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Ambrose F. Broughton of Arlington, was attended by her sisters, Mrs. George Taylor Winchester, and Mrs. Samuel J. Pattison as matrons of honor.

Alexander Ford of Cambridge was the brother's best man and another brother Joseph B. Ford, Jr., of Belmont and Mr. Francis M. Broughton, brother of the bride were ushers.

A reception followed at the home of the bride's mother. The bride wore a gown of ivory satin. Her veil of ivory tulle was caught with lilies of the valley. She carried a shower bouquet of the same. Her sisters were attired alike, in white chiffon over mauve blue, with white hats, trimmed with the same. They carried pink roses and larkspur.

Mrs. Broughton, the bride's mother, wore a gown of black lace with cloth of silver jacket, black straw hat and a corsage of yellow roses. Mrs. Ford, mother of the bridegroom wore a gown of blue lace, ecru straw hat and a corsage of pink roses.

After a wedding trip in Maine Mr. and Mrs. Ford will reside in Newton.

The bride attended Miss Perry's School in Boston and has been kindergarten instructor in the Lincoln and Pierce School in Newton. Mr. Ford prepared for college at St. John's School in Danvers and attended Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

COVEL—RICHARDS

Miss Ruth Richards daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gleason Richards of Pelham Manor, New York, was married to Nathan Edwin Covell, Jr., son of Mr. N. Edwin Covell of Chester st., Newton Highlands, at four o'clock on Saturday afternoon, July 16, in the Second Church in Newton, West Newton. Rev. Boynton Merrill performed the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of pale blue, embroidered with marquisette with fitted bodice and full skirt. Her waist-length veil was caught to a chignon cap of the same shade and she carried a bouquet of yellow roses. Mrs. James Marvin Baty of Belmont, sister of the bride, was the matron of honor and Miss Mary Richards of Pelham Manor, another sister, was the bridesmaid. They wore redingote gowns of yellow chiffon with matching hats and carried bouquets of garden flowers in shades of blue and lavender. Miss Sarah Baty, niece of the bride, was the flower girl. She wore an anklelength white dress trimmed with yellow and aqua ribbons and carried an old fashioned bouquet.

Benton Curtis of Newton, brother-in-law of the groom, was the best man and the ushers were Dr. James Marvin Baty and Roger K. Stone of Belmont, Robert E. Hanna of Newtonville and Francis Cobb of Barnstable.

A reception was held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Baty in Belmont. Mrs. Richards, who assisted the couple in receiving, wore a gown of violet chiffon.

Mr. and Mrs. Covell will be at home after August 1 at 66 Burton place, Newton.

DAKIN—YANDELL

Miss Dorothy Alberta Yandell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin A. Yandell of 100 Pine Ridge rd., Waban, was married to Rodney Graham Dakin, son of Mrs. Ida M. Everett of Dorchester and Digby, Nova Scotia, on Wednesday, July 6. The ceremony which took place in the home of the bride's parents was performed by Rev. Elery G. Dakin of New Britain, Conn., an uncle of the groom.

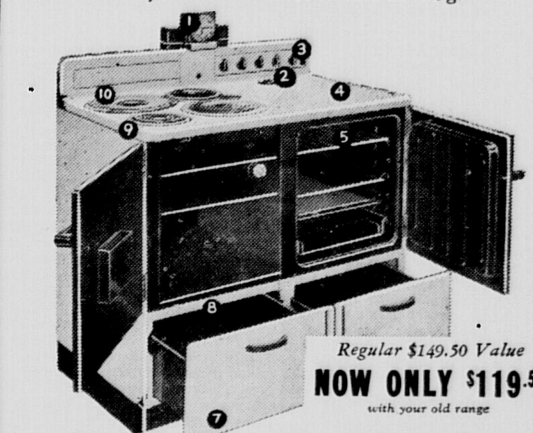

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She was attended by Mrs. John Charles Roberts of Timmins, Ont.

The snuggest escapade in the history of love, as gay as a Mardi Gras, with three delightful stars and merry with Gordon and Revel tunes, brings Don Ameche, Simone Simon and Robert Young to the Coolidge Corner Theatre, Brookline, for a week's run on Friday, July 22nd, in the comedy hit "Josette."

It's vive l'amour in naughty New Orleans as Don and Bob chase Simone, who must think faster than the one and run faster than the other. The tantalizing little coquette has talked herself into a pretty mix-up, so that there are two Josettes, one for the boy's Papa and another for the boys themselves. To prevent papa's proposed remarriage with a scheming beauty, Don and Bob pack him off to New York, so naturally he takes his Josette with him. Josette No. 2 remains in the gray city of the South for the laughingest courtship in the annals of romance. Bert LaRue heads the featured cast with Joan Davis, Paul Hurst, William Collier, Sr., and Tala Birell have prominent roles in the film. The three new song numbers in "Josette" are "May I Drop a Petal in Your Glass of Wine?"; "In Any Language" and "Where in the World."

The outstanding co-feature on this program is "The Crime of Dr. Hallet," a powerful and poignant picture. It tears at the heart strings and holds the interest from the moment that Dr. Hallet is first seen fighting a tragic misunderstanding in his Sumatran

Egyptians Grew Beards

as a Sign of Mourning

The Egyptians, a clean-shaven people, grew beards as a sign of mourning; and the man who couldn't grow a beard wore a false one, states a writer in Pearson's London Weekly.

During the Fourteenth century bearded faces became so fashionable in Spain that many men bought sets of false beards—of various shapes and colors—to be worn to match their clothes and moods.

Louis I, emperor of Bavaria, had a mattress stuffed with the beards of soldiers in his father's regiment. Men with thick beards wear out their collars more quickly than men with a normal growth.

Most men shave when the hair on their chins is about one-sixty-fourth of an inch long. At this rate, a man removes 71 yards of beard between the ages of twenty and sixty-five.

Peter the Great, impressed by French customs which included beardless faces, horrified superstitious Russian patriarchy by making them cut off their long beards, which they believed entitled them to salvation after death. They preserved the beards and had them buried under the pillows in their coffins.

The use of the beard to solemnize important pledges has occurred frequently in history. Three hairs from a king's beard, tucked into sealing wax, were supposed to confer finality to a document. Likewise, a beard was considered security for any promise, and money was raised and contracts were bound by it.

Ulster Boasts Largest

Lake in British Isles

Ulster people do not forget to remind visitors that Lough Neagh, over which a halo of legend, mystery and romance ever plays, is the largest lake in the British Isles, or that island-studded Lough Erne vies with Killarney in serene and placid beauty, observes a writer in the Los Angeles Times.

The "Lake of the Silent Valley," storing over 3,000,000,000 gallons of water to supply the needs of the capital city of Belfast and a chain of intermediate towns, is one of the show places of Ulster. Flanked by heather-clad hills and sentinelled by the towering peaks of Mourne, it has a natural setting of rare and restful peace and tranquillity. Here the silence of the solitude can almost be felt. The water board engineers who first planned the damming of the little Killykeel river that meandered its easy-going way to the Irish sea changed its former name of Happy valley to Silent valley.

Roller Skating

Wheeled skates were used on the roads of Holland as far back as the Eighteenth century, strips of wood to which large wooden spools were attached being fastened to the shoes. It was the invention of the four-wheeled skate working on rubber pads, by J. L. Plimpton of New York in 1863 that made the amusement popular. The first wheels were made of boxwood, and these were followed by the skate with pin bearings, and the Richardson ball-bearing skate in the eighties. Roller skating became the rage in this country and Europe through the nineties and into the first decade of the Twentieth century; since then it has had several spurts of popularity as an adult amusement.

Edison Adored His Mother

After Thomas Edison went home from school and told his mother the teacher said he was addled and hopeless as a pupil, his mother took it upon herself to teach the boy. This is what Edison wrote years later in referring to the incident: "My mother was the most enthusiastic champion that a boy ever had, and I was determined right then that I would be worthy of her and show that her confidence in me was not misplaced. My mother was the making of me. She was so true, so sure of me; and I felt that I had some one to live for, some one that I must not disappoint."

Maker, Unmaker of Kings

Gerbert, bishop of Rheims, who is known to history as Pope Sylvester II, was born in 938. He was the first French pope. He was more than an ecclesiastic; he was also an erudite, a savant, a diplomat; in fact, one of the real rulers of Europe, whose prestige and influence were so great that he became known as "the maker and unmaker of kings." In addition, he was a poet and a writer. According to tradition, Sylvester was born in the hamlet of Belliac near Aurillac, and was educated in the Benedictine monastery of the latter city.

Origin of Name America

The name America was first applied to the continental regions of the Western hemisphere by Martin Waldseemüller, a young geographer at Saint-Die, a town in the Vosges mountains. In a Latin work which he edited in 1507 he used the name America in honor of Amerigo (Americus) Vesputi, whose narrative of the latter's voyages to the New World Waldseemüller had read. "Because Americus discovered it," wrote the geographer, "it ought to be called the land of Americus or America."

Unusual Bargains
In Ocean Travel

Never have been offered so many alluring ocean cruises and tours to Europe, the West Indies, South America, Bermuda, the Saguenay and other places both on this side of the Atlantic and in foreign climes, as the various steamship companies have arranged for this summer and the coming autumn. And in addition, the leading Trans-Atlantic steamship companies offer a round trip to Europe or the British Isles and return for 1½ times the one-way fare, resulting in reductions which run as high as $100. To get this very low rate one must sail from this country between September 4 and October 2, and have the privilege of staying in Europe four weeks exclusive of the day of arrival and the day of departure. If the West bound sailing will be made before September 25th, the difference between half of the excursion rate and half the regular rate must be paid. One can travel third class for as little as $134.50 round trip to a British port, or $177 tourist class, and to Continental ports for slightly higher fares.

On September 7 the 11th annual Post Labor Day tour conducted by the United States Lines will leave New York on the S. S. Manhattan. Frederick J. Reuter, assistant district passenger manager of the Boston office will again be in charge of these tours and the high praise accorded him by the many who have taken the tours in past years is a guarantee of satisfaction to those who will go this year. The tours are of 23 days duration. One includes England, Holland, Belgium and France and its cost is $272.25. Another visits Ireland and England and the rate is $283.50. A third itinerary includes England, Scotland and Ireland and the rate is $306.50. The fourth route covers England, Holland, Germany Switzerland and France, and the rate is $313.25. Persons residing in Boston and vicinity will be given free rail transportation to New York and return. Make your reservation now and take advantage of this exceptional trip.

For persons who want much for little the tours conducted by the Merchant & Miners Line are acceptable. Each Tuesday and Saturday a boat leaves Boston for Norfolk and Baltimore. This trip includes a trip from Baltimore to Washington and a tour of the Capitol. One can take side trips from Norfolk to Virginia Beach for only 75c, or to Williamsburg for $4.50. The cost of this tour, including stateroom and excellent meals is but $42; six nights and four days on the water. A four days' tour to Philadelphia leaves Boston every Monday and Saturday, 3 days on the ocean and a tour of Philadelphia. It costs but $31.50.

The Savannah Line tours to that beautiful, old Southern city continue to be as popular as in former years. Boats leave Boston on 10 days tours to Savannah, including 2 days stay at the palatial De Sota Hotel, and the cost is only $71. Or one can spend 2 days at the Hotel Cloister, Sea Island, Georgia for $7 extra.

For those who prefer to go North the Canada Steamship Lines offer 7 days cruises from Boston to Montreal, Quebec, St. Anne de Beaupre, the Saint Lawrence, Murray Bay and the Saguenay for $78. These tours leave Boston each Saturday until September 3 inclusive. Another 7 days tour from Boston on Sundays and Wednesdays to Niagara Falls, Toronto, Lake Ontario, the St. Lawrence, Thousand Islands, Montreal and Lake Champlain. It costs $79. Then there are the 7 days cruises on the S. S. Richelle from Montreal down the St. Lawrence to Quebec, the lower St. Lawrence, the Saguenay, Chicoutimi, Tadoussac, old Quebec and back to Montreal. The cost from and back to Boston is $96.50.

The Munargo Line cruises leave New York on July 23, August 6 and 20, September 3 and 17, October 1, 15 and 29. Twelve days to Nassau, Miami and Havana. The fare only $125. Ask anyone who has taken this cruise.

one hundred and ninety five pounds. A graduate of Hebrew Academy, Pres will enter his Junior year at Amherst College in the fall where he is a member of the Varsity football team, and the star of the track team. He holds the New England Intercollegiate championship in the shot put, and returned to Camp Day after taking part in the National Track and Field championships at Minnesota University Stadium in June. Camp Day is even more proud of the fact that he is now in the midst of his thirteenth year at the Camp to which he first came as a camper, and now is by far the most popular leader in the camp.

First Waterfront Regatta

On Friday, July 15 Camp Frank A. Day conducted its first waterfront regatta of the current camping season, and the result was one of exciting competition in both the Senior and Junior camps, not only in the close races, and the fact that team championships were determined by the final event, but also due to a heavy thunderstorm which broke when the events were partly completed. A postponement to the following day saw a continuation of the rivalry of the day before, and it was only in the last event of the day that the Cubs were able to win the Senior competition and the Red Sox in the Junior League competition.

Results:
Senior Camp
Single blade—1. Chesley, Giants; 2. Wilson, Cubs; 3. H. Stern, Cubs.
Doubles—1. Houghton-Chesley, Giants; 2. Skagerberg-Axelrod, Pirates; 3. Kaye-Craig, Giants.
In and Outs—1. Wright-Spettel, Pirates; 2. Humphrey Stone, Cubs; 3. Small-Hunting, Giants.
Gunwales—1. Skagerberg, Pirates; 2. Berns, Cubs; 3. Briggs, Giants.
Run, Swim, Paddle—1. Berns, Cubs; 2. Henn, Cubs; 3. Hunting, Giants.
Totals—Cubs 18 points; Giants, 14 points; Pirates, 13 points.

Junior Camp
Singles—1. Callahan, Red Sox; 2. Richards, Indians; 3. Neilsen, Red Sox.
Doubles—1. Lane-Small, Tigers; 2. Hatch-Beeten, Tigers; 3. Belling-Axelrod, Indians.
Gunwales—1. Small, Tigers; 2. Richards, Indians; 3. Berns, Red Sox.
In and Outs—1. Berns-Neilsen, Red Sox; 2. Ricker-Simpson, Indians; 3. Stammers-Hansen, Indians.
Run, Swim, Paddle—1. Callahan, Red Sox; 2. Richards, Indians; 3. Berns, Red Sox.
Individual High Scorers:
Senior Camp—Chesley, Giants, two first places.
Junior Camp—Callahan, Red Sox and Small, Tigers tied with two first places each.

Track Shorts

That track meet Thursday certainly was packed with competition. The Cubs won the meet with a score of 25; second, the Giants with 24; and third, the Pirates with 14. In the junior camp, it wasn't so close. The Sox had 37 points, the Indians 10 points, and the Tigers 7 points. The midget score was as follows: Bears, 22½; Bisons, 20; and the Royals, 11½.

Senior Events

Humphrey was high scorer, winning the broad jump, the 900 yard run, and placing 3rd in the 300 yard race. Chesley took the high jump easily. Houghton had a double win in the 50 yard run. He was pushed by Karb and Keye in the dash and Humphrey and Stern in the 300.
Berns took the 1st honors in the shot put.

Junior Events

Ricker won the shot put easily for the Indians at 24 feet, 8 in.
Callahan was high scorer, winning the 50 yard dash, the broad jump, and the 300 yard run.
McVicar won both the high jump and the 600 yard run. In the six hundred, Smith almost overtook McVicar.

Midget Events

Dave Skagerberg was high scorer, winning the broad jump and the 440 yard run.
Bell and Keyes finished in the order stated in the 25 yard dash.
Sager took the 300 yard race easily, and Keyes won the broad jump.
Hartman made a very long leave to win the baseball throw.

Dry Falls Greater Than Niagara
Historians claim that over 100,000 years ago a cataract 40 times greater than Niagara thundered over the 400-foot face of the Dry Falls of the Columbia river. The Dry Falls, preserved as a state park, has a vista house on the brink of the cliff where visitors may look three and one-half miles across the chasm to its opposite side. It is located at the lower end of the natural Grand Coulee. Geologists claim that a huge river once drained the territory east of the Appalachians into the Pacific, and that the great glacial age changed the prehistoric channel and left the Dry Falls.

Ore Deposits Support Pine
In Cuba, ore deposits support a heavy growth of pine. Columbus is said to have discovered iron ore on his first voyage to the new world because of these pine growths.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Truth" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Science, throughout the world, on Sunday, July 24.

The Golden Text is: "Teach me thy way, O Lord, I will walk in thy truth; unite my heart to fear thy name." (Psalms 86:11).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "For this cause also thank we God without ceasing, because, when ye received the word of God which ye heard of us, ye received it as it is in truth, the word of God, which effectually worketh also in you that believe." (1 Thessalonians 2:13).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science Textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "God requires perfection, but not until the battle between Spirit and flesh is fought and the victory won. To stop eating, drinking, or being clothed materially before the spiritual facts of existence are gained step by step, is not legitimate. When we wait patiently on God and seek Truth righteously, He directs our path" (p. 254).

An Under-Ice Volcano

Vatnajökull is Iceland's under-ice volcano. Even when quiet it is no ordinary volcano. It doesn't even look like one, asserts a writer in the Washington Post, and is buried completely under a glacier. Scientists like that, however. It gives them a chance to use the crater as a giant calorimeter, an instrument for measuring heat. The hotter Vatnajökull gets, the more ice around it melts. Count the cubic miles of melting glacier and you have an excellent index for studying this safety valve of the earth. Most dangerous thing about the crater is the gas it sends out. This is fluorine, perhaps the nastiest of all chemicals. As an acid, it'll eat through practically anything, including glass. It has to be kept in bottles made of wax! Chemical pal of fluorine is hydrogen, and when mixed with water, it'll decompose the H₂O so it can get to the hydrogen and explode!

Found Not Guilty In Dog Case

Judge David Nagle of Boston found Paul Shaw of 600 Beacon st., Newton Centre, not guilty in the Newton court yesterday on a charge of violating a police order to restrain Great Dane Hughes which he owns. Chief of Police Hughes testified that on June 2 he had ordered Shaw to restrain his big canines on complaint of Mrs. Bruce Bear of 550 Beacon st. after her boy had been allegedly bitten by one of the dogs. Recently, according to Mrs. Bear she and a friend were walking along Beacon st. when one of the huge pets ran at them and chased them across the street. Her friend, Mrs. Dorothy Cobb of Waltham substantiated Mrs. Bear's testimony. Questioned by Inspector King, who prosecuted the case, Shaw admitted that the dogs have been barking since the restraining order was issued, but Mrs. Shaw contended that the big dogs' barking was not enough to annoy anyone. Shaw testified that he built a wire fence around his estate at a cost of $2000 to keep his several Great Danes restrained. Inspector King produced photographs showing a sign on the gate at the Shaw estate bearing the warning—"Beware of Dogs." King contended that the fact the dogs have been barking since the restraining order was issued, constituted a violation of the order.

"Oldest City in World" Recalls the Bible Days

Fifty miles from the coastal Syrian city of Beirut lies the once capital of Islam and the "oldest city in the world." Approaching Kanawat station outside the city's crumbling walls the towering great mosque of Omayyads identifies the famed "gates of Damascus" entranceway to the capital to Syria and for four centuries gateway to the Ottoman empire.

Echoes of the ancient past unite in a conglomeration of bygone civilizations with traces of Byzantine empires, Hebrew kingdoms, Greek, Roman and Biblical scenes to greet the traveler within the gates. The whole landscape shows in the peace and calm of beautiful gardens and floral courtyards, fragrant with the Scriptures mentioned of the damask rose, "The Roses of Damascus."

Entering the ancient city from Deraa, mentioned in the Bible as Edrei, once capital city of the giant Og, writes a correspondent in the Los Angeles Times, Damascus resembles the outpost Turkish city as seen from across the Biblical "Land of Bashan." From this approach is the south gate where tradition says that Mohammed twice hesitated to enter Damascus as he wanted to enter Paradise only once. Native life centers on the "Street called Straight," mentioned in the Acts of the Apostles, where stands the house of Judas to which the blind Saul of Tarsus was brought, and other early scenes of Biblical mention.

The "Roarback"

Charges that false reports are used in political campaigns recall the curious origin of the word "roarback," which is a derogatory falsehood published for political effect. A fictitious book, "Travels of Baron Roarback," was quoted in the presidential campaign of 1844 as propaganda against the candidacy of James K. Polk, according to Edward Conrad Smith's "Dictionary of American Politics." Extracts from the mythical book of the equally mythical baron were first printed in the Ithaca (N. Y.) Chronicle, says the "Cyclopedia of American Government." The spelling, "Roarback," was eventually changed by common usage to "roarback."

Union Services At Newtonville

The fourth in the series of summer union services being held in Central Church, Newtonville, will be held Sunday morning at eleven. Dr. Lynn J. Radcliffe, the regular summer preacher for these union services, will return to the pulpit after an absence of two weeks.
A great deal of interest is being shown in these meetings which are the cooperative venture of seven churches of Newtonville, West Newton and Auburndale. There will be two more services in Central Church, Newtonville, after which the place of worship will be the Unitarian church in West Newton for the month of August and the first Sunday in September.
Dr. Radcliffe's sermon subject for next Sunday morning will be "The Unexpected Answer." Music for the service will be furnished by a mixed quartet composed of the following: Thelma L. Rundlett, soprano; Louisa Burr Wood, alto; Joseph R. Ludwigson tenor; John C. Rundlett, bass. Lillian W. West is the organist. The musical program will include the anthems: "Breathe on Me, Breath of God," by T. Tertius Noble, and "Let Not Your Heart be Troubled," by Mark Dickey. Visitors are cordially invited to attend the service which begins at eleven o'clock.

American Elm Favorite for Shade, Decoration

There are about 18 species of elm in the world. A distinguishing feature of the American elm, especially when growing on wet soil, is its large spurs or buttresses at the base. They serve as braces or supports for the heavy top. American elms five feet in diameter above the swollen base and 120 feet tall have been found, states a writer in the Chicago Tribune.
Elms are favorite shade trees wherever they grow well and where there is room enough for them to spread. The elm grows too large to be subjected to cramped quarters. Its wide crown with high gothic arches needs the width of a street to give its breadth the proper proportion to its height. When elms are planted on both sides of an ordinary street the branches eventually meet in the center, forming an archway.

Elm leaves are easy to identify. They are pointed, coarsely double-toothed around the edges, and usually 4 to 6 inches long by 1 to 3 inches wide. Prominent, straight veins run out from the midribs and the leaves often are rough on the upper surface. They are unequal at the base and are arranged alternately along the slender twigs. The leaves are dark green on top and a paler green underneath.

The wood is hard, tough, and heavy, weighing 40 pounds to the cubic foot. It is used for wagon hubs, barrel staves, furniture, veneers for fruit baskets, and for building boats.
The American elm grows naturally from Newfoundland and Manitoba on the north to Florida and Texas on the south. It extends westward into Nebraska.

Reduced Rates To Europe Sept. 4 to October 2

This is news!
Round trip excursions to Europe for sailings between September 4 and October 2, 1938, at reduced fares, from $134.50 to $139.00 in Third Class, and from $151.00 to $238.50 in Tourist Class, depending on the ships selected and the European ports used.

Included in the excursion fare are stateroom accommodations and all meals while on board ship.
You may select any ship of whatever size or speed of any of the lines mentioned below. Restful voyages from five to ten days to the chief ports of Europe.

The never-a-dull-moment life on shipboard, the cuisine, service and comfort will be the same for all excursion fare passengers as that enjoyed by travelers in the height of the season.

The advantages to you are less cost, wider choice of accommodations, and Europe at its natural best. A maximum stay of 28 days in Europe will be allowed there after arrival.

Choose your ships and sailing dates for the round trip; decide whether you want tourist class or third class passage, and see the Newton Steamship Agency, 11 Centre ave., Newton, Phone Newton North 4501. Included in the Trans-Atlantic Line offering these greatly reduced rates are Anchor, Arnold Bernstein, Cunard White Star, Furness, Hamburg-American, Italian, North German Lloyd, Red Star, Swedish-American and United States Lines.

Cock-of-the-Woods, the Largest of Woodpeckers

The pileated woodpecker, commonly called log-cock or cock-of-the-woods, is the largest of our native woodpeckers and is only a trifle smaller than the crow, writes Albert Stoll, Jr., in the Detroit News. Like most members of the woodpecker family, it is possessed of a scarlet red crown with white stripes running down its neck to the wing joints. The body is grayish-black with the base of the wing feathers white. The pileated woodpecker loves the dense forest. It is seldom seen beyond its confines. It is of no interest to the farmer as an insect destroyer, for its work is confined to the dense timber stands and it is recognized by foresters for digging out destructive tree insect larvae. It is able with its strong, chisel-like bill, to penetrate the hardest woods. There are many legends woven around the pileated woodpecker. It was one of the guardian birds of the Chippewas. The Menominees looked upon its presence as a good omen. Even old time deer hunters believed that where this bird worked the hardest in searching out forest insects, there would be fine deer hunting.

As our virgin timber disappears, so does the cock-of-the-woods. The two go hand in hand and there is no separating them.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE

By virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage given by Leslie A. Hagen to The Prudential Insurance Company of America, a Jersey corporation, dated May 8, 1937, and recorded with Middlesex County, Dist. Deeds, Book 5577, Page 212, of which mortgage the undersigned is the present holder, for breach of the conditions of said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same and for all and singular the premises described in said mortgage to-wit:

Certain Real Estate situated in Newton, Middlesex County, Massachusetts, and being the subject of said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, all and singular the premises described in said mortgage to-wit:

The land in that part of said Newton called Newton Centre, designated and shown as Lot 72 on a "Plan of Land in Newton Centre, Mass. Nov. 15, 1935" Everett M. Brooks, Civil Engineer, recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Book 5261, Page 377. Said lot 72 is bounded according to said plan as follows:—

NORTHWESTERLY by Hagen Road by two lines measuring respectively forty-four and 93/100 (44.93) feet and twenty-four and 20/100 (24.20) feet; WESTERLY by Lot 73 on said plan, one hundred thirteen and 74/100 (113.74) feet; SOUTHEASTERLY by land now or formerly of John P. Hurley, Seventy-nine (79) feet; and SOUTHWESTERLY by Lot 69 on said plan, one hundred one and 16/100 (101.16) feet.

Containing according to said plan 8050 square feet of land be or all of said contents and measurements more or less. Being the same premises conveyed to me by deed of John P. Hurley dated January 25, 1937, and recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Book 5261, Page 377.

This conveyance is made subject to restrictions of record in said mortgage, now in force and applicable. Including as a part of the realty all portable and sectional buildings, heating apparatus, plumbing, ranges, mantels, gas and oil and electric fixtures, screens, doors, awnings, electric and gas refrigerators, and other fixtures of whatever kind and nature, on said premises, and the parts of the same, be a part of the realty.

Said premises will be sold subject to all unpaid taxes, and all municipal assessments if any there may be. $300 will be required to be paid in cash by the purchaser at the time and place of sale, the balance within ten days from date of sale on the delivery of the deed.

spent many millions to make streets better for motorists. Pedestrians also pay taxes.

A Representative to the State Legislature from East Boston will present a bill to have the State finance the East Boston tunnel. This unnecessary extravagance was built at a huge cost, largely as a result of agitation by East Boston politicians. Its cost was considerably inflated because of exorbitant damages paid for properties seized in connection with the tunnel approaches. Now, because Mr. Barry of East Boston alleges the tunnel is used by motorists from all over the State, he would have a sum sufficient to pay for the huge, annual deficit, taken from the gasoline tax. How popular the gasoline tax is as a "pay all" for public expenses and extravagances. The East Boston tunnel is used largely by the sports and sportsmen who go to Suffolk Downs and the dog racing track at Revere to lose their cash. Why not use the money the State receives from these two gambling places toward paying the annual deficit caused by the hole under the harbor to East Boston, into which so much money has been sunk?

Pewter Once Held Favor, Then Made Into Bullets

Pewter was the product of a time when economic conditions governed actual needs, and neither in composition nor design was it other than what it was intended to be—an unpretentious household commodity for daily use.

Pewter speaks of the days in our country when history was in the making. We associate with it the stern and vigorous life of the early settlers. Surrounding it is much of pathos and romance, for more than one piece of choice pewter was thrown into the melting pot to make bullets to defend the home established in the new land.

For a period of nearly 100 years preceding the War of the Revolution, notes Alice R. Rollins in the Los Angeles Times, it was practically the only tableware available. Gradually it had supplanted the wooden ware used during the early years of settlement and in turn gave way to the china and silver of more prosperous times.

Although much of the pewter used in the earlier part of the colonial period was brought from England, a great deal of it was made by craftsmen of the colonies.

Almost every community had its pewterers. Little skill was required to produce plates, basins, mugs and the like as they required only casting, finishing on a lathe and a little soldering or welding.

Many of the designs were copied from the English pieces which were shipped to the colonies, but on the whole the American pewterers confined themselves to making plain and practical pieces of their own designing.

Cats as Large as Lions Lived in Maryland Cave

Monster cats, as big as lions or tigers and probably just as fierce, were the terror of western Maryland about a million years ago. Bones of these creatures, together with those of 46 other animals who lived near the city of Cumberland at some interval early in the last Ice age, have been described by a Smithsonian Institution paleontologist.

These bones were gathered from a limestone cavern, opened when a railroad cut was being constructed, and represent a strange assortment of creatures ranging from mastodon to crocodile.

The presumption is that in Ice age days the cavern was a natural trap with an opening directly on top through which the animals fell. Once inside, there was no way to get out.

It was a curious assemblage of northern and southern animals. Bones of wolves and martens, types now found only in the far northern woods, are mingled with those of tapirs, which now range no farther north than Central America.

This can only mean, the Smithsonian man believes, that the bones were assembled only over a very considerable period, possibly several thousand years, during which there was a notable change in the climate. The Ice age extended over approximately two million years. But during this time there were several retreats and advances of the glaciers with intervals of relatively warm climate.

Dwarfing Horticultural Process

Dwarfing is a horticultural process, requiring not only skill and knowledge of plants, but great patience. The tree selected in either a specimen dwarfed by nature or a tiny seedling. By training, tying, pruning and grafting, the specimens are shaped and kept in miniature form. Fine examples of the art, which the Japanese call "bonsai," are not only curiosities. They are replicas of ancient trees on a tiny scale. Their wind-blown tops, projecting roots and graceful spreading branches exactly reproduce the effect of forest giants. Maples, bamboos, cherries, pines, hollies, oaks, azaleas, junipers, and other evergreens are employed. They remain in the open air, most of the year. In everything but size and hardness, these tiny trees resemble a forest of century old specimens developed by nature, instead of by art.

Tanager Not Friendly Bird

The tanager is not what one would call a friendly bird, like our robin or cardinal, and some of the experts even go so far as to call him stupid. The female of the species is such a plain bird that few persons would even suspect that they had any relationship to each other. This is the almost universal rule in nature. The males often are gaudy in coloration, whereas the females are very plain. The peacock and peahen are excellent examples; so are the male and female guppies, in the aquarium.

Marten Prized for Its Fur

With the build of a dachshund and the color of a red fox, the sleek marten is highly prized for its fur. So soft and rich looking is its pelt that it has been nicknamed the "American sable," says a writer in the Washington Post. Martens are shy, but for their size, are among the most bloodthirsty of all animals. They live in trees, kill rabbits, squirrels and other small game. Despite this, they make good house pets. Once tamed, they're death on rats and mice.

Grace Line Offers De Luxe Cruises At Moderate Rates

Persons who desire to take an ocean voyage under conditions of the utmost in comfort, without paying rates that only the wealthy can afford, are offered excellent opportunities to do so by the Grace Line on its 16-day cruise to the Caribbean, South America and the Panama Canal in its luxurious liners—Santa Rosa, Santa Paula and Santa Elena. These splendid, modern ships which have excited so much admiration, leave New York every Friday on a cruise which includes Curacao, La Guaira, Caracas, Puerto Cabello, Puerto Colombia, Cartagena, Cristobal, Kingston and Haiti. The public rooms on these sister ships are large, airy and impressive. State-rooms are all outside, each with private, fresh-water bath. There are wide decks for strolling, relaxation or deck

Two-League to Stage All-Star Games

A meeting of the directors of Newton Twilight League was held Thursday evening, July 14, at the Newton Centre Recreation building. A schedule for the playing of postponed and tie games was accepted.

It was voted to have a series of All-Star benefit games between teams selected from the National and American division teams—the first game to be played Sunday, July 24, at John W. Weeks playground, West Newton, formerly known as the Common.

The National League Managers selected John Janse, Jr., to manage their teams with Davis Perlmutter as assistant.

The American League selected Pat Lochiatti as manager, with Del Ryan as assistant.

Each team is allowed to select two of its players and one pitcher, and of the six pitchers selected, the all-star manager will designate three, each of whom will pitch three innings. The pitchers may select their own catchers.

American: Abundant, T. Ryan, 1st; R. DeRusso, Jr., 2nd; C. A. N. Colantoni, of U. Deagle, ss.—V. DeCunzio, C. DeAngelo, 2nd—DeLoft, ss.—Catholic Club, J. Marrazzo, 2nd—Carvelli, of Cabot; A. Hudson, Utility—W. McDermott, 3rd—Cubs; E. Mullin, of—L. Cannon, of.

Dog-Owned Island

Juan de Nova is in the Mozambique channel, nearly a hundred miles from the coast. Four hundred years ago it was an Isle of Birds at which Portuguese ships called for water, turtles and fruit. Many a brave ship was wrecked on its lonely shores, and marooned cats and rats found a happy hunting-ground. Then the dogs came, in the same way, and from that time Juan de Nova has been a kingdom of dogs, says London Tit-Bits Magazine. Large and dangerous packs of them roam the island, hunt in the thick bush, and prey along the beaches. Well-nigh every known breed is represented. It is stated that the different packs claim their own territory, and were betide a dog which dares pass the unseen borders. The dogs, whose tails droop like those of wolves, resent the presence of men; and often a ship's watering company will be attacked.

Barranquilla is 16 miles from Puerto Colombia on the famous Magdalena River.

Safety in and on the water and the ability to assist or rescue a person in danger of drowning, are based fundamentally upon two things—Knowledge and Skill—and neither one in itself is sufficient to meet the needs of the individual.

Any one is interested first and foremost in the preservation of his own life. This is merely normal. The first concern of the individual is or should be, to know where, how, and under what conditions he will be safe. His second, to possess the skill to meet these conditions without danger to himself. Third, in case of accident, he wishes to know how to save his own life. When he has achieved these objectives, then he is, or should be, interested in knowing how to save others.

The second Junior and Senior Life Saving course at Crystal Lake will start Monday, July 25th at 11:00 A.M. All boys that are interested in this training in water safety should apply to Mr. E. M. Westgate, or call the Newton Red Cross Chapter Offices for information. These courses are free to residents of Newton. One hour a day for about three weeks is the minimum time to complete the instruction and examination.

In addition to the Life Saving courses at Crystal Lake, children of all ages are offered the opportunity to learn various forms of swimming. The attendance for the past week in the boys' classes was as follows:

Non-Swimmers	192
Intermediates	167
Beginners' Tests	56
Swimmers' Tests	18
Dividing Instruction	167
Junior Life Saving	8
Senior Life Saving	3

Many people are of the opinion that dogs have poor eyesight. While some seem to have difficulty in seeing, our canine friends have better vision than most people give them credit for. It is true, however, that a dog sees a moving object more readily than a stationary one.

Whenever I hear people discussing pro and con the merits of their pets' eyesight, I recall the story of a little fox terrier who was slowly wending his way along the sidewalk in the shopping district in Knoxville, Tennessee. Suddenly he stopped in front of a display window, and no amount of coaxing would make him move. A wax figure of a woman in a bright blue dress was behind the glass. Investigation revealed that the dog's mistress owned a dress almost like the one in the window. Evidently the animal thought the figure was his mistress and started to keep vigil. Only when she came down to get him would he leave.

I mention this story, which is one of many of like nature, largely to discount the theory that a dog recognizes people solely by his sense of smell. Not only will your pet know you by sight but certain little mannerisms that you have are well known to your dog.

Nobody has ever taken a country-wide dog census but our canine population, based on licenses issued and other figures at hand, is about 15,000,000. With an estimated 30,000,000 families in the United States, we might say that there is one dog to every two families.

Dog owners are often worried when they notice their pet gulping his food quickly. Now a dog has a very fine set of teeth but seldom are they used for chewing purposes. The dog chews food only in order to break it into pieces small enough to pass down his throat. We chew food in order to aid saliva to aid the digestion process. A dog's digestive system is unlike ours in that food may reach the stomach in bulk without saliva and cause no ill effects.

Because digestion takes place in the animal's intestines, gulping food does not harm the dog at all. Though I agree it is upsetting to see one's pet eat a large dish of food in almost nothing flat.

The sergeant asked a few routine questions, though he knew that the dog was sleeping peacefully downstairs in the cool cellar.

About an hour or two before a young man had entered leading the dog. He said that he had been walking down the street when he noticed the animal shut up in a closed sedan, suffering agonies from the terrific heat within.

He could not bear to see the animal suffer so, and had broken the window and released the dog from the inferno. He had brought the dog to the station to be returned to his master whose address the police could obtain from the license tag dangling from the animal's collar.

Even today, on the island of Papua situated in the Pacific Ocean, the primitive natives use dogs' teeth as money. Silver coins are also used but the inhabitants prefer dogs' teeth as a medium of exchange.

I have been asked my many readers to repeat what I wrote a few weeks ago about feeding hamburger meat to a dog. Stew beef is a better type of meat for your pet than hamburger. Finely ground hamburger passes too quickly through the intestines and has a tendency to ferment there. While no particular harm will be caused by feeding a dog hamburger, stew beef not only contains less fat but is really better for the animal.

If some well meaning friend should suggest that you use gasoline on your pet to remove either fleas or ticks, don't do it. It may remove the offending vermin but it may also remove your dog from this earth.

Question: What characteristic do all Chinese breeds have in common.—T. R. J. Answer: All carry their tails curled on their backs.

Question: How soon after feeding my Scottie can I exercise him.—W. W. D. Answer: A dog should not be exercised within 30 minutes after feeding.

American Folk Singers On Newton Orchestra Program

The Newton Orchestra, under the supervision of Albert H. Webber and Herman C. Sulzen, conductor, will present another outdoor concert at The "Shell," Commonwealth ave. and Lexington rd., Auburndale, on next Tuesday evening, August 2nd, at 8 p. m.

AMERICAN FOLK SINGERS

The Newton Orchestra organized four years ago, under the Federal Music Project is considered one of the best musical units in the State, and is well known by all of the school children in the city, having a regular school setup in all of the Newton schools.

The Orchestra will present a program of classical and popular music on next Tuesday and will have for guest artists the American Folk Singers, under the direction of Mr. Thomas Johnson, a colored group of professional and talented singers of negro spirituals.

Mr. Johnson is a graduate of the New England Conservatory of Music of Boston graduating with honors in the class of 1926. No one is better equipped to conduct the American Folk Singers than Mr. Johnson. Born in the deep south, he knows the traditions, the very heart and soul of his people. He has gathered a repertoire of melodies from the plantations of Virginia, the Mississippi levees, the Florida swampland. He has imbued the reverence of naive dignity of a simple-hearted religious people in such familiar spirituals as "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot," "Go Down Moses" and "Zekiel Saw de Wheel."

For those who wish, cars may be parked in the playground near the Shell, remain in their cars and enjoy the music. Supervisor Webber will have an extra added attraction in conjunction with the Newton Orchestra at each performance, in the form of vocal or instrumental soloists. Thousands have enjoyed these concerts, and the public is earnestly invited to attend, bring your friends, and have a pleasant musical treat.

More Persons Are Bitten By Dogs

Newton Centre has more than its share of savage dogs according to complaints made to Newton police. Three more complaints regarding dogs in that section were made to the police on Wednesday. Ronald Cushing, a letter carrier residing at Needham Heights was bitten by a dog owned by Arthur H. William of Elm St. John Walsh of 154 Derby St., West Newton, another letter carrier working at the Newton Centre postoffice, was bitten on both legs by a dog owned by Wilbur Wilking of 9 Glen rd., Newton Centre. John Del Monte of 678 Boylston St., Newton Centre complained that a dog owned by Helen Chesley of 680 Boylston St. had bitten his 11 year old daughter. All three dogs were ordered restrained.

Trustees of Bell-Murphy Fund

The trustees of the fund of $8700 raised for the dependents of Henry Bell and Lawrence Murphy, the two Newton policemen who were murdered last August by Edward Simpson, have been appointed. Mayor Childs selected William M. Cahill of the Newton Trust Company; Joseph Lyons, president of the Newton Police Benefit Association selected Sergeant Thomas Leehan, the third trustee to be selected by Judge Mayberry.

Kramp and Murphy Made Lieutenants

On Tuesday Chief Randlett of the Newton Fire Department promoted to the rank of Lieut. Charles Kramp of 14 Winona St., Auburndale, and Henry L. Murphy of 213 Pearl St., Newton. They ranked first and second on the eligible list as a result of a recent examination. Kramp was appointed to the department on July 1, 1919 and was stationed for many years at Engine 5, Auburndale. Last year he was made supervisor of motors of the department to succeed Samuel E. Lawrence who had been receiving the same salary as a captain. Murphy was born in Newton 30 years ago and was appointed to the fire department on February 22, 1931. He has since been stationed at Engine 5, Auburndale. Lieut. Kramp will continue as supervisor of motor vehicles of the department. Lieut. Murphy has been assigned to Engine 7 at Upper Falls.

Motorist Sleeps, Car Hits Pole

Joseph Bryan of Worcester fell asleep while driving a car on the Worcester turnpike last Saturday and the automobile crashed into a pole and traffic signal at the corner of Langley rd., Newton Centre. The traffic signal was broken and the pole considerably damaged, and the car also damaged.

Newton Water Safe To Drink, Repeated Tests Being Made

Water Commissioner Murray and Health Officer Choje both state that Newton water is safe to drink despite unusual conditions caused by the flood in the Charles River. The terrific rains of last week resulted this week in the river reaching the highest level in over 50 years. On Wednesday the level at Kenrick Bridge, between Newton and Needham was 98 feet, from 4 to 7 feet above the normal levels there. Low lands along the river from Milford down have been flooded over broad areas, and because of pollution resulting, the State Board of Health issued warnings to communities along the river to take precautions regarding the condition of their public water supplies.

The Newton Water Department has had its regular consultants, Weston & Sampson, making repeated tests of the Newton water supply the past week and the amount of chlorine ordinarily infused into the water at the pumping station in Upper Falls has been tripled. Tests are being made regularly both by the Newton Health Department and State Health Department officials, and the water has been pronounced sufficiently safe so that there is no need to boil it before using it for drinking purposes, even though the water has a noticeable color and a slight taste. Tests of water drawn from taps in various parts of the city have also been made.

The State Board of Health has issued notices to have all bathing places along the river temporarily closed because of polluted conditions in the stream.

5000 Catch Basins Being Cleaned

One of the most conspicuous WPA projects yet undertaken in Newton has been in progress the past two weeks, the cleaning of catch basins along the streets of the city. There are about 5000 such basins in the Newtons and most of them have been badly in need of cleaning. Many of them also have needed repairs for a long time. One hundred men from the WPA lists have been assigned to this work under the direction of a supervisor and six foremen. The task of lifting the mud and debris out of basins by means of long-handled spoon shovels is not agreeable during the extremely hot and muggy weather which has been prevailing, especially to men unaccustomed to such work. But, after a somewhat confused start, as might be expected, good progress is being made and the results have been evident along the streets. Two trucks have been in use to carry the mud to dumps, and two more are to be assigned to this work.

Amnesia Victim Is From Maryland

During the heavy rain last Saturday a young man entered the real estate office at 23 Commonwealth ave., Chestnut Hill, and stated that he was ill and could not remember his name or home address. Police Headquarters were notified and he was removed to the Newton Hospital. On Tuesday he recovered his memory and identified himself as Harold Hanson of Middle River, Maryland. Newton police sent a teletype message to Maryland State police and Hanson's relatives sent funds for his return. He has had similar amnesia spells in the past.

Fireworks Monday At Nonantum

The display of fireworks at the Hawthorn st. playground, Nonantum, postponed from the night of July 18 because of rain, was held on last Monday night, July 25, and drew a large crowd. It started about 11 o'clock and lasted for about half an hour. It featured the noisy aerial bombs which have characterized these fireworks in past years. The display has been the closing feature of a three-day fiesta conducted each year by the Societe Maria del Carmine of Nonantum.

118 DAYS No Fatal Accident in NEWTON DRIVE SAFELY LET'S NOT SPOIL THE RECORD

Newton Nurse Dies In Auto Accident

Miss Louise McCarthy, 26, of 449 Waltham St., West Newton, was killed about 4 a. m. on July 25 when an automobile in which she was riding left the road on a sharp curve at West Bridgewater, Vermont, and overturned. Her skull was crushed and she died instantly. Walter O'Neill of White River Junction, Vermont, owner of the car, said that Miss McCarthy was driving and evidently fell asleep at the wheel. Miss McCarthy graduated from the Newton Hospital in 1935 and had since done nursing work in this city. Her associates at the hospital spoke very highly of her. About a month ago she went to White River Junction to care for O'Neill's mother. She was a native of North Hattland, Vermont, and is survived by her parents, who reside in that town; and by a brother, who lives in West Newton. Miss McCarthy's funeral service was held on Wednesday morning at White River Junction.

Give Site For New Chestnut Hill P.O.

Proposals for the sale or donation to the United States of a lot conveniently located for the proposed Chestnut Hill branch of the Boston postoffice will be opened publicly in the office of Postmaster Tague, Room 422, Federal Building, Boston, at 9 a. m. on August 2. The action is largely a formality inasmuch as a group of public spirited Chestnut Hill residents have already purchased the site where the Chestnut Hill postoffice has been located for about a half century, and are to donate it to the U. S. Postoffice Department for the new $75,000 building which will be erected there. The property is on Middlesex rd., adjoining the Chestnut Hill railroad station and directly opposite the grounds of the Longwood Tennis Club. The site contains 33,721 square feet and the property was formerly owned by Lucy Lowell.

The Chestnut Hill postoffice was established in 1895 with Ernest Winsor as postmaster. In 1928 John C. Brennan of Brookline was appointed as clerk and assistant postmaster at the office, and in 1929 he was made postmaster. In 1931 the postoffice was consolidated with the Boston postal district and Mr. Brennan was designated as Superintendent. He is still in charge of the office and has seen its business grow until it now has four clerks, eleven letter carriers and two substitute letter carriers assigned to it. When Mr. Brennan assumed charge of the Chestnut Hill postoffice, he had one clerk as an assistant, and two letter-carriers delivered mail from the office to those parts of Newton and Brookline which it serves.

Luce Announces Naval Appointees—Files Papers

Congressman Robert Luce of Waltham, before resuming his vacation in Maine, announces that the following candidates nominated by him a few weeks ago have successfully passed all examinations and have now been sworn in as midshipmen at the U. S. Naval Academy:

Hugh Van Roosen, Jr., 44 Grafton St., Newton Centre.
Joseph F. White, Jr., 60 Ellery St., Cambridge.

Joseph P. Larkin, 215 Arsenal St., Watertown.

On Tuesday Mr. Luce filed his papers for renomination as Representative from the Ninth Congressional District at the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth. The papers filed bore 1800 names selected from the thousands of signatures obtained by workers.

A. F. MacKinnon, secretary in charge of the Cambridge office of Congressman Luce, will commence his vacation next week, and the work of the Cambridge office will be taken over by Secretary Kempton and Miss B. Bryden, assistant in the Waltham office.

Seek PWA Grants For Water Main And New School

Aldermen Approve Projects Totalling $340,000

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday evening it was voted to approve the recommendation of Mayor Childs that the Federal government be asked to grant $153,000 for two PWA projects in Newton. This amount is 45 per cent of a total cost of the two projects totalling $340,000 towards which the city would pay the remaining amount of $187,000.

Of the total sum to be expended $105,000 would be for the laying of a 30 inch main from the Water reservation in Needham, under the Charles River, to the pumping station at Upper Falls. This would make it unnecessary to use the old wooden conduit when the daily consumption of water is under 5 million gallons. The wooden conduit has long been regarded as a cause of impurities in the Newton water and the State Board of Health urges the construction of the new iron main.

The second PWA grant sought is for the construction of a new school to replace the old Lincoln and Eliot schools at Newton. The estimated cost of the new building is $200,000 plus $35,000 for the land. Two sites are being mentioned, one at the corner of Pearl and Gardner sts. adjoining Boyd playground and the other the former T. Stuart & Sons Co. property bounded by Pearl and Green sts. and Jackson rd.

Newton Democrats Hold Eliot Rally

On Tuesday night a meeting was held at the Newton Free Library in the interest of the candidacy of Thomas H. Eliot of Cambridge for the Democratic nomination for Congress from the 9th District. The meeting was opened by Joseph P. Dargatzis, chairman of the Newton Democratic Ward and City Committee. Donald Hill of Waban presided and introduced Mr. Eliot. The latter told of his service in Washington as assistant United States Solicitor and as general counsel for the Social Security Board. He said in part:

"After working continuously for five years at the administrative, judicial and legislative branches of the federal government," he added, "I know a little if only a very little, about the great and complex social and economic problems which confront us today."

"The people of the Ninth District wish to nominate and elect a man who by training and experience is qualified to grapple with those questions in Washington and who by virtue of being a life-long Democrat and native of Cambridge, knows his district thoroughly and understands the people and their problems."

Among those who were present and who are endorsing Mr. Eliot's candidacy were Miss Catherine J. Paine of Newtonville, secretary of the Newton Democratic City Committee; Philip R. Kane, treasurer of the committee; John P. Tierney, Charles A. Rowe, James A. Waters, James B. Dangelo, Miss Margaret Vahey, Mrs. Marion Odence, James T. Flynn and Algernon McCarthy.

Derow Appointed City Physician

The name of Dr. Sidney Derow of Newton Centre, was submitted to the Board of Aldermen on Monday night by Mayor Childs. Dr. Derow was born in New York City 31 years ago, graduated from Columbia University and Boston University Medical School and has been a resident of this city for the past four years. He served at the Mass. General, Boston City and Newton Hospitals and has been on the staff of the latter hospital since becoming a resident of this city. When the late Dr. Alvah Cummings went on his vacation a few weeks ago, Dr. Derow took his place as acting city physician.

Youths Steal and Wreck Automobile

Two Boston youths who took without permission an automobile owned by the stepfather of one of the pair, and then stole 8 gallons of gasoline and number plates from another car, crashed into a tree at Commonwealth ave. and Central St., Auburndale, on Wednesday at 5 a. m., causing considerable damage to the car and slight injuries to the two youths. They were arrested by Patrolmen Elliot and Powers and identified themselves as Robert Kahakalau, 16, of 332 Massachusetts ave.; and Charles Doyle, 17, of 364 Massachusetts ave. Kahakalau was charged with driving without a license, operating an uninsured and unregistered car and using it without authority. Doyle was also charged with using a car without authority. He was arraigned in the Newton court on Wednesday and his case was continued. The younger boy will be arraigned in the juvenile court on Friday.

Charles River at Very High Level

Due to the very heavy rains of last week, the Charles River since last Sunday has been rising gradually to the highest level in the memory of living persons. It reached a height of 93 feet above sea level at the Newton pumping station at Upper Falls on Wednesday night and maintained that level on Thursday. This is several inches higher than during the floods of March, 1936, and even higher than during the flood of 1888. As the torrent of millions of gallons of water surged over the dams and rapids at Upper Falls and Lower Falls, large numbers of persons came to see the spectacle. The river rose to the floor of Kenrick Bridge between Oak Hill and Needham, and the Newton Street Department prevented the bridge from being washed away by placing a number of huge concrete blocks on the bridge. At the water reservation on the Needham side of the river, powerful pumps were constantly going to keep the rising water from entering the pump house which forces the water supply from the gathering conduit across the river to the pumping station on the Newton side.

At the grounds surrounding the pumping station the river rose until the water spread across the yard and nearly entered the station. The rains caused so much water to drain through Paul's Brook which is being improved as a WPA project, that sufficient quantities of silt were washed down to completely fill one of the small ponds in front of city hall, nearly fill the other little ponds adjoining, and nearly fill the southerly end of Bullough's Pond. The ponds at City Hall were cleared of silt only last year, and Bullough's Pond was dredged at considerable expense several years ago.

Thousands Sign Cronin's Papers

Presenting the Election Commission with a stack of nomination papers which contained thousands of signatures Attorney Dennis M. Cronin of Newton yesterday personally took the papers to the State House.

"I wish to thank the hundreds of persons who have signed my papers for the office of Congressman in the Ninth District," he said. "I shall continue my policy of an honest, humane and efficient servant of the people in the United States Congress. I pledge myself to be at all times their representative and to especially see to it that the interests of the voters of the Ninth Congressional District be guarded at all times."

"It is high time that the Ninth District which is Democratic had a voice in Washington to express its desires which are with the New Deal."

"We should have a congressman not an absentee congressman in his home district attending to the duties he was elected to perform by his constituents."

Adult Swimming Classes In August

The Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross announces a series of adult swimming classes at Crystal Lake during the month of August. These classes will be held every Monday and Wednesday evenings during August from 6:30 to 8:00 p. m. at the Crystal Lake bathing beach, Mr. Melville Westgate, the Newton Red Cross swimming instructor, will have charge of the classes. Further information may be obtained from Mr. Westgate at the lake or from the Red Cross chapter headquarters in Newtonville.

Awarded $1341 for Scalded Leg

Miss Ann R. Doucette of 94 Charles St. was awarded $1341 by Judge Murray in the Newton court on Tuesday in a suit she brought against Ray Tunnell of 415 Highland St., Newtonville. While working at Tunnell's home the plaintiff was scalded on her right leg by boiling water.

City Solicitor Investigating Police Dept.

Bartlett Acting Upon Request of Mayor

Starting last Thursday an investigation of the Newton police department by City Solicitor Bartlett has been in progress at City Hall. Four members of the department were ordered to report to City Hall on that day to be interrogated by the City Solicitor, regarding their knowledge, if any, of gambling, violations of liquor laws and other alleged transgressions of the law which may have occurred in this city. The investigation was ordered by Mayor Childs. Other members of the police department have been summoned to city hall during this week to be questioned by the City Solicitor. Included among them are some ranking members of the department. The number questioned has now passed twenty.

As a result of the investigation Boston and Waltham newspapers have been printing considerable news about the matter; one Boston paper featuring it in an attempted sensational manner. Mayor Childs in reply to the reason for having the investigation said: "I have been making a study of several city departments and asked City Solicitor Bartlett to help me. In the study of the police department I asked him for more help. It is not a public investigation. When a policeman is asked to report to city hall, everyone takes notice, but if an employee of any other department were asked to report to city hall, little attention would be paid. Newspaper accounts of vice in Newton have been grossly exaggerated."

Monday night City Solicitor Bartlett was questioned at City Hall by newspaper reporters regarding the investigation. He said:

"The investigation of the Police Department will continue until many more officers have been questioned. The purpose of the inquiry is not only to ascertain the truth or falsity of certain rumors and complaints concerning law enforcement, but also to determine the state of discipline in the department."

"The first man to be interviewed was Chief Hughes and he was told just what we were doing."

"The questioning of the men thus far has revealed no serious crime or vice situation, unless you call five or six pickers who write number pool a vice ring. I have found no trace of any vice ring or organized gambling."

"There are a few slot machines in stores which the proprietors claim are not used for gambling and the players receive only candy. These machines are legal if the store doesn't cash the slugs or accept them in payment for merchandise."

The City Solicitor branded as utterly false the report that he had questioned any of the policemen regarding their personal actions. He said that gambling in Newton does not exist in any serious proportion, and as far as the investigation has proceeded no glaring weaknesses have been found in the administration of the police department. He said the investigation was started for the purpose of setting at rest rumors which have been current in some circles.

Incendiary Fire At Newton Centre

An unoccupied dwelling at 10 Alden St., Newton Centre, was badly damaged by fire early last Friday morning. The damage is estimated at several thousands of dollars. The fire was discovered at 8:13 by a passing milkman who pulled an alarm from Box 713. When the firemen forced entrance into the house they found two separate fires burning and a can containing gasoline in a corridor near the kitchen. Chief Randlett stated that the fire had apparently been burning for some time before it was discovered. The first floor of the building was thoroughly gutted and the flames spread to the second floor before being checked. The State Fire Marshal's office was asked to investigate the fire. The building is owned by James Walsh who formerly resided there, but who has recently been living in Millville.

IF EVERY ONE

If every one who drives a car could lie a month in bed,
With broken bones and stitched-up wounds, or fractures of the head,
And here endure the agonies that many people do,
They'd never need preach safety any more to me or you.

If every one could stand beside the bed of some close friend
And hear the doctor say "no hopes" before that fatal end,
And see him there unconscious, never knowing what took place,
The laws and rules of traffic I am sure we'd soon embrace.

If every one would realize pedestrians on the street
Have just as much the right-of-way as those upon the seat,
And train their eyes for children who run recklessly at play,
This steady toll of human lives would drop from day to day.

If every one who drives a car would heed the danger signs;
Placed by the highway engineers who also marked the lines
To keep the traffic in the lane and give it proper space,
The accidents we read about could not have taken place.

And last, if he who takes the wheel would say a little prayer,
And keep in mind those in the car depended on his care,
And make a vow and pledge himself to never take a chance,
The great crusade for safety then would suddenly advance.

THE NEWTON POLICE DEPARTMENT

Metropolitan newspapers this past week gave Newton considerable publicity relative to alleged unsatisfactory conditions in the Newton police department. Many of these reports were grossly exaggerated and highly colored by a more or less sensational press which has greater concern for an increase in circulation than it probably has for the welfare of the community. Stripped of all figments of imagination, rumors and exaggeration the facts are that an investigation of the police department by the city solicitor at the Mayor's request has been going on for some time. The Mayor has stated that reports of gambling and vice in Newton are gross exaggerations and that the police department is only one of several city departments that have been investigated.

In these days when gambling rackets are apparently allowed to operate with little interference in many places, it is doubtful if conditions in Newton are distressing. It has been admitted that there is some activity upon the part of number pool operators, and it is extremely easy for a reporter to color his news in an effort to create a market for the product of his pen. In addition to the investigation being made by the city solicitor there is an Aldermanic committee checking up on other police department activities, in no way as yet connected with any of the latest alleged irregularities.

In any group of men such as a police department as large as that serving Newton there are apt to be many suspicious rumors and alleged irregularities. We are confident, however, that by and large the members of the Newton police force are awake to their public duty. And we are as fully confident that if and when any irregularities occur which need attention that the Mayor, city solicitor, and the Board of Aldermen will see to it that improper conditions are eliminated. The citizens of Newton have elected these authorities and they will continue to look to them as the persons responsible for the best interests of the city.

THE CAMPAIGNS BEGIN

With the date for the local certification of nomination papers having passed, the various political campaigns of primary candidates have really begun. With many papers being filed there is an indication that there may be a record number of candidates appearing on the ballots in the September primaries. During the next two months the voters will be besieged with political literature, radio broadcasts, and other methods used by candidates to acquaint the voters with their avowed qualifications for the office they seek. Having taken considerable interest in politics, not only in an editorial capacity, but in a personal way as well, it is our intention to prepare a series of articles pertaining to the candidates for various offices to begin in an early issue. Our readers, we trust, will find these articles interesting, informative, and an aid in helping them to arrive at a decision as to whom they should support on election day in September.

ADDITIONAL PARKING PROBLEMS

The city of Newton is going to face additional parking problems upon some of its main arteries and adjacent side streets unless proper provision is made for garage and parking facilities in connection with the erection of apartment houses. In the past several years building permits have been granted for the erection of apartment houses, none of which have provided for such facilities for tenants. Consequently automobile owners living in these apartments are going to park their cars on streets as near to the building in which they live as possible. And in doing so they will be violating an ordinance passed some time ago by the Newton aldermen. In order to prevent the creation of dangerous conditions and to minimize the opportunities offered to automobile thieves the police will be expected to enforce the ordinance. The time to prevent the occurrence of these additional parking problems is now. A simple remedy would be in the passage of an ordinance requiring that no apartment building permit would be granted unless proposed plans provided adequately for garage and out-of-the-street parking for cars of tenants.

CAMP DAY

Twenty-second Birthday Anniversary

More than two hundred campers made the roof shake on last Thursday as they welcomed the Brookfield Minstrels to Camp Day as the chief feature of the Camp birthday party. Led by Leon Gaudet this talented group made merry from early evening until well after the usual time for taps as they made the boys forget completely the rain that was making the center of the campus a miniature lake. Opening the evening's entertainment, the entire camp sang "On the Shore," the Camp Day song, and then welcomed their visitors with the roof-shaking camp yell, led by Director Clyde G. Hess. There followed solo dances and group dancing by the Brookfield players the most enjoyable of which, judging by the boys' applause, was a military dance performed by three young ladies. Two end men with song and laughable gestures contributed their bit to make a memorable occasion. A surprise act brought a hush over the audience when the master of ceremonies, Leon Gaudet, called on Director Hess to sing a song as Camp Day's representative on the program. The Chief brought a storm of applause as he completed the night's entertainment with the currently popular "The Old Apple Tree." Then came a demand from the boys to have C. Evan Johnson, Associate Director, give his song of the night, but Mr. Johnson made a rapid exit before the demands became too insistent. Ice cream and cake served by Chef Nils Johnson and his assistants, Peter Lafamme and Eddie Bycinski, topped the birthday party.

Camp Frank A. Day is grateful to Mr. Frank A. Day who is president of the Newton Y. M. C. A., for he made possible the notable occasion by a generous gift. Last year the birthday party was successful because of his thoughtfulness, and this year the boys of Camp Day gave him a lusty tribute in their cheers.

Congratulations have been paid to the staff of the "Daylight" for their work in editing the best newspaper in the camp history. Not only has it been entertaining but complete with news which previously was not brought to the attention of the editors of past years. Chief among such items was news of each tent written by the camper himself; a feature which has aroused the interest of the boys to such an extent that keen competition for staff berths has resulted.

Further additions to the paper have been an increased size, cartoons drawn by the boys, and a cover which changes in content and style each issue. There are ten main divisions to the editorial staff, and all but four are directed by the campers. The staff members are:

Sport Editor—Larry Corbett, graduate of Dedham High School, and entering Harvard in the Fall.

Cartoon Editor—Ewart Ayres, Senior camper.

Editor—Chilton Buchanan, Senior Camper.

Typists and Illustrators—Ted Humphrey, Chuck Gibson, Phil Johnson.

Mimeographer—Chuck Gibson.

Circulation Manager—Ted Humphrey.

What Happens on a Rainy Week

To those who have never attended Camp Day or the "Gerage boys' camp" sympathy for the boys who were faced by the successive days of rain during the past week was uppermost in their minds judging by the telephone calls which entered the camp lines during that period. But the boys were full of fun and the opportunities to enjoy themselves were numerous. On Monday night there were moving pictures which were educational in nature in their story of the disease carriers of the present day.

An unusual feature arranged by Director Hess for Tuesday night was a Professor Quiz hour. Questions on Camp Day life and woodland features on sport life and history formed the basis of the night's entertainment. Three Directors acted as Professor Quiz; Professor Day as the Junior Camp, Thomas F. O'Donnell of the Dedham High School faculty for the Junior Camp, and C. Evan Johnson of the Newton High faculty for the Senior Camp. Greatest competition existed in the Senior Camp where many rounds were necessary before all were finally eliminated.

Harold Bornstein emerged the winner. Walter MacDonald captured the Junior Camp prize, and Bob Foster was declared the champion in the Midget Camp.

Moving pictures with sound are a weekly feature at camp, and are usually the entertainment on Thursday night, but the Birthday celebration was planned for Thursday night this past week, so Wednesday night saw a full-length picture as its attraction. A giant Council ring fire was the setting for Friday night and story-telling was the order of the evening, added to program stunts. The usual Saturday night dramatic presentation by the Camp Day Players completed the week and the play "La Carota" by Max Edward Stahl was chosen for the evening. Herbert Stern supported the leading role, and was ably supported by Lindsay Russell of the Midget Camp, and Francis Short of the Senior Camp.

NEWTONVILLE HOME SOLD

John T. Burns & Sons, Inc. report that final papers have been passed conveying the single frame house, located at 600 California st., in the Newtonville district, to Rachel M. Gath, who purchases for a home. With the house, which contains ten rooms and bath, there are 12,135 square feet of land and the total assessment on the property is $7000. The Co-operative Central Bank was the grantor.

Rotary Club

The members of the Newton Rotary Club and their guests were pleasantly entertained at their weekly luncheon meeting on Monday by Joseph Palmeri, a member of this year's graduating class of the Newton High school. This talented young man, who is to enter Springfield College in the fall, gave a number of delightful and original monologs and songs. His hearers forgot the humidity while listening to the Great Baseball, the Stylish Lady, the Horse Race, Mia Carlotta and Tony Franchioni, all delivered in the quaint Italian-English of a newcomer from the sunny land of Muscolini. His sister, Lillian, a very young girl accompanied Mr. Palmeri's little songs in a fitting manner. All of the selections were humorous except "The Little Boy," a touching little sketch beautifully rendered. Joseph Palmeri was chosen last year as one of the four boys in the high school's senior class as a finalist in the prize speaking contest held annually at the school. He was the winner also of a scholarship.

Paul Elicker, president of the club, has returned from his vacation in Pennsylvania and was in charge of the meeting.

Five File Papers In 4th District

Nomination papers for representative from the 4th Middlesex District have been filed with City Clerk Grant for certification. There are three candidates for the Republican nomination with Robert G. Lawrence of 57 Elm rd., Newtonville contesting against William B. Baker of Waltham st., West Newton and Warren K. Brimblecom of Fairfield st., Newtonville, the present incumbents, who are candidates for re-election. Mr. Baker is serving his fifth term and is a member of the important Ways and Means Committee. Mr. Brimblecom is serving his third term and is clerk of the Power & Light Committee and Chairman of the Englewood Bill Committee.

The candidates for the two Democratic nominations are former Alderman Alfred Guzzi of West Newton and Robert J. Allen of Playstead rd., Newton.

Car Overturned In Collision

Cars driven by Peter Smith of Barbara rd., Waltham and Joseph Schlessinger of 26 Lewiston, Newton collided Saturday at Church and Eldredge sts., Newton. Smith's car was tipped over but he escaped with minor injuries.

To state a simple truth, anyone is reasonably safe in the water only if he knows how to swim or is under the watchful eye of a person who would know how to save his life in case of emergency. For the latter, the Red Cross has developed an exact system of life saving techniques or skills, water safety information, methods of training, a series of publications, and a system of certification.

It stands to reason, however, that to leave it there would be to do only a minor part of the things which need to be done for the bathing safety of the mass of people. In fact, water safety for all can only become an accomplished fact, when everyone may have ready access to the information and instruction necessary to enable him to learn how to swim. To swim, moreover, with such skill and with such a degree of efficiency that he will be able to take care of himself in and on the water under practically all normal conditions.

Any system of water safety that is evolved to protect bathers and prevent loss of life by drowning is not well-rounded or complete unless it provides for instruction in the art of swimming. It is natural therefore, and as part of its job, that the Red Cross should complement its training program in rescue with a vastly greater training program in the art of swimming as a means of water accident prevention. This fact has long been recognized, and swimming instruction has long been a part of the Life Saving and Water Safety program.

Carnival Ticket Committee Hold Bridge and Whist Party

On Tuesday evening, July 19, a very successful bridge and whist party was held at the St. John's Club House, Newton Lower Falls, for the benefit of the coming Annual Parish Carnival to be held Friday and Saturday, August 5 and 6.

Bridge prizes were won by Miss Mary Connors, Miss Katherine Reed, Mrs. William Manning, Mrs. E. T. Kilmain, Mrs. Raymond Cunningham, Miss Mary Lyons, Miss Alice Manning, and Miss Anne Kilmain. Prizes at whist were won by Miss Marie O'Connor, Miss Dorothy Drinkwater, Mr. Frank Lowery, Mrs. Thomas O'Rourke, Mr. Delmo Collari, Mrs. Charles McDonough, Mr. Edward Troy, Mrs. H. Chisholm, Mr. James O'Malley, Mrs. Bernard McLaughlin, Miss Peggy Connors, Mrs. David Rainsford, Mrs. William Hughes, and Mr. David Warren.

The chairman of the committee, Mr. John Sallinger, was assisted by the Misses M. Edna McCourt, and Mary Kilmain, who acted as hostesses. Refreshments were served by the following young ladies: the Misses Grace Donahue, Margaret Hegarty, Mary McDermott, Mary Kinsella and Margaret McQuade.

The painting of the interior of the Newton depot is proceeding under the direction of McPherson. The gentlemen's waiting room is now closed. Patience under the necessary delay will be rewarded with very much improved reception rooms for ladies and gentlemen.

We recommend to the police committee of the Board of Aldermen the following qualifications for City Marshal as set forth by Mayor Ellison. The Mayor has given an excellent idea of the man wanted, and we hope he will be secured—"the chief should be a man of intelligence, quick to apprehend, of good judgment, even and firm temper, strictly impartial and unprejudiced in his official relations and to arrested parties; free from jealousy of his officers, ever ready to aid them both by advice and assistance, and to encourage their efforts to detect offenders, and should command their confidence and respect. He ought to possess good detective qualities, and when occasion requires be able to act with promptness, coolness, persistency and good judgment."

The Harrison & Morton flag is again flying over Centre st., the rents made by the cyclone having been repaired. It serves as a reminder that a presidential campaign is in progress.

A fine looking Jersey cow was struck by the 1:15 a. m. train this morning on the B. & A. tracks below Washington st., and mutilated so badly that it had to be killed. It is not yet known to whom the cow belonged.

Daniel Keefe, a driver for Howard Brothers, the ice dealers, shot a seal in the Charles River between Newton and Watertown on Wednesday. It weighed 150 pounds. Its presence so far up the river, at the head of tide water, can hardly be understood, and can only be accounted for on the ground that it came up the stream with the incoming tide.

No free delivery for Newton is what makes Postmaster Morgan sad. He has just received a letter from J. F. Bates, superintendent of the free delivery system which states "that after full consideration of the matter the post-office department felt obliged to decline to establish free delivery in Newton on account of the large expanse of territory to be covered, the scattered population and the great expense which would be incurred." Newton's only hope seems to be in the election of General Harrison and the reform in the postal department which he will inaugurate.

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday evening Alderman Ward read a petition from every property owner in Waban stating that the city almshouse there was so conspicuous and so near the railroad station that it interferes with the growth of the place and the sale of any portion of the city farm which is much larger than is needed for almshouse purposes. A change to some other location would be for the benefit of public and private interests. They ask that the almshouse be removed to the west side of the Hawkes estate.

Powers' Paragraphs

Section 265 of the ordinances of the City of Newton reads—"No person so exposing for sale or selling said articles, shall cry his wares to the disturbance of the peace and comfort of the inhabitants of the city." This ordinance relates to hawkers and peddlers. It should be amended to include newspapers, when they contained news or alleged news about Newton, have frequently sent out to this city high-pressure and leather-lunged youths whose bellowing has been quite obnoxious to residents of this quiet city. Last Saturday morning some of these clamorous newspaper vendors were peddling a Boston newspaper which was making capital on a trumped-up story about vice in Newton. A resident on a street in Newton Corner asked one of the noise-makers to desist and was told to "Go to H—." There are ample facilities for residents of this city to purchase newspapers without Newton being invaded and annoyed by human loud speakers.

Public Works Commissioner William F. Callahan, who resides in Waban, last week requested the State Police to bar all illegal vendors of ice cream, clams and other commodities from State Highways. He said—"These vendors pick the most congested locations for their activities, thereby causing considerable traffic hazards and preventing us from keeping motor mishaps at a minimum during the summer months." A few years ago an ice cream company placed on highways of Greater Boston a large number of small trucks from which youths vended ice cream, while stopped on public highways. One of these trucks was stationed on Washington st., near the Newton Hospital, and others frequented other places on highways in Newton. Members of the Newton Board of Aldermen at that time discussed this use of the highways by the ice cream vendors and asserted it was a violation of the city's zoning ordinance. They asserted that the practice would be stopped. But, it still continues.

A Needham man was fined $10 in the Newton court last Friday for speeding. He was also charged with refusing to stop when ordered to do so by a policeman, but he told the judge that he thought the policeman was a bandit when the officer tried to stop his automobile. More than one motorist has told the same story in the Newton police court and they may have told the truth. In recent years many drivers of automobiles in various parts of the country have been robbed by bandits after their cars had been blocked by the bandits' cars. Police cars in Newton, as elsewhere, should be equipped with sirens, instead of ordinary horns, and they also should have some identifying light. Then, motorists, accosted at night time by policemen, could recognize a police car from a bandit's car.

Another reform that should be instituted in police cars is to stop the use of them to carry children with communicable diseases from their homes to the hospital. In past years the City of Newton had a special vehicle used exclusively to transport children or adults with contagious diseases. One cannot blame policemen who are fathers of children disliking riding in a small police car with someone with a communicable disease, and such a practice is also unfair to any injured person who might shortly after be conveyed in the same car.

The allocation of $75,000 by the Federal Government for a new postoffice building at Chestnut Hill is due in considerable measure to the intimate friendship which has formed between a tricycle. The driving wheels are 34 inches in diameter, and the front or steering wheels 24 inches. (And the tires were of solid rubber.—Ed.)

Rev. Father Dolan preached a very practical sermon on "Temperance" at Our Lady's Church last Sunday morning. He advised his hearers to spend their money for that which would do them good, and not for liquor in any form.

residents of that district and John C. Brennan during the long period of 40 years he has been associated with that postoffice, and the co-operation which has resulted from Mr. Brennan's efforts to give Chestnut Hill (which is partly in Newton and partly in Brookline) excellent postal service.

In contrast with the action of the Federal government in allocating $75,000 for the new postoffice at Chestnut Hill, on its present site which is to be donated by a group of Chestnut Hill residents, is the proposal which has been made by postoffice officials at Washington to consolidate some of the larger postoffices in this city, including Newton and Newtonville. One of the principal factors in the development of Newton into the outstanding residential community which it is, has been the fact that each village has had its own railroad station and postoffice. It behooves the residents of every village in the city where a postoffice is now located, to be on the alert, and to oppose vigorously any attempt in the future to abandon any of the existing postoffices through consolidation. Such attempts have been made in the past, but were unsuccessful.

For the past week an investigation of the Newton police department has been underway at City Hall by City Solicitor Joseph Bartlett who is acting under orders from Mayor Childs. As a result of this activity on the part of the City Solicitor much publicity has been given to the matter by Boston newspapers. The Boston papers, with one exception, have been fair and decent in their treatment of the investigation. The exception has followed its policy of sensationalism, imputations of scandal, and exaggeration. It has attempted to capitalize on this matter by sending high-pressure newspapers into the city shouting about "Vice in Newton." The great majority of Newton residents do not read the newspaper in question and are not disturbed by its alleged information of corruption in the Newton police department.

Some of the alleged facts printed in the newspapers regarding conditions in Newton are true, but they have been highly colored in some cases. Newton is not heaven and its inhabitants are not angels, and with few exceptions are not saints. But as a community, Newton ranks very high for obedience to law and order, and general decency. If it did not, it would not have attracted the high type of citizens who have selected it as their home city. And the Newton police department compares more than favorably with the police departments of other cities. Of course in the department are men who are neither 100 per cent efficient nor righteous. The same can be said for other departments in Newton, as well as for private industries and business enterprises in the city.

A policeman is subjected to unusual temptations. In his line of duty he observes persons, including allegedly respectable citizens, breaking laws and violating city ordinances. He is offered frequently little bribes of one kind or another, and if he is weak, or even ordinarily human, he may occasionally accept a "gift," such as cigarettes, liquor or some other article. And some of the virtuous citizens, who are prone to criticize the police, are those who themselves will not hesitate to use influence when they or theirs get into trouble, whether it is a violation of automobile laws, or some other laws or ordinances.

We understand that one of the matters being discussed by the City Solicitor in his interrogations of the policemen summoned before him is the matter of gambling in Newton. That gambling has been going on in Newton is common knowledge. It is going on everywhere, has been going on everywhere as long as the world lasts. And Newton is no exception. The problem is to keep gambling within proper control. It has increased in this country by leaps and bounds in recent years. It is interesting, but true that it has increased disproportionately since the depression began in 1929.

There are various types of gambling.

RECENT DEATHS

ROBERT P. HAINS

Robert P. Hains, formerly a resident of Newton, died on July 22 at his home, 11 Park Drive, Boston. He was 78 years of age. Mr. Hains graduated from the Naval Academy at Annapolis in 1881 and after serving in the navy a short time entered private business. He then entered the National Law School in Washington and became an expert patent attorney. He is survived by a son, Lieut. Commander Paul Hains, U. S. N., of San Francisco; a stepson, Bayard Wilson of Newton, and two daughters, Mrs. Bruce Johnson and Mrs. Eleanor Laimbeer of New London, Ct. Funeral services for Mr. Hains were conducted on Monday at Waterman's Chapel, Boston, and interment was in Arlington National Cemetery.

The Last of The Soule Boys

With the death of William Gore Soule of Farlow Road, Newton, at Portland, Me., on Saturday, July 23, went the last one of the Soule boys who, with their sisters, once made the Soule home on Walnut Park one of the centers of the activities of the younger people of Newton.

In 1881 Captain Enos Coridon Soule, prominent as a shipbuilder in Maine, with Mrs. Soule and their children left the Pine Tree state and established their home in the big house at the corner of Walnut Park and Washington streets. Those were the days when Newton was famous as the Garden City of Massachusetts. Washington street was a beautiful, winding, tree-lined street and the Boston and Albany railroad a two-track railroad running through the Newtons at street level. There were no automobiles, no electric street railroads and no circuit railroad connecting the northern and southern villages of the city. In Walnut Park were the estates of the two Potters and Captain Soule.

William Gore Soule was the second of the sons and was born in Freeport, Me., September 24, 1866. Altogether there were in the Soule family eight children, four boys; Herman, William, Frank and Walter and four sisters; Haidee, Clara G., Bessie Nye, and Lenora N. Of the boys, Herman went into the woolen business. William, always anxious to get into business, went a year or two to the Newton High School and then went into a window glass selling concern in Boston. Frank went to Harvard, where he made a name for himself in tennis and baseball and after college joined William in the glass business. Walter was prominent in football at Harvard and died before going into business. Herman and Frank both died within the last few years.

The man with whom William went to work died shortly after William joined him and William set up for himself with the Lovering Brothers as partners and his brother Frank as an associate. Along in the 90's the Pittsburgh Glass and Paint Company, of which William was manager, was induced by William to join them as the manager of their Boston branch. He was then the youngest of the managers connected with the company and he continued with it until his health forced him to retire three years ago.

In June 1899 he married Margaret Snow Wallace of Newton, and for years their home has been on Farlow road. Their three sons, Wallace G., William E. and Frank H., now make their home in Portland where they are together in the glass and paint business. Wallace married Eleanor, the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Charles F. Painter and their three children are Martha, Wallace G., Jr., and Charles Painter.

William's wife, his sons and his grandchildren survive him as do his four sisters. Haidee married Henry E. Bothfield, one-time mayor of Newton and recently celebrated with him their golden wedding at their home in Sherborn. Clara, Bessie and Lenora now make their home on Farlow road, moving into a house there soon after the death of their brother Herman, when they gave up the old Soule house which was later torn down and the land sold.

Private funeral services for Mr. Soule were conducted at Portland on Monday.

JOHN F. KERSHAW

John F. Kershaw, for the past 20 years proprietor of the Waterhouse Drug Store at Newton Highlands, died suddenly of heart failure at his home, 1013 Walnut st., Newton Highlands, on Friday morning, July 22. He was born at North Andover 50 years ago. Mr. Kershaw was a member of Newton Council, Knights of Columbus and the Newton Highlands Men's Club. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Alice (Powell) Kershaw; and by two sisters—Mrs. Bradford Weston of Hingham and Miss Eva Kershaw of North Andover. His funeral service was held at Sacred Heart Church, Newton Center on Monday and burial was in St. Joseph's Cemetery, West Roxbury.

JOSEPH MASSE

Joseph Masse of 78 Dalby st., Nonantum died on July 24. He was born in Canada 53 years ago and had lived in Newton for about 30 years. He was a member of St. Jean Baptiste Society. His funeral service was held at St. Jean Evangeliste Church on Wednesday and burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

Osborne of 450 Crafts st., West Newton took place on Tuesday at the home of the bride's parents in Honolulu. Rev. Henry Jade performed the ceremony.

The bride was attended by Mrs. David T. Austin, Jr. as matron of honor and by Miss Adele Wepard, Miss Alice Louise Judd and Miss Frances M. Mist, all of Honolulu as bridesmaids. Miss Martha Wepard was the flower girl.

David T. Austin, Jr. was the best man and the ushers were Herbert M. Dowsett, Jr. brother of the bride, Frank Judd, Sherman S. Dowsett and Laurie W. S. Dowsett, all of Honolulu.

A reception was held following the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Dowsett will be at home after August 9 at 530 Santa Clara ave., Alameda, California.

The bride is a graduate of the Masters School at Dobbs Ferry, New York and of the Boston School of Occupational Therapy, 1937. She is a member of the Junior League and has been in charge of the occupational therapy and rehabilitation of the blind in Honolulu. The groom attended Phillips Exeter Academy and graduated from Yale in 1932. He later attended the Naval Air Training School in Pensacola, Florida. He is at present engaged in the China Clipper service of the Pan-American Airways flying between Hongkong, China and Alameda, California.

VACHON—ROBERGE

Miss Louise Cecile Roberge of 40 Woodland st., Merrimack and daughter of Professor Louis E. Roberge of St. John's Catholic Academy, St. John's, P. Q., was married to Henry Joseph Vachon, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Edward Vachon of 55 Jesuit st., Newton on Saturday morning, July 23 at the Church of the Nativity in Merrimack. Rev. John L. McMahon performed the ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her uncle, wore her aunt's wedding gown of embroidered tulle with short train and a tulle veil caught to a coronet of seed pearls. She carried a white prayer book with streamers and rosebuds. She was attended by Miss Kathleen Hogan of Haverhill, a classmate at the Hale Hospital School of Nursing, who wore periwinkle tulle over silk taffeta with a milian straw hat and carried an arm bouquet of tulle and roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Vachon left on a wedding trip through the Northern part of Maine and the Canadian provinces.

The bride is a graduate of the Hale Hospital School of Nursing. She also attended the Notre Dame Convent at St. John's, Quebec. The groom attended Tufts College and has completed two years at the Harvard Dental School.

GORMAN—McLAUGHLIN

Miss Margaret K. McLaughlin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. McLaughlin of 1208 Walnut st., Newton Highlands, was married to Bartholomew J. Gorman, son of Mr. James J. Gorman of 17 Woodward st., Newton Highlands, on Saturday morning, July 23, in St. Philip de Neri Church, Waban. Rev. Eugene Twomey performed the ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white lace and net. Her tulle veil was caught to a coronet of satin and she carried a bouquet of white roses, sweet peas and baby's breath. She was attended by Miss Marie McLaughlin, her sister as maid of honor who wore peach silk marquisette with blue velvet trimmings and carried a Colonial bouquet. Another sister, Miss Dorothy McLaughlin, was the bridesmaid. She wore a gown similar to the one worn by the maid of honor.

James W. Gorman, brother of the groom, was the best man. The ushers were Joseph J. Connors, John J. Jordan, William J. McLaughlin and Edward F. Moore.

Miss Margaret Reeves played the wedding music.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's grandfather in West Medway following the ceremony.

GUTTERSON—BROWN

Miss Martha Jean Brown, daughter of Mr. Wm. A. Brown of 25 Riverside st., Auburndale, was married to Raymond Tardell Gutterson, son of Mr. Chester Gutterson of 115 Villa st., Waltham, on Saturday afternoon, July 23rd at four thirty o'clock. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride by Rev. Walter Sillen of the Waltham Baptist Church.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of pale blue lace over white satin and a veil of rose point lace, 62 years old, which had belonged to her aunt and carried a bouquet of roses and forget-me-nots.

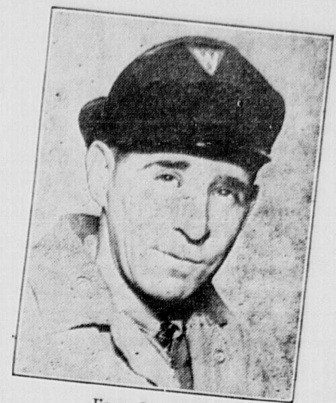

She was attended by her sister, Miss Ethel Brown, as maid of honor, who wore yellow mousseline de sole trimmed with green and carried a bouquet of tulle and roses and baby's breath. The bridesmaids, Miss Ruth and Miss Esther Miller, wore gowns of mousseline de sole in pink and green and carried tulle and roses.

LEON S. AVAK MOVES TO NEW LOCATION

The well known firm of Leon S. Avak moved into their new quarters this week and is now located directly opposite the Paramount Theatre at Newton Corner, on Washington st. The change in location was necessitated by an increase in retail sales, and to acquire improved facilities for the proper display of the products which this firm manufactures. Leon S. Avak has an enviable reputation for their wrought iron products, which include ornamental grilles, railings, hand-wrought builder's hardware and many other metal products.

Mr. Leon S. Avakian, the proprietor, comes naturally by his skill in iron work. A background of 500 years in this trade of his Armenian ancestors, qualifies him as one of the outstanding artisans in the country. At his forge is usually found a group of interested spectators, watching skilled hands transforming crude metal into an ornamental lantern, a door knob, or perhaps, a beautiful lighting fixture. His products are well known and in demand everywhere.

The new store is flooded with daylight and is tastefully decorated. A feature is a "Charm window" in which tiers of shelves display unusual ornamental objects in wrought iron, glass and pottery. A fine line of fireplace fixtures also meets the eye as one enters the store.

The workshop is so equipped that practically any kind of work can be handled. The forge is in an adjacent building, where welding is also done. Edge tools are expertly sharpened, saws filed, old metal objects repaired and refinished, locks repaired and keys fitted, in fact there is no work which has to do with the shaping of metals but what is undertaken here.

Any one who is interested in the ancient art of Metal working will find time well spent to visit the shops and store of Leon S. Avak.

COOLIDGE CORNER THEATRE, BROOKLINE
Danielle Darrieux, sensational French screen star, makes her excitingly awaited American film debut in "The Rage of Paris," a comedy romance, which opens a week's run on Friday, July 29th, at the Coolidge Corner Theatre, Brookline.
Luminary of both the French stage and screen, this twenty-one year old beauty has appeared in some of the most successful European films in recent seasons. She is perhaps best known for her role opposite Charles Boyer in "Mayerling," which won the prize as the best foreign film of the year. Starred opposite Danielle Darrieux in "The Rage of Paris" is Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., while featured parts are played by the owl eyed Mischa Auer, Helen Broderick, noted comedienne and Louis Hayward portraying the third side of the romantic triangle in the film. "The Rage of Paris" presents the petite Danielle as a little French girl who lands in New York, broke and jobless and takes a job posing in the nude for a famous artist. But in her excitement at landing a job she snatches up the wrong address and begins to pose in the office of Fairbanks, a young advertising executive. Then he walks in and from there on the situations develop with speed and comic impact. Fairbanks is perfect as the advertising tycoon and Louis Hayward does a fine job as his rival in romance. Mischa Auer and Helen Broderick, those two comedy acts, are more than up to form. Be sure to see "The Rage of Paris"—it's swell.
The outstanding co-feature on this program is "The Devil's Party," highlighting the adventurous life history of five pals who emerge from one of the toughest districts in New York, with Victor McLaglen starring in one of his famous he-man roles. Adapted to the screen from a novel by Borden Chase, this picture delineates the enduring friendships and fierce loyalties that develop among kids who grow up together in a great city. One of these youths in manhood becomes a wealthy and ruthless night club proprietor, a part played by the brawny McLaglen. Two others become policemen and still another a priest. The only girl they ever welcomed as a boon companion and member of their "gang," develops into a beautiful night club singer. Romance, ambition and even the shadow of crime, engulf one or another of them as they fight for place and prestige in the world, but in the end the enduring ties of friendship bind them together. Beautiful Beatrice Roberts, Paul Kelly, William Gargan, Frank Jenks, John Gallaudet, Edward Gargan and Joe Downing have important roles. "The Devil's Party" is one of the season's treats.
Included on the same program with the two excellent features is a new comedy called "Silly Nights," the latest "Stranger Than Fiction" novelty subject and of course there will be the latest issue of the Coolidge Corner Theatre Newsreel, presenting world events of the day.
Announced for showing for the week starting Friday, August 5th, is "Always Goodbye" starring Barbara Stanwyck and Herbert Marshall.

DEMOCRATS ENDORSE ELIOT
To the Editor:
We the undersigned, Democrats and residents of Newton, wish publicly to declare our support of Thomas H. Eliot of Cambridge for the Democratic nomination for Congress in the Ninth District.
We are supporting Mr. Eliot because—
1. He is a Democrat from conviction and not convenience as proved by the fact that ten years ago, at the age of 21, he took part in his first campaign—for Alfred E. Smith for president.
2. He is a young and vigorous man of high character and qualifications.
3. His experience in government service, particularly in connection with the Social Security Act, is evidence of his devotion to the general welfare—not of the few, but of all the people.
4. We urge Mr. Eliot's nomination and election because we are sure that, as a candidate, he will bring honor to the Democratic Party, and that, as a Congressman, he will serve the people of this district courageously and well.
Respectfully Yours,
JOSEPH P. DARGON, Chairman,
Democratic City Committee,
CATHERINE J. PAINE, Secretary,

Both Birds and Flowers

Follow the British Flag
English flowers follow the flag, and so, too, do birds, observes a writer in London Answers Magazine. English violets bloom in Kenya, and English primroses in Canadian gardens. Bluebells color great slopes in New Zealand.

In a garden in the suburbs of Dunedin, in New Zealand, one may see, mingled with the native twinkies, chaffinches, greenfinches, even yellowhammers. There are house sparrows, too; blackbirds, thrushes, and goldfinches. The latter, so rare in England, are common in some parts of Australia, and from Australia breeding pairs were imported into New Zealand, where they found thistles—also an importation from home—and other seeds on which they feed.

New Zealand has its native groundlark, a kind of pipit; but out in the country in the South Island, one may hear the song of the skylark and see this typical English bird soaring in the blue.

English thrushes have been naturalized around the new Australian capital of Canberra, where they deal with a plague of snails.

Our spring is, of course, autumn on the other side of the world. It is an interesting fact that all these birds have successfully changed their breeding seasons.
Most interesting experiment of all has been the acclimation of the English nightingale in New Zealand where some of these birds were first released a number of years ago. They sing gloriously in the bush round Auckland. There are thirty-six varieties of British birds in Australia, Tasmania, and New Zealand.

Rattles Used by Adults as Well as the Babies

Almost 5,000 years ago, babies in the old city of Kish in Mesopotamia were kept happy with rattles, according to Richard A. Martin, archeologist, of the Field Museum of Natural History, Chicago. Yet, rattles have been used more by adults than by children in most lands explored by science.

Soldiers in ancient China were stirred by music of bronze rattles in military orchestras. African tribes devised many kinds of rattles for use in magical rites. Egyptians had a kind of rattle called a sistrum, made of a staff with metal rings dangling at the end, and used in solemn religious ceremonies. American Indians used rattles in religion and magic.

Modern Europe and America stand out, as exceptions in using rattles mainly for amusing babies. Rattles unearthed at Kish include some shaped like goats and hedgehogs, to catch the babies' eyes, as well as amusing them with the jingle of pebbles inside the hollow toys.

The Egyptian Labyrinth

There are several labyrinths spoken of in ancient history. The one sometimes included among the seven wonders of the world—indeed the only one whose existence is well authenticated—is the labyrinth of Egypt. This was situated at Arsinoe, near Lake Moeris, and was visited and described by Herodotus. It consisted of 3,000 chambers, half of them below ground, the subterranean apartments being used, it is supposed, for burial places. The chambers were connected with vaulted passages and were built of polished stone. Authors do not agree as to the name of the king under whom this remarkable work was constructed, and it is probable that it was not done in a single reign. This labyrinth was extant in the time of Pliny, 78 A. D., and ruins at the modern village of Hawara, in Fayum, have been identified with those of this labyrinth.

Early Use of Sundials

Sundials are used as ornaments in suburban and country gardens, but in the days of the early Egyptians sundials were used as means of telling time. The Greeks' knowledge of geometry led them to invent elaborate dials, and Ptolemy treated of the construction of such instruments. After the fall of the classic civilization, sundials continued to be made by the Arabs. Much experimentation was done in the Seventeenth century clocks and watches began to replace this device.

The Biggest Elephant

The biggest elephant on record was an African elephant 12 feet 2 inches high. It weighed about seven or eight tons. Few mammoths were much bigger than that, but the very biggest of all the elephant's prehistoric cousins measured a little over sixteen feet at the shoulder. This is proved by the fossil remains of an elephant-like creature discovered in India and known as the Narbada elephant. As far as is known it was the biggest beast that ever wore a trunk.

Offers Theory on Cud-Chewing

An Iowa professor has another theory concerning the cud-chewing cow. He believes it to be a hold-over from the dark ages when cows were preyed upon by wild animals. They lived on great plains and had to subsist on plants difficult to digest. They therefore retired to a safe place and digested their foods at their leisure.

Unusual Bargains Being Offered In Ocean Travel

Never have been offered so many alluring ocean cruises and tours to Europe, the West Indies, South America, Bermuda, the Saguenay and other places both on this side of the Atlantic and in foreign climes, as the various steamship companies have arranged for this summer and the coming autumn. And in addition, the leading Trans-Atlantic steamship companies offer a round trip to Europe or the British Isles and return for 1½ times the one-way fare, resulting in reductions which run as high as $100. To get this very low rate one must sail from this country between September 4 and October 2, and have the privilege of staying in Europe four weeks exclusive of the day of arrival and the day of departure. If the West bound sailing will be made before September 25th, the difference between half of the excursion rate and the regular rate must be paid. One can travel third class for as little as $134.50 round trip to a British port, or $177 tourist class, and to Continental ports for slightly higher fares.

On September 7 the 11th annual Post Labor Day tour, conducted by the United States Lines, will leave New York on the S. S. Manhattan. Frederick J. Reuter, assistant district passenger manager of the Boston office will again be in charge of these tours and the high praise accorded him by the many who have taken the tours in past years is a guarantee of satisfaction to those who will go this year. The tours are of 23 days duration. One includes England, Holland, Belgium and France and its cost is $272.25. Another visits Ireland and England and the rate is $283.50. A third itinerary includes England, Scotland and Ireland and the rate is $306.50. The fourth route covers England, Holland, Germany, Switzerland and France, and the rate is $313.25. Persons residing in Boston and vicinity will be given free rail transportation to New York and return. Make your reservation now and take advantage of this exceptional trip.

For persons who want much for little, the tours conducted by the Merchant & Miners Line are acceptable. Each Tuesday and Saturday a boat leaves Boston for Norfolk and Baltimore. This trip includes a trip from Baltimore to Washington and a tour of the Capitol. One can take side trips from Norfolk to Virginia Beach for only 75c, or to Williamsburg for $4.50. The cost of this tour, including steamer and excellent meals is but $42; six nights and four days on the water. A four days' tour to Philadelphia leaves Boston every Monday and Saturday; 3 days on the ocean and a tour of Philadelphia. It costs but $31.50.

The Savannah Line tours to that beautiful old Southern city continue to be as popular as in former years. Boats leave Boston on 10 days tours to Savannah, including 2 days stay at the palatial De Sota Hotel, and the cost is only $71. Or one can spend 2 days at Hotel Cloister, Sea Island, Georgia for $7 extra.

For those who prefer to go North the Canada Steamship Lines offer 7 days cruises from Boston to Montreal, Quebec, St. Anne de Beaupre, the Saint Lawrence, Murray Bay and the Saguenay for $78. These tours leave Boston each Saturday until September 3 inclusive. Another 7 days tour from Boston on Sundays and Wednesdays goes to Niagara Falls, Toronto, Lake Ontario, the St. Lawrence, Thousand Isles, Montreal and Lake Champlain. It costs $79. There are the 7 days cruises on the S. S. Richelieu from Montreal down the St. Lawrence to Quebec, the lower St. Lawrence, the Saguenay, Chicoutimi, Tadoussac, old Quebec and back to Montreal. The cost from and back to Boston is $96.50.

The Munargo Line cruises leave New York on July 23, August 6 and 20, September 3 and 17, October 1, 15 and 29. Twelve days to Nassau, Miami and Havana. The fare only $125. Ask anyone who has taken this cruise.

The Swedish-American Line offers the following cruise bargains: August 12, on the Kingholm to Bermuda and Halifax, only $70; August 27, on the Gripsholm 10 days to Nassau and Havana over Labor Day, only $110; October 8 in the Kingholm to Bermuda over Columbus day, 5 days cruise, only $60; November 18 11 days cruise to Haiti, Jamaica and Havana, only $110.

The popular Canadian National Steamship cruises from Boston each fortnight—16 days to New York, Bermuda and Halifax, and 10 days to Trinidad and return, $230; to British Guiana and return with several stops at West Indies islands, 30 days and the cost only $225.

The Eastern Steamship Lines, "Acadia" leaves New York each Saturday in July and August on cruises to Bermuda and return, all expenses, only $50 and up.

The palatial COLUMBUS of the North German Lloyd will make three 12-day cruises from New York to the West Indies and South America. On September 24 to Port au Prince, Kingston, Colon and Havana.

The Cunard White Star Line offers the following cruises—Carinthia on July 26 to Nassau and Havana, 10 days, only $105 and up. Georgic, July 18 and August 15, and Britannic on August 1, four days from New York to Halifax and return; $5 and up. Carinthia to Gaspe, Saguenay, Quebec and Bermuda from New York on August 6 and 20; thirteen days, only $145 and up. Carinthia on September 3 to Nassau, Havana and Kingston, 12 days, only $115 and up. Carinthia on September 17 and October 1, to Haiti, Kingston, Havana and Nassau; 13 days, $122.50 and up. Carinthia to Nassau and Havana on October 15 and 26, November 5 and 16 from New York; 8 days, $75 and up.

Excellent reservations for all these tours and cruises may be obtained from the Newton Steamship Agency, 11 Centre ave. (Postoffice Building) Newton. Phone Newton North 4501, or we will call at your residence if you prefer.

Union Service In Newtonville

Dr. Lynn J. Radcliffe, minister of the First Methodist Church of Syracuse, will again be the preacher at the fifth of the series of union services in which seven Newton churches are co-operating during the summer season. Dr. Radcliffe's sermon subject on Sunday next, will be "Making Prayer Real." He will suggest a definite technique of prayer, in making the sermon of definite practical value. Dr. Radcliffe has had a large and varied experience in this particular field. He has lectured on the subject of prayer to many young people's groups and to other groups.

This will be the final service of the series to be held in Newtonville. During August and the first Sunday of September, the services will be held in the Unitarian Church in West Newton. Dr. Radcliffe will continue to be the minister for the remainder of the summer.

The musical program for next Sunday will include the following selections: "Adagio—from A Minor Chorale" by Cesar Franck, "Jubilate Deo" by Schubert, "Hail Me Under the Shadow of Thy Wings" by Mark Andrews, and "Intermezzo" by Rheinberger. Thelma L. Rundlett, soprano; Louisa Burt Wood, alto; Joseph R. Ludwison, tenor; John C. Rundlett, bass, are the members of the quartet. Lillian W. West will be the organist.

The service begins at eleven o'clock. Visitors are especially invited to attend—as are all who are not worshipping elsewhere.

Rowe Receives Papers From Workers

At a meeting in Newton Highlands on Tuesday evening, July 26th, Mr. Edward M. Rowe, Republican candidate for Congress in the Ninth District, was presented with the nomination papers obtained by his Newton workers. Mr. William Albert Gallup of West Newton, who made the presentation, called attention to the thousands of persons who had declared for Mr. Rowe from all sections of Newton. In replying, Mr. Rowe stated that the numbers and the calibre of the response to his candidacy indicate clearly that the voters of this district are alive to the need of bringing new and vigorous strength to the Party, through encouraging and developing young men as candidates for office.

He thanked his hundreds of Newton workers for their support and outlined a "Seven-Point Platform."

Capture Suspects At Auburndale

Last Thursday afternoon Mrs. Jessie Carter of Windemere rd., Auburndale, observed two youths prowling about the vacant home of Alf Norton at 41 Windemere rd. She telephoned police headquarters and Patrolman Hoyt speeded to the scene in a police car. In the neighborhood he arrested two youths, allegedly the pair who had been trying to gain entrance to the Norton home and the police again that they had in their possession skeleton keys. They identified themselves as Richard Rines, 23, of 138 Crescent st., Waltham and Paul Roche, 19, of 18 Crescent st., Waltham. They denied that they had attempted to enter the house, but they were held on charges on attempted breaking and entering and arraigned in the Newton court last Friday morning. They pleaded not guilty, and the trial was continued until July 27. In court on that day Judge Mayberry found Rines guilty and gave him a suspended prison sentence of 30 days. Roche he found not guilty. Rines was then arrested by a Belmont policeman on charges of burglaries in that town.

Two Found Guilty Of Drunken Driving

Pasquale Cappello, 22, of 51 Oak ave., West Newton, was fined $50 by Judge Murray in the Newton court on Monday for driving a car while under the influence of liquor. He was also fined $20 for driving so as to endanger the safety of the public. He appealed. Several weeks ago a car driven by Cappello hit a tree on Parker st., Newton Centre, and the charges against him resulted from this accident. On last Sunday he was arrested for being drunk and this case was continued until July 29. Joseph O'Rourke of 36 Falmouth rd., West Newton, was fined $50 by Judge Mayberry in the Newton court on Monday for driving a car while under the influence of liquor. The complainant against O'Rourke was Patrolman Dungan who arrested the defendant on Grove st., Auburndale.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Love" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday, July 31. The Golden Text is: "The Lord is good to all; and his tender mercies are over all his works" (Psalms 145: 9). Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "No man hath seen God at any time. If we love one another, God dwelleth in us, and his love is perfected in us. . . . And we have known and believed the love that God hath to us. God is love; and he that dwelleth in love dwelleth in God, and God in him" (1 John 4: 12, 16). The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "God is not moved by the breath of praise to do more than He has already done, nor can the infinite do less than bestow all good, since He is unchanging wisdom and Love" (p. 2).

Secret Order of the Apple

Several hundred Norman apple-growers recently organized into the Secret Order of the Apple, says a Rouen, France, correspondent. It has high signs, passwords and an official song; it stages colorful ceremonies when new knights are initiated into its mysteries; it also has an elaborate and impressive ritual, wherein the apple episode in the Garden of Eden is evoked, but Eve, instead of being blamed, is praised for eating the fruit which Adam offered her. Every Knight of the Apple must promise, on his honor, to be true to Normandy and to Norman products, particularly apples and cider.

Fire in the Apple

High in the air on ladders, their vision obscured by smoke, Chicago's firemen yet speed unerringly to each new outcropping of flame and quench it before it gets out of hand. For on the ground, with an unobstructed view of the entire conflagration and adjacent property, is the fire marshal directing his men by means of a 100-watt sound amplifier, capable of carrying his voice more than a mile.—Radio Retailing.

Wisconsin Dells May Be

Fifty Million Years Old

The Dells of Wisconsin has survived at least fifty million years, according to a writer in the Chicago Tribune. In some of its canyons one can stand on pre-Cambrian granite and see the ripples cut into solid masses of rock by the Cambrian sea, which covered North America, Europe and Asia during the first period of the Paleozoic era, the earliest geologic age recording life on earth.

The rhythm of the Paleozoic era was one of alternating submergences and emergences of the land. But when the shallow seas subsided for the last time, the granite foundation of the Dells region was built high with sandstone.

After two more geologic ages had run their course, the Pleistocene age packed in cold storage more than half the world, including all of Wisconsin except the southwestern corner. But miracles were at work under the ice cap. And when the "great thaw" came there was the Wisconsin river cutting its southwesterly way toward the father of waters through rugged sandstone cliffs. Thirty thousand years of water, wind and weather have wrought great changes in those cliffs, many of which have assumed weird and fantastic shapes. But the same dark river reflects the rich reds, yellows, purples, browns and greens of the craggy bluffs and verdant upper banks.

Banana's History Is Old;

Came From Southern Asia

Among the accounts of man's endeavors on this earth, the discovery and development of important foods stand out. The history of the banana can be traced back until before the beginning of history.

The yellow fruit is thought to have developed first in the humid tropical regions of Southern Asia. From there it moved slowly westward.

Alexander the Great found the fruit along the Indus three centuries before Christ. The Arabs carried it to the Holy Land, to northern Egypt, and perhaps also across the Dark continent to the west coast, according to the Union Oil Bulletin. When the Portuguese arrived on the Guinea coast, looking for slaves and gold, about ten years before Columbus sailed for the "Indies," they found the banana, liked it, and carried it to the Canary Islands. From there, probably in the year 1516, it went to the New World.

The banana first appeared in the United States early in the Nineteenth century. The few people who bit into the odd-shaped fruit were inclined to say, with Benjamin Disraeli, "the most delicious thing in the world is a banana."

The Brain Vast Switchboard

The main divisions of the brain are the cerebrum, considered the thinking part; the cerebellum, lying at the back base of the brain, and the medulla oblongata. Anatomists break down subdivisions of the brain into units of extreme complexity. The layman usually is interested in the principal kinds of substance out of which the brain is made: gray matter and white in both cerebrum and cerebellum. Gray matter is useless in running such important organs as the heart, lungs, diaphragm; the thinking part of the brain can not control digestion, manufacture blood-cells or operate the intestines. Dr. Charles Macfie Campbell of the American Psychiatric association, in Literary Digest, declares that various parts of the body really are separate brains and participate in the act of thinking, the brain being a vast switchboard.

Braille System for the Blind

A Frenchman of a century ago enabled thousands to lead successful lives despite blindness. Louis Braille perfected an earlier system of teaching the blind to read raised letters with their fingers. Instead of using raised letters, he used perforations in paper. Briefly, his system is an alphabet consisting of holes in paper arranged in various combinations. For instance, "b" is two vertical dots. Numbers from 1 to 10 are the first 10 letters of the alphabet, preceded by a number sign.

Talent Will Bring Success

The talent of success is nothing more than doing what you can do well, without a thought of fame. If it comes at all it will come because it is deserved, not because it is sought after. It is very indiscreet and troublesome ambition which cares so much about fame, about what the world says of us, as to be always looking in the face of others for approval, to be always anxious about the effect of what we do or say, to be always shouting to hear the echoes of our own voices.

Origin of "Dairy"

The dairymen sprang from the rib of a woman, according to the etymology of the word "dairy," observes a writer in Hoard's Dairyman. The encyclopedia tells us that "airy" comes from the Middle English dairies, from dey, a maid servant, particularly one about the farm. In Norwegian deia, as in budels, was a maid in charge of livestock. By derivation, therefore, "dairy" means that part of the farm buildings where the dey works.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE

By virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Leslie B. Sanders and Lillian M. Sanders in her right, both of Newton, Middlesex County, Massachusetts, to the Cape Ann Savings Bank of Gloucester, Massachusetts, dated December 24, 1919, and recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Book 4320, Page 235.

Will be sold at Public Auction on the premises hereinafter described on Monday the fifteenth day of August, 1938, at two o'clock in the afternoon for breach of the condition of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, all of the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed and not heretofore released therefrom, namely:

A certain parcel of land with the dwelling-house and garage thereon, situated on the southerly side of Clinton Place in said Newton and shown as Lot 4 on a plan made by E. S. Smille, Surveyor, dated January 19, 1928, and recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Book 5201, Page 80, said parcel being bounded and described as follows:

Northerly by said Clinton Place, about sixty-four (64) feet; easterly by Lot 3 shown on said plan, about one hundred four (104) feet and by Lot 4 shown on said plan, about eighty-two and twenty-six hundredths (82.26) feet; southerly in part by land now or late of Burr and in part by land now or late of Smith, about fifty-nine (59) feet; and westerly in part by land now or late of Clark and in part by land now or late of Kennedy, one hundred eighty-five and ninety-two hundredths (185.92) feet, as shown on said plan.

Containing about 11,440 square feet and being the premises No. 75 Clinton Place. The above described parcel is all of that parcel of land described in said mortgage excepting the parts or lots thereof heretofore released from said mortgage by the undersigned mortgagee by deeds duly recorded with said Middlesex Deeds, namely:

1. Deed dated February 1, 1928, and recorded Book 5201, Page 79, releasing Lot 1 shown on said plan.

2. Deed dated February 1, 1928, and recorded Book 5201, Page 83, releasing Lot 2 shown on said plan.

3. Deed dated February 24, 1928, and recorded Book 5261, Page 615, releasing Lot 3 shown on said plan.

Said premises will be conveyed subject to any and all restrictions of record, now in force and applicable, if any there be. Together with all furnaces, heaters, ranges, mantels, gas and electric fixtures, window, screen doors, awnings, electric and gas refrigerators, and other fixtures of whatsoever kind and nature now on the premises, or hereafter placed thereon prior to the full payment and discharge of this mortgage, and the balance of the same, by agreement of the parties be made a part of the realty.

Said premises will be sold subject to all unpaid taxes, tax titles and municipal assessments if any there be. $500 will be required to be paid in cash by the purchaser at the time and place of sale, the balance within ten days from date of sale on the delivery of the deed.

Mrs. Eleanor J. (Pickthall) Phillips, widow of Charles E. Phillips, died on July 26 at her home, 25 Manning rd., Waltham. Mrs. Phillips had been a resident of Newton over 50 years. She is survived by three daughters—Mrs. Florence Kelley, Mrs. Harriet Campbell and Miss Eleanor Phillips, all of Waltham; three granddaughters; and two nieces, Margaret and Mildred Lawson of Newton. Her funeral service will be held at her late home on Friday afternoon and burial will be in Newton Cemetery.

W. Newton Convent To Have Addition

A building permit has been issued for the construction of an addition to the convent building occupied by the Sisters of Notre Dame who teach at St. Bernard's parochial school in West Newton. The structure will be 30 by 24 feet in dimensions and will cost about $4500. It will contain a chapel, library and seven bedrooms. The contractors are Richard White Sons of West Newton.

There is speculation in the stock market, politely referred to as "investments." There is the craze for "bridges," although "bridge" and "auction" addicts will indignantly resent the accusation that they are to the slightest degree gamblers. They insist such diversions or occupations are matters of skill. There is the time-honored (or dishonored) game of poker indulged in by the highest stratum of socialites, as well as by those in the lower strata. There is pari-mutuel gambling legalized in Massachusetts at horse racing and dog racing tracks. There is "Beano," with its hundreds of thousands of addicts, who go three and four nights a week hither and thither hoping to win. And there is the lowly "nigger pool" which is one of the principal subjects under discussion at the police investigation because of criticisms which have been current in this city. We hold no brief for "nigger pool." We have never played it. The winnings in this form of gambling are very small, proportionately for the take. Those who play "nigger pool," for the most part gamble 5 cents or 10 cents daily. Compared with the large sums lost by the thousands who regularly go to the horse races and the dog races, "nigger pool" is a slight evil. And those who play it even every day lose only a small fraction of the amount spent by the addicts of the increasingly popular "beano." Between competition from legalized pari-mutuel gambling and Beano, "nigger pool" is on its way out.

As for the claim that there are protected houses of ill-fame in Newton, such a statement is ridiculous. Newton has been happily free from this stain and is. There are no such dives in this city, either protected or unprotected. Citizens of Newton need have no concern regarding conditions in the city. The moral tone of Newton has always rated high and still does. There have been persons in Newton who have transgressed certain laws and have not been prosecuted. Not only in some trivial type of gambling, but in other things. We have had, for instance, youths, members of excellent families, who committed numerous burglaries, but who were not brought into court. Restitution was made, reputations were saved and undoubtedly the world and Newton are better for such a solution. And we have constantly the use of influence in "fixing" automobile cases. And the "fixing" is done largely by "our best citizens." Things are not always regular, so many will not get unduly excited over the alleged police scandal in Newton.

Incidentally, persons naturally ask—"Why was the investigation started?" Here is our belief. Last year the Newton Board of Aldermen appointed a special committee to investigate the activities of the sergeant mechanic of the Newton police department. At that time Mayor Childs commented that it might be well to investigate the whole police department. Several criticisms have been made of the Mayor recently regarding his alleged favoritism for the sergeant mechanic. In our opinion the Mayor, irked by the criticism, is having done what he said last year should be done—"an investigation of the whole police department." We agree with the city solicitor that no serious situation has been revealed in the police department and we believe that nothing very serious will be revealed.

A peculiar trait of human nature seems to be that those who are most active in spreading scandal are among the first to seek the suppression of any scandal which concerns them or persons close to them.

Catch Burglar Who Looted C. H. Homes

John Wilson, 26, of 625 Massachusetts ave., Boston, a Negro, was arrested in a Boston jewelry store last week when he went in the store to sell as old gold jewelry he had stolen in a Brookline home. Some time ago Captain Goode and Inspector Crowley of the Newton police discovered at this store an article of jewelry which had been stolen from a Chestnut Hill house. They asked the jeweler to notify Boston police should the person who sold the article come to the store again, and the jeweler complied with the request. Wilson admitted to the police that he had broken into and looted five houses in Brookline and four at Chestnut Hill. He accompanied the Newton police inspectors to Chestnut Hill and identified the houses he had burglarized as those of Chandler Hovey, 258 Hammond st.; John F. Daley, 60 Old Colony rd.; Winthrop Carter, 326 Hammond st.; and Andrew Bonnano, 95 Commonwealth ave. The burglaries were committed last May. Wilson was arraigned in the Brookline court last Friday and bound over to Norfolk County grand jury. He will be indicted by the Middlesex County Grand Jury for the Chestnut Hill crimes. Wilson told the police he had posed as a window washer to gain information regarding homes he planned to burglarize.

Tung Oil Long in Use

For centuries the Chinese have used tung oil (or Chinawood oil) in mixtures to paint and calk their ships and boats. It gradually spread into world commerce. Portuguese spice traders introduced it into Europe in the sixteenth century. The oil began coming to the United States in the late 1880's. When its quick drying and waterproofing qualities were discovered, demand for it increased.

The First Night Clubs

Night clubs, first known as "musical restaurants," originated in San Francisco and traveled eastward via Chicago, reaching New York in 1910.

YOU CAN DEPEND ON US LUMBER

29 CRAFTS STREET, NEWTONVILLE

Lunching recently with a man who had just returned from Spain I gathered some interesting stories of how the war is affecting the dogs of that country. Many soldiers on both sides, he informed me, are accompanied at the front by their pets. Most regiments have at least one or two dogs as official mascots.

He tells of a dog who was shell-shocked when a bomb exploded about fifty yards away as he trotted across a field. The poor animal couldn't keep his afflicted mind on any one thing for any length of time. He would start to dig for a buried bone and then run off in another direction as if he were headed somewhere in particular. He would trot about twenty yards, stop, and make another maneuver as another thought entered his warped mind. Not for over five minutes could the dog engage in a single activity.

Twice when seeking shelter from enemy planes my guest was surprised to notice how many people appeared at the bomb shelter with their pets. He said invariably a dog fight or two could be heard above the noise of exploding bombs outside the shelter. One pathetic sight he recalled was a woman hurrying through the streets, after a warning had been sounded that bombers were on the way to drop their destructive missiles, carrying a basket of newly born puppies, followed by the mother dog close on her heels.

Then there was the Spanish aviator whose mongrel pet accompanied him everywhere. It was said that he never would make a flight unless he could take the animal with him. Because he was considered one of the best aviators in the service his eccentric whim was overlooked by the commanding officer and the dog was allowed to go with him on all his flights.

Perhaps in the near future business tycoons will consult a new index to measure business conditions throughout the country. The new "indicator" they may use are the registration figures of pure bred dogs with the American Kennel Club. Figures kept for many years show that when there is a decline in registrations of the bluebloods of dogdom a general slump in business activity follows. In 1927 a slight decline in the number of dogs registered was noted. This drop continued until 1931 when a slow upswing started. Just prior to the current session the figures fell again but at this writing the graph is taking an upward curve. A prophetic swing we hope!

Some dogs like many humans have stage names. "Asta" who played a leading role in "The Thin Man," "After the Thin Man" and in "The Awful Truth," is known to his intimates as "Skipto." In fact he is and always has been called "Skipto." When he puts his paw mark at the bottom of a contract it calls for a salary of not less than $200 a week, a very good return on the purchase price paid by Mr. and Mrs. Henry East, "Skipto's" owners. "Corky," another dog owned by the Easts, was bought for $3 and last year earned over $3600. "Corky" appeared in "Theodora Goes Wild."

The reasoning back of the theory that a grown dog should be given only one large meal a day is based upon the way its digestive system works. As I explained in this column a few weeks ago food passes quickly through a dog's stomach into the intestines where the digestion actually takes place. About 18 hours are required for this digestive process. But feeding only one meal a day does not permit the system to become over-filled.

This is the time of year when skin ailments are prevalent among our canine friends. Well meaning people will offer many so-called sure cures, but often a careful watch over diet will eradicate the complaint. Many skin troubles are caused by faulty feeding during the warm weather. Cutting down the amount of food plus a liberal addition of vegetables is helpful in improving a dog's coat.

Question: When should I start to wean a litter of puppies, and what should I give them at first?—T. R.

Answer: When they are three to four weeks of age you might start by giving them a little warm milk once a day. Increase this to three or four times a day until they are six weeks of age. Start feeding raw meat when they are five weeks old.

Question: Does it harm my Spitz to give her a bath every week? Sometimes I find it necessary to do it twice a week to keep her clean.—E. C. S.

Answer: A dog should not be given a bath oftener than once a month. Too frequent bathing removes natural oil from the skin that is necessary to promote a good coat.

TAXES!

The word "TAX" is derived from the Latin, Tangere, which means to touch. People who applaud any tax that touches those with high incomes, fail to realize that they too, are touched through UNSEEN TAXES.

- Out of every FIVE dollars that the average man earns, one goes directly or indirectly for taxes.
- There are 49 different hidden taxes on every loaf of bread he buys.
- The proprietor of the Corner Drug Store pays 17 federal taxes, 27 state taxes, 34 local taxes — a total of 78 taxes. Remember this the next time you buy ice cream or cough medicine.
- 4 cents on every gallon of gasoline used is paid by the automobile owner.
- A package of cigarettes daily yields $21.90 yearly in hidden taxes.
- A new suit of clothes absorbs 12 different hidden taxes.
- And rent—$160 out of every $400 rent is tax money.

The trend toward confiscation by taxation is causing great concern everywhere. Individual initiative, employment, business and industry are threatened by the wiping out of business profits by this trend.

The depressing results fall directly upon the common people when industry suffers from burdensome taxation.
